"HONESTY THE BEST POLICY"

The Terrible Experience of Alfred Jackson.

Who Helped Himself to the Contents of a Safe Fifteen Years Ago.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Alfred Jackson, who is lying at the Cook county hospital with a bullet-hole in his head, says he robbed the First National Bank of Chicago of $1,500 fifteen years ago.

There were twelve new safes in the bank, and according to Jackson, money was put into some of them by the bank officials before they were ready for use. "One day," Jackson said, "I was working on the safes, and noticed that the door of one of them was open. I looked inside and I said, 'I must have found it.' I took two of them, containing $1,500."

"I became afraid of the disgrace of my being found out. I determined to tell Lyman J. Gage all about it. I went to his home and I said, 'Mr. Gage, if you had come to me and accused me of taking that money, I would have told you. I took that money, but I was too proud to let the detectives catch me.' Can you return the money?" said Mr. Gage. "I cannot," said "it's all gone. I told Mr. Gage he ought to prosecute me and send me to the penitentiary. He refused to do so, and never attempted to do anything to me."

At last, Jackson says, the disgrace weighed on his mind so hard that he made up his mind to commit suicide. First he tried to contract pneumonia. He soaked two sheets in water, wrapped himself up in them, opened his bedroom window, and sat there until the sheets froze to his skin. He waited patiently, but failed to get sick. For his next attempt, Jackson says, he drank a pint of alcohol, and then went out and sat on a snowbank, and prayed that he might catch pneumonia or something just as bad. His prayer was not answered, he says.

The third time Jackson says he mixed a pound of kerosene in a barrel of water and ice which he had in his cellar, trying to catch cold. But by that time he was used to exposure of that sort, and pneumonia was far from him then. He was not to be deterred. On Christmas Day he fired a bullet into his head. Jackson says he blind his right ear and penetrated the brain slightly. He is getting along nicely. He appears to be in full possession of his faculties, and he has puzzled the hospital surgeons, who declare he is a remarkable case.

CONTROL OF THE SOUDAN

Points of the Arrangement Between Britain and Egypt.

No Special Trade Privileges to the Subjects of Any Power.

Cairo, Jan. 20.—The Official Gazette today publishes a convention between Great Britain and Egypt relating to the future government of the reconquered Sudan provinces.

After reciting that the provinces were reconquered by the joint military and financial efforts of the British and Khedival Governments, and setting forth the desire to give effect to the claims that have accrued to her Britannic Majesty's government by right of conquest—the claim to future working and development of the administration of the territory—and pointing out that the territories of Wady Halfa and Suakim may be most effectively administered in conjunction with the reconquered provinces, the convention proceeds as follows:

"It is hereby agreed and declared that the Sudan, and the territories south of the 22nd parallel of latitude which have never been evacuated by the Egyptian troops since 1882, or which, having been administered by the Egyptian government prior to the late rebellion, were temporarily lost to Egypt, and have been reconquered by the British and Egyptian governments, acting in concert, or which may hereafter be reconquered by the two governments acting in concert.

UNDER TWO FLAGS.

"The British and Egyptian flags shall be used together on both land and water throughout the Sudan, except in Suakim, where the Egyptian flag alone shall be used.

"The supreme military command in the Sudan shall be vested in one of the two governments, to be appointed by khedival decree, with the consent of Great Britain, and to be removed only by khedival decree, with the consent of Great Britain."

The next clause gives the governor-general absolute power to make, alter, or abrogate by proclamation, laws, orders or regulations for good government of the Sudanese, and for the regulation, holding, disposal and devotion of property of every kind situated in the Sudan, but of all such proclamations the agent of her Britannic Majesty at Cairo and the president of the khedival council must forthwith be notified. No Egyptian law, decree, or enactment hereafter made or promulgated is to apply to any part of the Sudan save by the proclamation of the governor-general.

Regarding the condition under which Europeans shall be permitted to trade, reside or hold property in the Sudan, the convention says:

NO SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

"No special privileges shall be accorded the subjects of any one or more powers. No import duties shall be levied on goods from Egyptian territory, but they shall be leviable on goods from other territories. In the case of goods entering the Sudan at Suakim or any other Red Sea port, the duties must not exceed the amount leviable upon foreign goods entering Egypt. Duties may be levied upon goods leaving the Sudan, at the rates to be prescribed by proclamation."

