Dust is a danger your home shouldn't endure
The floor that is coated with the glass-like, germ-proof, seamless finish Floorglaze gives will exclude practically no dust. That ought to mean much in your home.

Nearly every malignant disease finds dust its best messenger. And this floor-finish, in any of its ten eye-pleasing shades, deprives dust of its chief stronghold—the floor.

Floorglaze costs little—a gallon covers 500 square feet. Anyone can apply it right. It just CAN'T wear off—tho' it does dry hard in a single night.

Floorglaze is so durable, and stands hard wear so well, that it serves perfectly for floors exposed to the weather—balconies, summer houses, verandas, etc.

Most dealers sell Floorglaze. If yours doesn't happen to, tell us his name and receive a Free Book you'll like to read.

MUCH BUSINESS AT GENERAL ASSEMBLY
Winnipeg, June 10.—Half the time at today's session of the general assembly was occupied in a spirited debate on the question of separation of Queens university from the church; opinions for and against being vigorously expressed.

The subject came up on presentation by the principal Patrick of the report of the special committee appointed to advise the assembly. Principal Patrick said the committee was unanimous in the decision reached, and concluded that conditions which had lately arisen had justified the University senate in raising the question of a change in the constitution of the University.

The committee advised that the assembly should be authorized to take such steps as might be deemed in the best interests of the institution.

If the change were decided on, a provision must be made for carrying on the work of the Queens theological faculty on a basis satisfactory to the church. In view of the urgency of the case, a committee should be appointed to give legal effect to any action taken by the church in the theological faculty.

The report of the augmentation committee, eastern section, was presented by Rev. S. J. McArthur of Newcastle, N.B., and adopted. The report showed an income from all sources amounting to $10,978 and expenditure of $8,410. The receipts for the year were $931 greater than last year, but the largest factor in the fund's credit balance is the lower amount of payments, which were $1,029 less than last year.

The action taken two years ago to stimulate augmented congregations in the matter of self support has been quite successful, and a minimum of $800 was made.

A special committee was appointed to provide for religious services by the Presbyterian church in connection with the Quebec tercentenary in July.

Thirty-two standing committees for the year were appointed, but with few changes from last year.

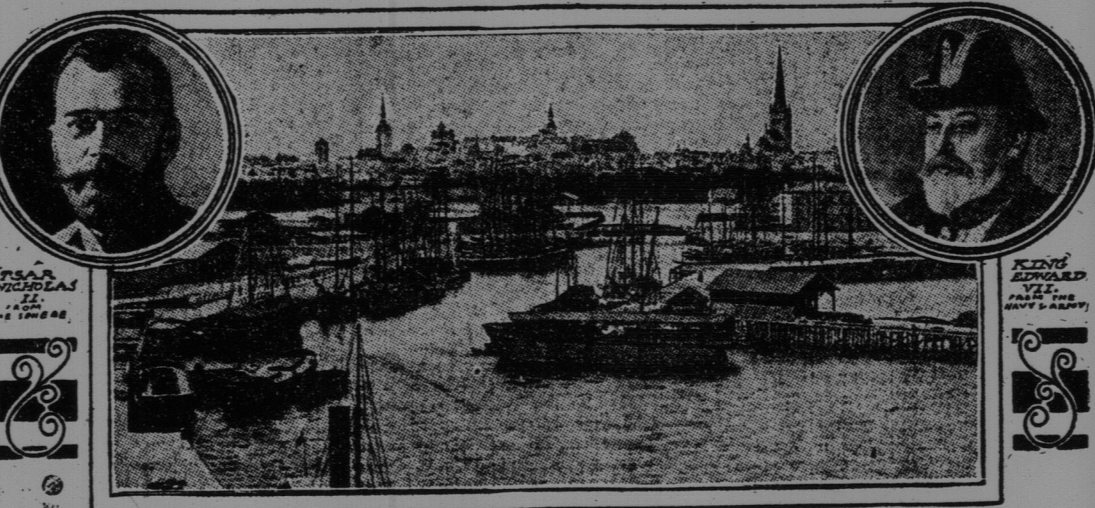

The report of the widows' and orphans' fund (Eastern), was considered at some length and adopted. It was presented by Rev. Robert Laing of Halifax, and showed receipts totalling $10,110 and expenditure of $4,463, the balance being added to capital. The assets are $171,000, and increase of $925 over last year. The number of annuitants is twenty-four widows and seven orphans.

The resignation of George Mitchell as treasurer was reported and the appointment of his son, George MacGregor Mitchell, of Halifax.

