

There were very few changes in the wholesale prices of produce during the last day. The supply has been reasonably good. The following were the wholesale prices yesterday:

COUNTRY MARKET. Western, 0.10 to 0.12; butchers, 0.08 to 0.11; country, 0.07 to 0.12; etc.

CANNED GOODS. The following are the wholesale prices per case: Mon, cohoes, 8.20 to 8.70; etc.

PROVISIONS. Domestic mess, 24.50 to 25.00; American clear, 27.50 to 28.00; etc.

SUGAR. Standard granulated, 4.70 to 4.80; light yellow, 4.60 to 4.70; etc.

FLOUR, ETC. Standard granulated, 5.25 to 5.30; standard oatmeal, 5.20 to 5.30; etc.

GROCERIES. Rice, 0.08 to 0.12; sugar, 0.08 to 0.12; etc.

GRAINS. Hard red winter, 23.00 to 24.00; small white, 23.00 to 24.00; etc.

OLIA. Lard, 0.00 to 0.05; tallow, 0.00 to 0.05; etc.

FRUITS, ETC. Apples, 0.10 to 0.15; peaches, 0.10 to 0.15; etc.

HIDES. Hides (green), 0.10 to 0.15; hides (solid), 0.10 to 0.15; etc.

FISH. Salmon, 4.00 to 5.00; haddock, 3.00 to 4.00; etc.

A DIRINFECTANT. Water, 1.00 to 1.25; disinfectant, 1.00 to 1.25; etc.

150 DEAD LEFT IN WAKE OF WESTERN TORNADO

Big Section of Omaha Wiped Out

More Than 100 Killed and Larger Number Injured

Property Loss Many Millions—Hospitals Are Full as Well as Hotels and Other Places of the Maimed—Other Towns Hard Hit—Telegraphic Communication Crippled.

Canadian Press. Omaha, Neb., March 24—With the death toll fluctuating around 100, and injured apparently 400, Omaha and the surrounding territory in Nebraska and Iowa tonight faced the problem of housing the thousands rendered homeless by last night's tornado.

The number of buildings destroyed was said to be in the neighborhood of 1,000, and the property damage loss is said to be in the vicinity of several million dollars. Detailed reports coming to Omaha tend to increase the estimate of the toll. Destruction and indicated that a much wider territory had been in the path of the storm than was first shown.

Omaha Hospitals Full. The hospitals in Omaha tonight are full of injured, many of whom have not yet been identified, apparently because their friends are either dead or among the injured.

The storm appeared to have started at Fifty-fourth and Centre streets. From there it traveled north, veering slightly to the east to leave a new or street. It took a northerly course to Fortieth and Farmhand streets, traveling its way through everything. Still traveling a little east of north, it covered a course to Fortieth street east to Thirty-fourth street, a distance of six blocks.

Telegraph Companies Hit Hard. New York, March 24—The telegraph companies were harder hit by the storm in the middle west than by any other storm since 1900. It was reported from the offices of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies today. Many miles of wire were reported to be estimated.

Seven Dead at Lincoln. Lincoln, Neb., March 24—Seven persons were killed and a serious injured at Benson, Neb. by the tornado which struck that village last evening. The village was completely wrecked, every one of the buildings being either totally or partially destroyed.

POWER SCHEME ON ST. JOHN HELD UP

Waterway Commission to Decide Fate of Dam Above Fredericton

Van Buren Bridge, Too. It is believed the Ashburton Treaty will have to be revised before permission can be granted for several proposed ventures.

Special to The Telegraph. Bangor, Me., March 24—Hon. Oscar P. Fellows, of this city, counsel for the United States before the International St. John River Commission, has received instructions from the war department of the United States to ascertain whether or not there are any objections known or to be advanced by the commission why the proposed international bridge connecting Van Buren (Me.) with St. Leonard's (N. B.) should not be erected.

The Van Buren Bridge Co., which is to construct the bridge, was incorporated under an act of the Maine legislature passed this winter. A Congress has passed a bill authorizing the bill and the necessary legislation in the province of New Brunswick was procured some time ago. Those who are interested in the proposition are at a loss to see the aim of the war department at present, as everything in relation to the bridge seemed settled and steps were being taken for the organization of the company.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—Premier Borden's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

BORDEN ISSUES SECOND "CLOSURE MANIFESTO"

Calls Liberals the Obstructionists

Says They Are Opposing in Committee What They Voted For—Garbles Laurier's Amendment to Make His Point—Hints That Tories May Adopt Canadian Navy Plan Yet.

Special to The Telegraph. Ottawa, March 24—Premier Borden's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

