VOICES OF THE PEOPLE

CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

To the Editor of The Chronicle:

Dear Sir,—I see by your report of the council held on Monday evening, that the council adopted the report of the Carnegie library committee, which recommends that the mayor be instructed to make application to Andrew Carnegie for a grant of $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a public library building in Ingersoll. Our council is elected by the people, and its aim should be to serve the people, and from the many expressions of disapproval of a Carnegie library for Ingersoll, communicated to me by the citizens of our town, the council has either misjudged or deliberately ignored the will of the people.

The remarks of Reeve Buchanan have received a hearty endorsement here and elsewhere. Sutherland have in this matter, the support of I believe, the majority of the ratepayers of the town, and next January will show that the people do not care to be misjudged, nor ignored.

Andrew Carnegie has not yet granted his $10,000 for his Ingersoll monument, and we trust he may see clearly that to withhold his grant until the majority of the people say they are ready to pay $1,000 every year, in perpetuity, to maintain it, and if he will wait until then we may as well say now, Good-bye, Andrew.

Yours truly,
W. C. Forman.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

To the Editor of The Chronicle:

Dear Sir,—Your column entitled "Fifty Years Ago" has touched a sensitive chord, which has opened up a retrospect of many and various phases of local life and character of the time, which did I possess the requisite ability to portray, would indeed reveal many interesting and without instructive, as well as amusing circumstances. At the time of which I write, our population, though small, numerically, possessed a variety of nationalities, each with their peculiarities, bearing the stamp of their individualities. On the north we had the intense Scottish element, with their traits and language, also their habits of life, recently from the land of their nativity, on the south we had the genuine Irishman, with his ready wit, his adaptation to circumstances and his patriotic love for the land of the shamrock, and as both of these people were not averse to an occasional, if not a frequent, touch of good old-time whiskey, manufactured in the valley, where the electric light plant now stands, and could be had for 25c per gallon, and as much as you could conveniently carry away internally, gratis, at the source of production. We had also a very large negro element, the real genuine stock many of them, ex-slaves, induced by the fact that at the time of which I write, this town (then a village) was the residential headquarters of the contractors who held the contract for cutting the wood, then the fuel used for the locomotion of the then G. W. Railway. Of course there was the usual proportion of other nationalities, though not in themselves sufficient to stamp their characteristics on any particular section. However, our still earlier settlers left no unambiguous evidence of their presence in our more prominent families. This period was a time of hardship. This country was beginning to feel the reaction after the close of the Crimean war, a subject upon which I must not enlarge, as it is not germane to the matter at hand. At this period, the writer, then a very small boy, carried telegraph messages from the telegraph office in the place which was operated in connection with the R. F. business. Many times have I roved across the present site of the Noxon foundry with three and four feet of water outside the channel as late in the season as June. On the present site of the Noxon Co. office, a three storey rough cast hotel stood, erected by Neil McKay, which I saw burned down. To describe the changes in the material aspect of the town, while of interest, would be a task of some magnitude, and perhaps not so well suited to your column as the relation of incidents and individual peculiarities, which I may venture to relate in some future communication.

BODY FOUND IN TRUNK.

Man and Woman Arrested on Charge of Murder.

Marseilles, France, Aug. 7.—A trunk belonging to a man and woman who arrived here yesterday from Monte Carlo, attracted the attention of the baggage-master, who opened it to be opened. It was found to contain the body of a woman, cut to pieces. The man and woman owning the trunk were arrested. They had assumed that it had been forwarded to London.

The couple, who are middle-aged, and gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. Gold, residents of Monte Carlo, denied that they committed any crime, and informed the examining magistrate that they only knew the victim slightly.

While the latter was at their home, the Villa Menesim, on Sunday last, Mr. and Mrs. Gold added, the woman's lover arrived there and blew out her brains. The Golds, fearing they would be compromised, tried to get rid of the corpse.

The head and feet were in the Golds' valise and the rest of the body was in the trunk.

The autopsy seemed to upset the story told by the Golds. It was shown that the murdered woman was seized from behind and held while she was stabbed to death. A commission has been sent to Monte Carlo to investigate the crime.

TEACHERS FOR THE WEST.

Lots of Britishers Ready to Go to Saskatchewan.

London, Aug. 7.—Tillemont Thompson, secretary of the Empire Educational League, recently published two letters in The Mail respecting the present demand for teachers in Saskatchewan. He now finds it necessary to write an article in The Mail as a reply to 1,200 correspondents who asked for further information.

A Vancouver doctor also writes The Mail pointing out the serious situation in British Columbia owing to the "yellow" invasion.

ANOTHER CARNEGIE GIFT.

Contributes $500,000 to King Edward's Hospital Fund.

London, Aug. 7.—Andrew Carnegie has deposited in the Bank of England $500,000 as a contribution to the King Edward Hospital fund.

Gored to Death By a Bull.

Kingston, Aug. 7.—Yesterday morning Thomas Shannon, a farmer living at Ida Hill, was gored to death by a thoroughbred Holstein bull. He was about 50 years of age.

The bull is a four-year-old and when Shannon noticed it was getting shutt up about 6 o'clock Thomas went with the dog to drive the bull away. Nobody saw the animal attack him, but from the distance he was picked up, from where his hat and knife were found, it must have thrown him 40 feet.

When found the unfortunate man was on the ground and the dog keeping the animal from further attacking him.

Big Problem for Canada.

Winnipeg, Aug. 7.—Jeremiah W. Jenks, professor of political economy at Cornell, confidential friend of Mr. Roosevelt, member of the United States Immigration Commission, is on an important investigating tour of the Canadian Northwest investigating the question of American immigration into Canada.

