Cowards and Slackers Boast- Three of Party Have Already Seen Service in France With 1st and 18th.

Extraordinary appeals for exemption are becoming a matter of dafly occurrence with the exemption tribunals in the city now, but the morning mail today brought to Tribunal 189 a request that added some variety to the monotony of the day's routine.

"I am a Canadian woman," the writer said, "who has given her all. My husband now lies in a lonely grave in France for the cause of right and justice. I would ask you to make those young men go who got married within the past three months to evade conscription. I know of several who have been boasting that they would not go to war, they would get married first. Cowards and slackers behind a woman's skirts.

"For the brave boys suffering and dying in France and for the sake of their wives and mothers who live with hearts bleeding, make these men go regardless of their trade or claims for exemption."

The writer signed the letter, "One Who Has Suffered."

BOARD OF CONTROL" MISNOMER, DECLARES CITY CLERK SAM BAKER, WHO SAYS IT DOES NOT CONTROL

Speaking Before Ryerson Civ ic League, He Declares Body Is Improperly Named-Predicts 60 to 80 Mill Rate If War Continues.

Speaking at a meeting of the Ryerson school last evening. City Clerk Sam Baker made the prediction that if the war continued for another two years the London taxpayers would seen be paying 60 to 80 mills on the dollar instead of 34, if the city continued spending money as it has done during the past few years. Citizens should know more about what becomes of the money of the city, according to the speaker, who said that 74 per cent of the money raised through civic taxes is spent by committees who do not come under the jurisdiction of the city council.

"At the coming election," said City Clerk Baker, "the people will be asked to vote on abolishing the board of control. This is a false name for this board, as anything that might be done has to go before the city council for ratification. You might say, that it is as far as it goes.

"The board of control has no more authority than the public works or finance committee, the members of these bodies receive no salary."

Principal McQueen was called upon to explain the aims of the Civic League, which he said were in the interests of the city and to enable citizens to understand its government of the city and to bring citizens together from a social standpoint as entertainments and other social events would be held at different times.

An added feature to the otherwise business meeting were solos rendered by Mrs. Wheeler, who sang in her usual charming voice, a reading by Miss Anthistie, which delighted the addience, and Miss Geraldine Regan played an instrumental solo.

A meeting will be held every month by the league, the members will be notified by card as to the date.

SPARKS FROM VICTORY LOAN METEORIC COURSE IN LONDON

The Loan in London should not be a failure, if publicity counts for a failure, if publicity counts for anything. Jared Vining talked to the National Brass emrayees this morning at 10 o'clock. At 11:46 Arthur White, chairman of the groups committee, spoke to the ememployees of A. B. Greer & Co. Mr. White also delivered a strong address at the Majestic Theatre Friday night. John Cottam will speak at the McCormick Manufacturing Company at 1:15 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Allan Towe and his "emergency" car have traveled 150 miles in the last two days delivering application blanks to workers. This gives some idea of the ground being cov-

Banners will be seen on most delivery cars and wagons in London by Monday. Be sure and get yours. The button that a canvasser hands you when you buy your bonds is to wear. When you go out, be sure you have it on.

Here's another true story. A canvasser approached a colored maiden, who explained that she was the proud possessor of a liberty bond presented by her brother. She declared that she was prouder still to own a Victory Bond, but that the "scrap of paper" she appreciated
most was a marriage license received that very day from her "gentleman friend.". Three cheers, one for every boud, and a tiger for the last.

Another load has been lifted from the shoulders of the headquarters staff. The local managers of the Equitable Life, North American and Aetna Life assurance companies have all taken over a lot of type-writing work, which is a lot of help to headquarters.

The block taking in St. Paul's Cathedral is surely a Victory square. A bond was sold in every house but Grand avenue holds the record. J. A Croden sold a bond in every house on the street, with three ex-ceptions. The avenue is well named. They're not so daffy at the Asylum. One attendant was on the Job at headquarters this morning before 8 o'clock to buy a bond. Headquarters will be closed up tight tomorrow. This will give the staff and newspaper reporters a much-needed rest.

Lucan, Glencoe and Strathroy have all passed the half mark in their objectives. The county is com-ing up to scratch, and then some. Ailsa Craig's objective of $16,000 as been over-subscribed by $2,000, and more coming. This is the life. An old watchman at McClary's

An old watchman at McCary's phoned Mr. Foote at headquarters Friday and requested that he make out bonds for him to the extent of 1,500. Must have been a case of "watch and save."

All the money isn't possessed by the "lady of the house." After mak-ing a sale to the lady, the salesman asked to see the maid. "I don't think that she has any money, but you can see," said the lady. money, but you can see," said the lady.

The salesman dld, and signed the housemaid up for a $500-bond. M. J. Abbot told of one woman with a soft heart. She gave her bond to a friend who was almost down and out, and bought another.

It must be nice to have an honest face. A man walked into headquarters Friday afternoon. "Controller Little, I want to buy a $100-bond, and here's the cash," he said.
"We can only take 10 per cent from you now," said Mr. Little.
"I don't care about that. Here's the money," replied the man as he left his hundred and walked out.

McClary's office employees have subscribed $6,000 already, and hope to make it $10,000.

Letters have been sent to all the merchants in the city, asking them to decorate their windows. Make those windows look worth while.

These railroad chaps are busy men. A call came into headquarters Friday night from a C. P. R. man, asking that a canvasser be sent to his house as soon as possible to make out a $500 application. J. A. Croden took nineteen applica-tions in one block on Grand avenue Friday. Sounds like a record.

Victor Smith is counting up the Victory Bonds, And yet they say what's in a name?

Mrs. Kay, who resided with her husband at 19 Fernwood Park avenue, Toronto, was at once notified of the accident by wire, and accompanied by a friend, Mrs. Larue, arrived here shortly after 8 o'clock, but her husband, who had been unconscious since the accident, had succumbed a few minutes before. Coroner Dr. MacLaren commenced the official investigation of the accident today, when the jury viewed the remains of Kay at the undertaking rooms of Smith, Son & Clarke. No evidence was taken, the inquest being adjourned until next Friday evening.

Mr. Kay was employed by the Pathescope moving pictures firm, and arrived in London about noon yesterday in response to a telegram, in order to take some moving pictures of drainage work that is being done at the London Asylum. His firm is preparing a film for the department of agriculture, and as they were anxious to complete a drainage film, some of the operations being done here, in charge of Provincial Farm Director J.