HERE'S LAURIER'S NAVAL RESOLUTION MOVED DEC. 12

Ottawa, Ont., Dec 12—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's naval amendment is as follows: "That all the words after the word 'that' be struck out, and the following substituted therefor: 'This House declines to concur in the said resolution and orders that the same be referred back to the committee with instructions to amend the same in the following particulars, namely to strike out all words after clause A and substitute therefor the following: 'The memorandum prepared by the Board of Admiralty on the general naval situation of the empire and communicated to this House by the Hon. the Prime Minister on December 5, shows that several of the most important of the foreign powers have adopted a definite policy of rapidly increasing their naval strength. That this condition has compelled the United Kingdom to concentrate its naval forces in home waters, involving the withdrawal of ships from the outlying portions of the empire; That such withdrawal renders it necessary that Canada, WITHOUT FURTHER DELAY, SHOULD ENTER ACTIVELY UPON A PERMANENT POLICY OF NAVAL DEFENSE; That any measure of Canadian aid to imperial naval defense which does not embody a permanent policy of participation by ships OWNED, MANNED AND MAINTAINED BY CANADA, AND CONTEMPLATING CONSTRUCTION AS SOON AS POSSIBLE IN CANADA, IS NOT AN ADEQUATE OR SATISFACTORY EXPRESSION OF THE ASPIRATIONS OF THE CANADIAN PEOPLE IN REGARD TO NAVAL DEFENSE, AND IS NOT AN ASSUMPTION BY CANADA OF HER FAIR SHARE IN THE MAINTENANCE OF THE NAVAL STRENGTH OF THE EMPIRE. This House regrets to learn the intention of the government TO INDEFINITELY POSTPONE THE CARRYING OUT BY CANADA OF A PERMANENT NAVAL POLICY. It is the intention of this House THAT MEASURES SHOULD BE TAKEN AT THE PRESENT SESSION TO GIVE EFFECT ACTIVELY AND SPEEDILY TO THE PERMANENT NAVAL POLICY EMBODIED IN THE NAVAL SERVICE ACT OF 1910, passed pursuant to the resolution UNANIMOUSLY approved by this House in March 1909. This House is, further, of the opinion that to increase the power and mobility of the imperial navy by the ADDITION OF TWO FLEET UNITS TO BE STATIONED ON THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC COASTS OF CANADA RESPECTIVELY, RATHER THAN BY A CONTRIBUTION OF MONEY OR SHIPS, IS THE POLICY BEST CALCULATED TO AFFORD RELIEF TO THE UNITED KINGDOM IN RESPECT OF THE BURDEN OF IMPERIAL NAVAL DEFENSE, AND IN THE WORDS OF THE ADMIRALTY MEMORANDUM TO 'restore greater freedom to the movements of the British squadrons in every sea and directly promote the security of the Dominions'; and that the government of Canada should take such steps as shall lead to the accomplishment of this purpose as speedily as possible.' (A.)"

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

Canadian Press. Ottawa, March 24—The Premier's second "closure manifesto" was handed out this evening. It contains one new and significant feature. Mr. Borden is now nibbling at the Canadian navy idea he has taken a long step backward towards the safe ground he held in 1909. Instead of saying, as he did in December last, that a Canadian navy was impracticable and would take fifty or seventy-five years to build up, he now discreetly holds out the suggestion that the three Dreadnoughts to be immediately contributed to the imperial navy may, if the people of Canada so desire, become later on part of a Canadian naval force.

FURTHER FIGHTING IN THE BALKANS USELESS

CANADA A MENACE TO THE PAPER TRUST

American Official Advocates a Stiff Duty on Imports

Special to The Telegraph. Bangor, Me., March 24—That Canada, through recent wonderful development along the line of the pulp and paper industry, has come to be the chief competitor and menace to similar interests in this country, was brought out in an address made by Martin L. Griffin, of Bangor (Me.), before the Maine section of the American Chemical Society held at Bangor, Chemists representing some of the largest pulp and paper mills and other manufacturers of the state were present.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Nothing to Be Gained Say Powers

Have Notified Allies That They Have Fixed Terms of Settlement

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

Canadian Press. London, March 24—The powers have come to an agreement regarding the boundaries of northern and northeastern Albania from Jacona to Lake Ochrida. Their decision will be made collective to the allies who at the same time will be informed that as Europe has settled the question there will be no further need of military operations, the result of which would not in any way affect the powers' agreement.

FURTHER DAMAGE BY FLOODS REPORTED

Another North Shore Bridge Washed Away and Large Quantity of Logs Go to Sea—Bridge Over Meduxnekeag Hanging Yet But is Likely Doomed—Farmer Loses Heavily by Water Flooding Bars.

Special to The Telegraph. Woodstock, March 24—The scene of the destruction by the flood at Red Bridge was visited yesterday by many citizens. The bridge is still hanging, although several feet off its foundation, and will undoubtedly go out when the jam of ice starts.

Special to The Telegraph. Woodstock, March 24—The scene of the destruction by the flood at Red Bridge was visited yesterday by many citizens. The bridge is still hanging, although several feet off its foundation, and will undoubtedly go out when the jam of ice starts.

MANY MOURN FOR CONDUCTOR HEINE

Funeral Services Last Night Largely Attended—Easter Church Meetings Postponed.

CAMPBELLTON SUSPECT CAUGHT BY BOSTON POLICE

Joseph Wedge Taken from Schooner on Burglary Charge—Deaths of Former New Brunswick People at the "Hub"

Special to The Telegraph. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

Canadian Press. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

Canadian Press. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

Canadian Press. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

Canadian Press. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

Canadian Press. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

Canadian Press. Boston, Mass., March 24—Arrested on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, Joseph Wedge, aged 32, a native of Prince Edward Island, was taken from the schooner Frederick A. Duggan, when that vessel arrived at quarantine today from Campbellton (N. B.) for alleged burglary. Immigration Commissioner Billings received instructions to apprehend the man upon the arrival of the vessel at Cape Cod, and the police, received word that the Duggan was encoached at quarantine and the police boat (Guardian) immediately started. From the description Wedge was easily identified. He was brought up to the city and turned over to the immigration authorities.

BODIES OF TWO STELLARTON BOYS FISHED FROM WATER

New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.

Canadian Press. New Glasgow, March 24—(Special)—The body of John Connors, the elder of the two boys who perished Saturday evening, was found in his bare feet and his boots and stockings were found within ten feet of the body. Clutched in his hand was the greater cost of his smaller brother. The body of the younger lad was found a few minutes later nearly 100 yards above the spot where the other was discovered lying in eighteen inches of water.