the semi-yearly examination of the Grammar and Common School pupils under the care of Mr. Freer, in the village of Renfrew, on Thursday last. From the manner in which the pupils acquitted themselves, it was evident that Mr. Freer, since his advent in Renfrew, had bestowed great care on their educational training. The examiners—the Revds. Messrs. Taylor, Thomson, and Lochead—expressed themselves highly satisfied with the pupils. It is to be regretted however, that the parents of the scholars do not take more interest in attending those do not take for interest of the write you, or I should have done so the bustle here.
