Entertainment For The Boy Scouts

Several amateur actors of East St. John last night successfully staged the three-act comedy, "Country Follies," in the East St. John Community Hall. The play was given in an excellent manner and reflected great credit on the director, J. H. McKenna, and the other members of the cast. The funds raised were for the East St. John Boy Scouts' camp for the season. Members of the troop, led by O. J. Lawson, were on hand to assist in every possible way.

The cast of characters was as follows: Josiah Dean, an old farmer, Sydney Edwards; Martha Dean, his wife, Mrs. J. H. McKenna; Nathaniel Dean, and Polly Dean, their children, Jacob Pynn, Myrtle Gordon; Lorna Leane, a seamstress, Violet Wood; Orlan Schuyler, the postmaster, J. H. McKenna; Prudence Schuyler, his daughter, Jean McAllister; Peter Patch, the chore boy, John Gibbs; Horatio Finch, a country lawyer, James Besanson; Alvina Berry, a neighbor, Florence Gordon; Jake Diemer, the village barber, George Gordon. Between the acts Mrs. Harold MacMichael gave violin selections with Miss Alida Heale as accompanist and Scout Clarence Taylor contributed readings. These specialties were much appreciated. Rev. Isaac Brindley, of the East St. John, in a brief address, spoke of the Scout movement and asked school-leavers to join the Scouts at all times. A committee of ladies sold candy during the evening.

St. Rose's Present A Double Bill

Fine Evening's Entertainment in St. Vincent's Auditorium—Will be Repeated Tonight.

Members of St. Rose's Dramatic Club won the hearty plaudits and commendations of the appreciative audience that attended their performance in St. Vincent's Auditorium last evening. They presented a double bill, the first being a roaring farce entitled "Cheerful Liars," and the second a four act comedy drama "Molly Bawn." The former was replete with amusing situations, and the endeavors of the young heir to extricate himself from embarrassing positions in order to meet the terms of the will, kept the audience convulsed with laughter. The antics of his faithful servants in an effort to render assistance was responsible for much of the merriment. A. E. Trainor appeared in the leading role and was assisted by John J. O'Toole, who directed the production and also capably handled a difficult and amusing role, Miss Rose McFadden, Miss Eily O'Toole, and W. J. Quigg.

Prior to the commencement of the principal production Miss Vera Terri and David Gleason were heard in pleasing vocal selections, which were favorably received. "Molly Bawn" was then presented and the acting of the participants was both clever and consistent, all portraying their characters in a pleasing manner. The acting of Miss Alma O'Toole was one of the features of this comedy and she received well merited applause. This programme will be repeated again this evening and is deserving of a much larger patronage.

The cast of characters for Molly Bawn was as follows: Eleanor Masserene, Molly Bawn, Miss Alma O'Toole; Marla Amherst, Miss Rose

En-ar-co Motor Oil Is Real Lubrication

Here's Why—All refiners make lubricants just as cooks make biscuits, yet there is as much difference in oils as there is between the delicious light, flaky biscuits mother makes and heavy, soggy apologies for biscuits some restaurants serve. In each case the raw materials are practically the same, but the "making" is different.

In making En-ar-co Oils we average thousands of tests a year. It is only by this multiplying of tests that perfect products can be made. This thoroughness in our Scientific Refining process is the protection offered to users of our products.

Your motor will run better and last longer if the Lubricating Oil is taken out every 500 miles and fresh oil put in. We do it for you with