A Forester's Protest.
To the Editor of the Telegraph:
Sir:—On the 10th of June, instant, the Supreme Court of Foresters meets at Toronto, in the Temple building, for the purpose of considering the raising of the rates of the old members so called.

This is an occasion which calls for an independent expression of opinion from every member of our order. If ever there was an occasion when there has been an attempt to strike at the just and equitable rights of a large body of individuals, it is in this attempt to repudiate or order a fair and honest contract.

Eighteen years ago I went into this order and paid the dues required of me at the time assured that I would never be called upon for more and down through all these years I have not only faithfully paid these dues, but read the official organ of the order, and on every occasion that I have heard the late lamented chief deliver an address or publicly discuss the working of the order, I have been instilled into my mind and I believe into the mind of every old Forester, that whatever might happen in regard to the rates, as they would affect the new members, the contract between the old members and the order would be held inviolate.

It is a principle of law that if you enter into a written contract with your neighbor, you will be held strictly to the terms of that contract and will not be allowed to vary it one hair's breadth. That being the case in reference to our individual transactions, how much more should we expect that to be carried out in a fraternal society like ours, where we would expect that the good old motto, "Do as you would be done by," would be religiously observed. Upon the strength of these assurances that I have already mentioned, and with implicit confidence in the competency, wisdom and sincerity of the late lamented chief, I have gone on and thousands of "old members" have gone on paying in our money and allowing our time to run on and out making it impossible for us to procure other insurance which would and might have been available to us, and making it a grievous damage to ourselves and families. I do not believe it can be necessary under proper and more economical management to subject the "old members" to the unjust treatment that has been proposed by the supreme executive in the "Plans A, B, & C" in "Foresters" of March, 1908, which to me bears all the earmarks of a deliberate "freeze out" of the old members.

Each one of the schemes, A, B, & C, suggested by the supreme executive, is inequitable, unjust and dishonorable to every old "Forester," and for one who will never lose an opportunity of raising his voice in solemn protest against such a breach of trust and unfair treatment. I do not believe that the Parliament of Canada, if the matter were brought before it with sufficient force, clearness and energy, would pass any legislation that would have for its object the robbing of 100,000 (perhaps not honest citizens) of that for which they have for all these years paid out their hard earnings and upon which they have relied for so long a time as a protection for those who come after them, and therefore I believe the proper position for every delegate to the supreme court to take, will be to insist that every effort with the Dominion parliament, to secure the rights of the "old members" should be exhausted before any radical changes are made by the supreme executive.

There is one item in the discussion of this matter, that the supreme executive have failed to take into consideration, and that is the extension of ten cents per month on every member passed about ten years ago, which was said to be for the extension of the order. That amount for the 100,000 old members for one year to $12,000,000, and for the nine years the old members have been paying this amount it has amounted to $1,080,000,000, a very considerable amount, which the executive seems to have forgotten and to have given no credit to the old members. That amount is still going on and has never been withdrawn.

Now while I do not believe and from all the information I can gather am convinced that there should be any change in the rates, yet, granting that there is such a necessity I would suggest a plan whereby the difficulty might be met without unduly burdening one class of the members. Our Supreme Chief says that in 1906 the society paid out in death and disability benefits on account of claims arising under policies of "old members" the sum of $30,000. More, he says, than all the contributions of the old members and that the deficiency for 1907 amounted to nearly $40,000, and he further says that this comes out of our accumulated funds. Now we have, according to the "Forester" of March, 1908, 285,157 members. Suppose there be another extension of fifteen cents placed on each member, this would amount, for the year, to $33,273,600, an amount that would more than cover the year 1907, the largest mentioned by the Supreme Chief, and leave a surplus of $113,246,600. Why not meet the difficulty that way and it would not be so burdensome on the members? I think the new members would not ought not to complain, and they do not know how soon they would have to call upon us for aid because I believe that an executive that once breaks faith can never again be trusted and we are a fraternal society and, according to the principles of our society, should help each other.

If that is the every delegate to the Supreme Court should not only feel it his privilege but his duty to take the position, that by all the rules that govern British justice and fair play, the contract between the Order and the old members should be rigidly adhered to because of the great hardship that would be worked upon members who have passed the insurable age and on account of the suffering it would cause to the innocent families affected thereby. Also for the honor of the Order and in obedience to those vows which all Foresters have taken "Not to knowingly wrong a brother, nor permit another to do so."

I would fight and vote to put the whole institution into liquidation and have every beneficiary member receive his pro rata share of the $12,000,000 before a base insinuation be done to the "old members" by the voluntary action of the order itself.