The convention provides that the jurisdiction of the mixed tribunals shall apply to no part of the Sudan, except Suakim, and the whole Sudan, except Suakim, shall remain under the jurisdiction of the Egyptian government. The convention also provides that the jurisdiction of the mixed tribunals shall apply to no part of the Sudan, except Suakim, and the whole Sudan, except Suakim, shall remain under the jurisdiction of the Egyptian government.

Paris, Jan. 20.—The senate yesterday indulged in another somewhat noisy debate on the subject of the alleged partiality and slowness of the court of cassation. The minister of justice, M. Lebreton, defended the court and urged the necessity of obtaining a separation between legislative and judicial powers. He also said he believed that M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire's resignation of the presidency of the civil section of the court of cassation was due to pique, because he thought that insufficient deference had been shown him. A resolution, approving the views of the minister of justice was adopted by a vote of 212 to 23.

HOW THEY "DISARM."

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The Russian Government has ordered a new cruiser of 6,250 tons to be constructed at the Vulcan ship-building yards, Stettin, Prussia. It has also been decided to build in Russian yards three battleships of about 12,000 tons each and two cruisers of 2,000 and 3,000 tons respectively. Numerous torpedo boats are now in course of construction under government orders.

In the French Chamber of Deputies, M. Paschal Grousset, Radical Socialist, introduced the question of submarine boats, in which vessels, he said, successful experiments had been conducted at Toulon, the French naval stronghold in the south of France. The deputy pointed out the importance of this matter, which, he alleged, would produce a revolution in naval tactics. He declared that a syndicate of iron manufacturers had for twelve years past opposed the construction of submarine boats, and had tried to prevent the success of the experiments in those vessels. Therefore he moved the appointment of a committee to examine into the question, and asked for urgency on his motion. The minister of marine, M. Lockroy, opposed M. Grousset's motion. France, the marine minister said, was the only power in possession of a practical submarine boat. The chamber rejected the motion for urgency by a vote of 357 to 121.

London, Jan. 20.—The Madrid correspondence of the Daily Chronicle says: The constitutional guarantees have been virtually suspended against Carlism. A Carlism propagandist, who was carrying documents from headquarters, has been arrested in Valencia.

Senator Sagasta's determination to adhere to his tottering power causes universal indignation, unequaled since the capture of Santiago.

CECIL RHODES' GREAT SCHEME

The Cape-to-Cairo Idea Proves Popular.

And Meets Financial Encouragement in London.

Stringent Measures Against the Carlism Inaugurated.

Noisy Debate in the French Senate—Experimenting With Sub-Marine Boats.

London, Jan. 20.—Cecil Rhodes' great scheme for a railway through Africa from Cape Town to Cairo is meeting with financial encouragement. The line from Bulawayo, the terminus of the present Cape system, to Khar-toum, will be more than 3,000 miles long, and it is estimated to cost $47,000,000. Mr. Rhodes has been assured of $10,000,000 for the section from Bul-wayo to Lake Tanganyika, and the remainder can be secured when the surveys from Tanganyika to Khar-toum are made. It is said Germany will give consent for right of way through the strip of German territory north of the lake. At Khartoum connection is to be made with the Egyptian line, which the sirdar has already built up the Nile as far as Attabara. Once a transcontinental railway scheme has been revived in India to give a route across Asia from north to south. This would make Bombay and Calcutta the outlets for Russian commerce in Asia, and enable travelers from London to reach India in ten days.

UNITED ACTION.

A resolution will be offered at the annual meeting of the British Chambers of Commerce on March 14, urging the government to utilize every opportunity of co-operating with the United States for the benefit of the commercial interests of both nations. Other business to come before the meeting includes resolutions expressing satisfaction with the government's protection of British interests in China, urging adherence to the "open door" policy and requesting the government to arrange with the United States that British products and manufactures shall not be subjected to a differential tariff in the Philippines, Porto Rico and Cuba.
