The Montana Buffalo Coat will keep a man warm, resist and shed rain or melted snow, and last for many, many years. AN ALL-WOOL BLUE SERGE SUIT FOR A BOY OF 7 TO 10 YEARS, $15.00

It's a suit that possesses admirable style lines—a distinctive, breezy sort of model that reveals the graceful athletic figure of a boy to full advantage.

And being made of blue serge it's a suit a fellow could wear anywhere and at any time and feel well dressed, for blue serge is an acknowledged aristocrat among suitings.

The fact that the blue serge is of all-wool, finely-twilled, should appeal to mothers. It means long service and lasting shapeliness.

The coat is single breasted, with all-round buckle belt, slash pockets, two flap breast pockets, and back only shows pointed yoke, and pleats to waistline seam.

The bloomers are full and roomy, and have expanding knee bands, belt loops, and watch, hip, and side pockets. Sizes 25 to 28. An EATON value at $15.00.

A "mystery table" was in charge of Mesdames Namith and Vernon Green; members of the Sodality had an alluring assortment of candies. A "country store," of which Mrs. F. A. WOULD AMEND LAWS REGARDING STRIKES

Winnipeg Labor Requests Dominion Congress to Press for Legislation.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press)—A decision to urge the calling of a special meeting of the Dominion Trades Congress to request the government to amend present labor laws regarding strikes, was reached by local labor bodies in joint conference lasting nine hours yesterday, to discuss the influence of the charge to the jury in the trial of R. B. Russell, convicted strike leader. An attempt to swing the meeting in favor of calling a Dominion-wide general strike to force the required legislation failed.

W. H. Trueman, K.C., retained to investigate the charge of Mr. Justice Metcalfe to the jury in the Russell case, told the meeting that general and sympathetic strikes were legal if no illegal acts were committed by strikers or their officials.

MOLTEN GLASS FLOODS BASEMENT OF WORKS

When a huge tank burst in the Dominion glass works, foot of Dovercourt road, yesterday morning, tons of molten liquid poured out and flooded the basement. There were 200 tons of the liquid in the tank, and the cause of it breaking, it was stated, was due to the Hydro power going off, stopping the fans that blow cold air into the glass tank to regulate the heat and keep it down. When the power went off the hot glass forced the heat up at a terrific pace and forced the blocks of the tank out. Firemen carried several lines of hose into the blast room and chopping holes in the floor, poured water down into the cellar, cooling the glass. Woodwork of the building caught, but the damage by fire was slight.

LABOR MOURNS LOSS OF JAMES MACGREGOR

The death of James MacGregor, well-known member of Local 438, International Union of Machinists, which occurred on Saturday, cast a gloom upon labor circles, which was the darker in that both Mr. MacGregor himself and his devoted wife were both exceptionally well known and respected in the movement. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, 355 Western avenue, to Forest Cemetery, Rev. Dr. Salem G. Bland of Broadway Tabernacle officiating. The late James MacGregor was one of the oldest members of the trades union movement in Toronto, having been connected with the movement for almost 50 years, much of this time having been spent in Canada. New System of Courts Leads to Much Confusion

Magistrates, police officers and lawyers were in a sea of confusion yesterday morning when the new system of holding courts was started. No person seemed to understand how the calendar was made out and where different cases would be tried, some lawyers being called into two courts at the same time. Magistrate Kingsford instructed that a list of cases to be tried in his court were to be posted outside of the court room. He also asked that a witness box must be at once erected in the women's court room so that he could hear the evidence.
