Winter's Chill Upset Kidneys

Pains in Back Tell of Congestion Caused by Cold.

You Can Prevent Serious Complications by Using

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

When the surface of the body is suddenly chilled the millions of pores in the skin are quickly closed. Under ordinary circumstances these pores are of enormous assistance to the kidneys in removing poisons from the system. Their failure means greatly increased strain on the kidneys, and frequently congestion, which leads to serious disease.

This explains why kidney troubles are so frequent at this season of the year, and why you require something to quicken the action of the kidneys and keep them in healthful working condition.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are particularly effective under these conditions because of their combined action on the kidneys, liver and bowels. The whole filtering and excretory system is thoroughly cleansed and invigorated, the poisons are removed from the blood and you feel like a different person.

The digestive system does not have half a chance when these other organs are clogged, with waste matter and sluggish in action. But once you get the liver and kidneys right the mass of food being digested moves quickly through the alimentary canal, your appetite improves, digestion is good and life is worth living.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates and Co., Limited, Toronto.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S CHANCE FOR GROWING OF APPLES

A. G. Turney Points Out That this Province Now Has Great Opportunity for Larger Business.

That the decline in fruit production in Canada during recent years will give New Brunswick orchardists a great opportunity to get into the English market, is the opinion of A. G. Turney, provincial horticulturist.

Mr. Turney was in the city yesterday when a Standard reporter asked him to what causes he attributed the decline of apple production in Canada shown by the census returns, a decline from 18,000,000 bushels in 1900 to 10,000,000 in 1910.

"Years ago," said Mr. Turney, "the farmers all over Canada set out small home orchards, and when the orchards came into bearing they raised large crops usually of inferior fruit. After a time the trees were attacked by fungus and insect parasites, and these pests increased in numbers the more rapidly because the trees were so numerous. At that time the farmers had no means, or no knowledge of the means of controlling these pests. Consequently the home orchards were neglected and the farmers discouraged from setting out new stock. In Ontario the acreage under orchards has fallen off rapidly, mainly because of the decay of the home orchards."

"Not so long ago the specialist came on the scene in Ontario and started commercial orchards, operating on scientific lines. The old farmers seldom made any money out of his home orchard; he raised apples more for home use than for the market. The modern commercial orchardist in Ontario is making money, though their production is more limited than the aggregate production of the multitude of home orchards used to be."

"Nova Scotia which has gone in for commercial orcharding, has increased its production of apples. New Brunswick can raise apples as good as Nova Scotia can, and it has an equal chance in the English market. The present is New Brunswick's opportunity. Ontario production has fallen off while its home markets have been enlarging rapidly, which means that it will be some years before Ontario can have any large surplus of apples to compete with the Maritime Provinces in the British market."

"In the United States the falling off of the production of apples has been even greater than in Canada, and is evidently due to the same cause—the decay of the home orchard. According to the government returns, the apple crop in the United States has fallen off from 63,000,000 bushels to 23,000,000 in the last 15 years."