He says he expects this to assume bigger proportions in Canada immediately than the Japanese question in the States now.

DENVER WELCOMES HAYWOOD.

Thousands of People Meet Him at the Station.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 6.—The celebrated labor leader William Haywood, who recently was acquitted of connection with the murder of ex-Governor Steiensen of Idaho, on his return here from Boise Sunday night, was considerably curtained by the lateness of the hour.

Plans for a great gathering of persons at the station to be followed by an open meeting, were abandoned, and, instead, a committee of 100 labor unionists was on hand to welcome him. A crowd of several thousand persons, despite the lateness of the hour, was also on hand.

When Haywood stepped from the train, supporting his invalid wife, a great cheer went up from the crowd. A rush for the gates was made, and the police were obliged to use force before the gates could be opened. A space less than three feet wide was opened.

As Haywood walked up this file, hundreds of hands were stretched to wards him, but his solicitude for his wife, caused him to resist the desire to grasp the many hands extended. Continued cheering greeted him, and his face was all smiles.

When Haywood saw his wife seated in a carriage he stood on the rear seat of the open carriage and waved his hat at the cheers. The crowd joined with him and for several minutes the rear of cheers continued.

Half a hundred men started to unhitch the horses and attach a rope so that they could drag the conveyance up the street. Haywood requested that they forego this expression of regard, and they desisted. It took several minutes to clear the streets. Then the horses pulling Haywood's carriage started away at a brisk trot.

HE WANTS THE MEN

King Street Minister Interested in Young Men and Workingmen.

At the quarterly official board meeting of King street church last evening, the pastor, Rev. J. E. Hughson addressed the members upon the outlook and work of the church. He expressed himself as gratified with the strength and stability of the church. He had carefully studied the situation and was convinced that the greatest possibilities of expansion lay in the direction of the young men and the working men. Perhaps the wish was father to the thought, as his sympathies had always been toward these two classes. His church had always been the church of the young man and the working man. He hoped that King street church would be no exception. How to win these men was a question yet to be answered, but of one thing he felt certain the church must make these men feel that they are wanted, and that they are welcome. They must be shown that it matters not whether a man has money or not, what kind of clothes he wears, or what his social position may be, King street church wants him, not for what he has, but for his own sake, and to help him amid life's struggles. He urged the members to unite with him in realizing this ideal, and expressed the belief that very soon the problem before them would be the problem of providing increased seating accommodation. Several members of the board expressed similar convictions and a committee was appointed to provide increased seating capacity.

The financial report showed that $1,095.29 had been raised during the quarter, and after expenses had been paid there was a small balance. The first Sunday in October was devoted to the largest of the year services and thanksgiving offering.

REPRIMANDED BY RECTOR

WAS LADY IN ST. CATHARINES CHURCH WHO WAS BARE-HEADED.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 6.—Quite a sensation was caused at the evening service in St. Barnabas' church by the appearance in church of a lady in her bare head. In the course of his sermon the rector, the Rev. R. Barrington Nevitt, severely reprimanded her for so appearing in church, and called attention to the fact that the rule that women shall not attend church with their heads uncovered was one of the most stringent of the lesser rules of the Anglican church, and had come down from apostolic times. The lady, who is a stranger to St. Catharines, remained in church during the entire service and made no move to retire after she had been reprimanded by the rector.

SALVATION ARMY

ROBBED SLEEPING CAR

CHARGE AGAINST PORTER ON INTERCOLONIAL.

Montreal, Aug. 6.—Henry E. Williams, colored, 28 years of age, was arraigned in the police court today on a charge of having committed numerous robberies on the Intercolonial Railway. During the summer months the accused was working as a sleeping car porter between Montreal and Carleton Place. Complaint after complaint was received by the railway officials from passengers who had been victimized. Some had lost money, others jewelry, and although a vigilant lookout was kept, the articles of value disappeared. Detectives, however, got a clue and followed it up so closely that they arrested Williams yesterday at his boarding house on St. Antoine st.

When searched nineteen pawn tickets were found in his possession. These tickets showed that articles of jewelry, such as diamond rings, silver rings, chains, watches, and trinkets, had been pledged in Boston, New York, Detroit and other American cities as well as in Montreal. The police, who regard the arrest as important, say to avert suspicion the accused had never robbed his own car. The accused pleaded not guilty this morning and was remanded until Friday.

RAISED BIG PROBLEM

DESERTION OF CHINKS FROM A GERMAN VESSEL AT SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—The desertion of the twenty-four Chinese members of the crew of the German tramp steamer Tolosan, who deserted from that vessel last Friday and have since been in charge of the Federal authorities, has involved the American government, Germany and China in a tangle that will have to be unraveled by the representatives of the three nations in Washington to whom the matter has been referred.

When the Chinese were taken before United States Commissioner Hancock yesterday on a charge of being illegally in this country, Owing King, assistant Chinese consul, said that the men were willing to be deported and would waive their right of appeal if they were returned to China on some vessel other than the Tolosan on which they had been treated cruelly.

The German consul insisted that the prisoners be delivered to him to be placed in the custody of the captain of the Tolosan in accordance with the immigration law and treaties. This request Commissioner Hancock denied and ordered the prisoners deported.

The Chinese consulate has wired to Washington to prevent the men being taken back on the Tolosan. The German consulate has wired an appeal from Commissioner Hancock's order of deportation and U. S. Marshal Elliott has asked Washington for definite instructions. The prisoners will be kept in the Alameda county jail until a reply from Washington is received.