If the Supreme Court adopts the plans outlined in the "Forester," then the Order itself will have violated that obligation which has bound the Foresters together as brothers and which is now and has grown to such magnificent proportions, and every delegate to the Supreme Court who does not stand up in his place in that convention and most solemnly protest against such a character who in an effort to raise that money and the few that remain be allowed to scoop in the whole thing?

If any drastic measures are necessary to save the Order (which I cannot understand), surely it should be made a common cause among all the members, and not the old members only, seeing that they were in no way to blame for the blunders and stupidity of those who led them into the difficulty. I am, Sir, a Forester.

GALLANT HUSSARS PREPARE FOR CAMP
A meeting of the regimental and mess committees of the 8th Hussars was held in the office of Capt. H. Arnold Wood in the office of Capt. H. Arnold Wood in the office of Capt. H. Arnold Wood.

Reports were received from squadron leaders and indicated that the corps will be up to full strength and the men have been provided with new uniforms and legging and will present a very smart appearance.

The mess committee reported having matters well in hand. They are considering taking an orchestra to camp in view of the success which was met with last year. Wednesday, July 1, will probably be at home day for the regiment and as the day will be a holiday, an unusually large number of guests are expected.

It was decided that all officers who are not now in possession of Sam Brown outfits must provide themselves with such before the camp opens.

Several gentlemen have been granted commissions recently, and will appear with Canada's crack cavalry regiment this year for the first time.

OFFERS $10,000 TO BAPTISTS

Handsome Gift Available Conditionally for Church Annuity Fund

AMALGAMATION PLAN
Meeting Yesterday Completed Consideration of Project to Make Funds of Three Provinces Into One—Sum of $10,000 to Be Given if General Subscriptions Make Total $100,000.

A handsome offer of $10,000 has been made to the conference of the United Baptist church in the Maritime provinces by a New Brunswicker, whose name is withheld. This sum will be provided for the annuity fund of the church, provided the members raise enough money to amalgamate the funds.

The plan was submitted at a meeting of the New Brunswick Association meeting at Hillboro, next month, and to the Maritime convention which will meet in August at a place to be decided on later.

Provided the plan submitted to the approval of both meetings, amalgamation will be proceeded with.

Rev. Joseph McLeod, D.D., and Harvick and E. D. King, of Halifax, for the Nova Scotia fund.

The idea is to amalgamate all three funds into a general fund. The annuity fund is for the benefit of ministers who have become disabled through sickness or age.

ORGANIZED NOW AND READY FOR WORK

Agricultural Commission Will Have Office in House of Assembly, Fredericton

W. W. Hubbard Appointed Secretary—Travelling List of This Month—Carleton County Will Be the First Visited.

The agricultural commission created by an act of the legislature at the late session, held a preliminary meeting in St. John recently, and organized for work.

To W. W. Hubbard were delegated the duties of secretary. The office of the commission will be in the House of Assembly, Fredericton, and correspondence is invited from everyone interested in the agricultural development of the province.

Letters should be addressed, "Agricultural Commission, House of Assembly, Fredericton." Forms, stating the subject upon which the commission desire to be informed, are being prepared, and will be sent to prominent men in every school district.

It is expected that the traveling work of the commission will begin during the first week in June, and continue until the middle of the month.

Meetings will be held at convenient centres in the various counties so as to amass the most complete information possible.

Meetings were held all day yesterday to formulate plans. These will be presented to the New Brunswick Association meeting at Hillboro, next month, and to the Maritime convention which will meet in August at a place to be decided on later.

Provided the plan submitted to the approval of both meetings, amalgamation will be proceeded with.

G. T. P. APPOINTS FIRE WARDENS

Nineteen Named by Transcontinental Commission to Act in New Brunswick

ONE TO EACH SECTION OF FOREST LAND
Timekeepers Will Be Deputy Wardens as Additional Precaution—August and September the Time of Danger from Fires.

The Transcontinental Railway Commission, through C. O. Foss, the district engineer, has appointed fire wardens on all the forest sections in New Brunswick to supervise the clearing and burning operations and see that proper precautions are taken to prevent fires.

The road traverses nineteen sections of forest land, each section averaging ten and a half miles in length. Besides the nineteen wardens, the time keepers in the sections referred to will be made acting wardens as an additional precaution.

The fire wardens will receive $50 a month and the time keepers will be given a slight advance in their pay.

Except in sections covered with spruce and pine there is thought to be little danger of fires occurring at the present time owing to the copious rains and the green overgrowth. In August and September, when fires are most prevalent, and burning will be permitted. The danger in the dry season will be mainly due to fires left by tramps and irresponsible persons.
