

SUNDAY-SCHOOL LIBRARIES

THE HOT WEATHER is now upon us, and every Sunday-school worker knows how difficult it is to keep the attendance up during these sultry summer months. Have you tried the magnet of a NEW LIBRARY? Perhaps you have no library at all—incredible as this may appear.

Why starve the minds of your scholars when abundance of the best of reading may be had cheaper than at any time in this world's history. Our shelves teem with the noblest of literature from the English presses, and a creditable list of books from our own.

We have prepared a complete new catalogue of these books, and of Sunday-school requisites in general, and want one of these catalogues placed in EVERY SUNDAY SCHOOL IN CANADA. We do not ask or expect every Sunday-school to buy its library of us. Some have their preferences for other houses; many prefer to buy through the local booksellers. Our books may be ordered through any bookseller. Do not fail to see our Catalogue before making up your order lists.

The Book Room is the acknowledged Emporium of Sunday-school Library Books. Our prices, discounts and terms

. . . . are all that could be desired

WRITE US FOR PARTICULARS

. . . JUST OUT . . .

A VETERAN OF 1812

THE LIFE OF JAMES FITZGIBBON

By Mary Agnes FitzGibbon.

CLOTH, ILLUSTRATED, $1.00.

THIS INTERESTING and valuable book gives us the life story of a man whose name is honoured in Canadian history—one of the bright galaxy of British officers who achieved fame in the war of 1812-14. At the close of the war he settled in Toronto, where he filled various civil and military offices, being for many years Clerk of the Legislative Assembly. His remarkable career is well told. The book is as much a history as a biography, and furnishes much interesting matter relative to the war before mentioned, and to the stirring times of the rebellion of 1837.

Portraits of FitzGibbon and Laura Secord, and a number of fine engravings of points of historic interest add to the attractiveness of the book. A handsome design for the cover, consisting of a drawing of FitzGibbon's two swords crossed, give the book a striking and elegant appearance. This is a book every Canadian boy should have the chance to read. He will read it with delight, and will learn lessons of manly independence, integrity, honesty and industry from its pages.

WILLIAM BRIGGS, - WESLEY BUILDINGS. - TORONTO, ONT.
C. W. COATES, Montreal, P.Q. S. F. HUESTIS, Halifax, N.S.