The adherents appear to be most devout in their respect for their leader, who was a congregational minister in Australia. Some Tempting Propositions.

As set forth in The Zion Banner, which has a gorgeous frontispiece of gold and beautiful coloring, Zion has tempting commercial attractions. "Zion bank stock pays 8 per cent, Zion general city stores shares pay 8 per cent., Zion City Lumber Association stock is a 7 per cent, proposition.

The Willard Opening. It is expected that there will be a large audience at the Princess Theatre this evening to welcome Mr. E. S. Willard, the English actor, on his return to Toronto in his new play, "The Cardinal." Mr. Willard has always been a warm favorite here, and there is considerable interest on the part of his admirers to see him in a role which is so different from the characters in which he has in the past appeared in this city. The scene of the play, in Rome this city. The scene of the play, in Rome, and the date, the early fifteenth century, affords opportunity for a series of beautiful stage pictures. As the Cardinal Glovanul de Medici, Mr. Willard is said to handle a very difficult character with great skill and delicacy. The confessional scene, made in dumb show, is treated most artistically, and in a manner that will give offence to no one. The principal fennale character, Fillberta, is in the hands of Miss Ellen O'Malley, a capable and accomplished actress. Mr. Willard's English company is said to be a strong one.

"The Telephone Girl," that favorite and breezy musical comedy, will be presented at the Grand Opera House all this week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, and during the engagement the Grand's scale of prices will prevail. This season improvements have been made, new specialties, new music, the latest songs and new comical dialog have been added. An entirely new company has been engaged by the management to interpret it, and reports say this is the cleverest one that ever disported in it. Irving Brooks is the latest Hans Nix, the uncommonly comical Teutomic inspector. Ethel Robinson is the new Estelle, and has completely eclipsed her predecessors in the role. If there was fun in the impersonation of Hans Nix before, there is, it is said, a great deal more in it now as Mr. Brooks plays it. He plays it somewhat broader, but that is according to public desire. Then there is Marie Richmond, who, as Beauty Fairfax, typifies the part in very truth, and invests it with an admirable spirit; Charles Burrows, the dainty Browning Sisters, Annie Lloyd, Reservices, Marion Harland, Amy Thompson, Elisinore Richfield, Linette Fiske, Grace Gordon, Irene Young, Mildrad Pranklin, Nadine Sidney, Eugene Wiener, John J. Magee, Charles Whyte and Arthur Conrad.

Realistic Drama at the Toronto.

"The Fast Mail." a railroad drama, will be presented at the Toronto Opera House this week, commencing with a matinee this afternoon. The Cincinnat Enquirer, speaking of the play, said: "It is like all Mr. Carter's productions, differing from the others only in the mechanical effects, which are unusually realistic. The production is complete with exciting situations. The plece captured the crowd, they held their breath over the terrific speed of the east mail train, and marvelled at the stage pictures of the wreck in mid river and the Niazara Falls by moonlight. The scenery is all new and the mechanical devices are ingenious and elever. The cast is a strong one."

At Shea's To-Day.

Another vaudeville show, comprising eight high-class acts, will be offered at Shea's Theatre to-day. In past seasons some remarkably good shows have been seen in this theatre, but this year Mr. Shea seems to be outdoing himself. On the list for to-day are George W. Leslie & Co., spresenting The New York Heraid's price play, "Chungs"; Francesco Redding & Co. in a screaming farce, entitled "Her Friead from Texas"; Nelville & Stetson, who are always good; the Imperial Japanese Troupe of seventeen acrobats: Callahan and Mack in their well-known Irish act; Adalina Roatino, The Tennis Trio and Jessie Millar.

occupied by the pastor. Rev. Dr. Milligan. Long before the time for the commencement of the service, all the seats were occupied, and chairs had to be placed in the aisles to accommodate those wishing to hear the sermon. The reverend gentleman took for his text John I, 49:
"Nathaniel answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou are the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel." This is the same text from which Dr. Milligan preached his first sermon in the church. When he first entered upon his duties, more than a quarter of a century ago, the membership was only 48, but now it numbers over 600, and is still rapidly increasing.

glowed with fervor, was set off by her beautiful hair, arranged in luxuriant masses, forming as it were a fitting crown to a courtenance at once charming, and disclosing rare intellectuality and power. Her subject was "Love's Sunset, or Loved and Lost," and in fluent, forcibic language, and with dramatic expression, she told the sad story of our first parents, who, placed in a paradise of happiness had separated themselves from God by disobedience to his will. The platform had been tastefully decorated with palms and follage plants, and the scarlet coats of the bandsmen left a color to the scene which was very pleasing. The band contributed several selections, and several solos of Miss Booth's own composition were sung by her. Zimieakors Alteration Sale
