The Late Henry Lutz of Freeport Was a Native of the Township A Resume of the earlier years of his life

A further reference to the life of the late Mr. Henry Lutz of Freeport who passed away at the local hospital on Tuesday at the age of 91 years is given in this issue. The funeral it should be stated will be held at two o'clock on Friday afternoon from Lippert's undertaking rooms to Hagey's church. Preston. Interment will follow in the adjoining cemetery after the services.

Mr. Lutz was born just across the river from the present Wilkes Farm, where it borders on the Grand river, and he has lived in the district practically all his life.

Mr. Lutz was well-known among the builders and tradesmen of former days having worked with and been employed by such men as Henry Livergood, Anthony Krehn, Anthony Bernhardt, Archie Bryden, Peter It-ter, Philip Moogk, Jacob DeWitt, Lewis Kries, Scott and Murray (Galt) Samuel, Levi and Amos Wes-ver, formerly of this town and Peter Lamont, who was according to the words of Mr. Lutz "the first real boss I worked for."

Some Things He Accomplished Mr. Lutz was the man who erected the North American Hotel in Preston now the Kress House. He also was one of the men who assisted in the building of the present House of Refuge in 1867 the contractors to which were Pabst, Holler and Kries.

The senior member of this firm was Mr. Chr. Pabst of Hespeler, who for many years was a director of the Economic Insurance Company.
Michael Holler of Preston, the other partner has long since passed to the great beyond.

When the new parish house in connection with the Roman Catholic church at New Germany was built under a contract secured by Mr.
Peter Itter, Mr. Lutz had charge of the work in the absence of Mr. It-ter "Toney" Krehn was also on the force.

In this town, Mr. Lutz also worked on the Queen street mills now owned and operated by ex-Alderman Master. Mr. Reuben Bowman (deceased) was then a side kick of his.

In speaking of the olden days, Mr.
Lutz used to refer to his work in Galt where he assisted in the erection of Knox church, Archie Bryden was the foreman for Mr. Lewis Kries of Hespeler who had the contract. Charles Moogk now of Waterloo was also on the staff. It was Mr. Lutz who cut and fitted and put up the fine pulpit on "Old Knox" It is constructed of black walnut is all hand work, and stands today as it was first put up by him.

Some of His Old Acquaintances

Among Mr. Lutz's old schoolmate chums were Rev. Jacob N. Bowman and Rev. L.L. Bowman a member of the teaching staff of St. B.
College at Freeport at that time.
Rev. Jacob Bowman was the great "marrying preacher" in the early days, his home being visited by hundreds of victims of Little Cupid's arrow. He was the father of Mr. A.
O. Bowman of the custom house staff.
Mr. H.B. Bowman of Church street, the well known literateur is a son of Rev. L.L. Bowman.

Others of his friends were Daniel and Elias Snider and Hubbard Corvell Moses Springer all of whom have passed away.

Of those still living who learned their A.B.C.'s with Mr. Lutz are David Moses and Noah Betzner and a number of others who used to still come to his mind.

Among the school teachers of the district where he attended school where Ben Burkholder, who taught at Centerville after having been at Waterloo college; Abram Speicher who was such an excellent teachers that the Messrs. Erb engaged him to teach the school at Preston. Mr.
Lutz remembers him very well. Two of his fingers on his right hand were missing and he wrote with the other two and the thumb.

Mr. Lutz also recalled the cholera scourge of the "thirties" and can speak with interest of the underground railway of the "Civil War." Times which were used to assist slaves to escape from the United States.

Some Legal Papers Drawn Up Early in the "fifties" he had occasion to have some legal documents drawn up and went to Mr. Ward H.
Bowby who had shortly before located here. The other man in the deal was Henry Freeman, who like Mr. Bowby had come here from Waterford, Mr. Lutz was one of Mr.

Bowby's first clients.

Speaking of it of old time carpenter days Mr. Lutz found some satisfaction to know that of all the bosses I worked for in all my life, I was never discharged for inefficiency or anything of that sort."

RUTH LAW, HOWEVER, IN-TENDS TO BE PROTECTED

BY SHIP STATIONS
CHICAGO, May 27.—"What men try to do that a woman will do." Ruth Law, aviator, is going to climb into a brand new Currier plane next month and show 'em how to hop across the pond.
She said so at noon today when she stepped from the Overland Limited at the Chicago Northwestern station.

"How about the rumor that you are going to try to fly across the Atlantic, Miss Law?" she was asked.
"Don't give me away," she laughed. "Yes, I am going to show those men a few things, oh say, in about a month. Cleve Curtis the airplane manufacturer, out on Long Island, you know, is building a peach of a machine for me.
I am going to New York this evening to talk over the plans for my flight with him."

She was asked if she were afraid to attempt the flight across the ocean in a land machine, seeing that Hawker failed after 1,000 miles out.

"Goodness no," she burst out, stamping a brown boot emphatically on the station platform. "I'm not a bit afraid, take my word for it.
I don't intend to commit suicide.
There will be plenty of boats out there. Hawker and Grieve were picked up, weren't they? But I am not going to be picked up in the sea. No, sir, I am going to fly straight across and not get my feet wet."

Applications Received in Large Numbers at Sarnia

SARNIA, May 27.—Though the fact that various plans, which have to be submitted to the directors of municipal housing commission from their ward, are causing a certain amount of delay in starting the construction of houses under the new housing scheme, Mayor Nisbet states that work on residences will soon begin. The applications have come in great numbers and a noticeably large number of the applicants have preferred their own plans to the more standardized sets of plans which have been passed by the local commission. While this causes a certain amount of delay, the commission feel that results justify it.

Council of Four Confirms Action of Economic Commission

PARIS, May 27.—The council of four yesterday's session ratified the decision of the supreme economic council that the blockade of Hungary should be maintained until a Government, based on the expression of the free popular will, had been formed in that country.

In Paris dispatch last night it was erroneously stated that the council of four had decided to maintain the blockade of Germany until a regular Government, based on a free and popular mandate, was set up.
The dispatch in question referred to the decision regarding Hungary.
