

NEWS AND NOTES.

OTHER sins are against God's law, but pride is against God's sovereignty! Pride not only withdraws the heart from God, but lifts it up against God.—Anton.

PRAYER is much more valuable from the heart than from the lips, for God does not pay attention to the sound of the words, but to the intention of the heart. The silence of a fervent heart prays with much more success than the best chosen words.—S. Isidore.

A Text Book of Instructions on the Doctrines, Usages and History of the Church as suggested by the Liturgy. By the Rev. Nelson R. Boss, M.A., 16 mo, stiff paper covers, 20c. net. Same publisher.

The design of the work is threefold: (1) To furnish concise and ready answers to the popular objections so commonly raised against the Church and her services by those not familiar with her ways; (2) To bring out clearly and concisely some of the principles of historic Christianity which distinguish the Episcopal Church from all other religious bodies; and (3) To convey in the briefest space, information on the history, doctrines and usages of the Church which every layman, and especially every teacher ought to have.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND TEACHING.

By the Very Rev. Jas. Carmichael, D. C. L., Dean of Montreal. Paper 10c. Drysdale & Co., Montreal.

The Tract was written to meet the need of the many persons drifting into the Church from other Christian bodies, without a clear realization of the great landmarks of Her distinctive teaching. It condenses into a small and readable space what every one professing to belong to the Church of England should naturally realize and understand.

JOHN BUNYAN.

This new and large edition of this popular book, written by John Bunyan, contains both parts of the allegory, complete and unabridged, printed with large, new type. It is in colored enamel paper cover, with lettering in gold, giving a rich and elegant appearance. Bunyan is acknowledged as the most popular religious writer in the English language. It is said that more copies of "Pilgrim's Progress" have been sold than any other book except the Bible. Of Bunyan, Lord Macaulay has written: "This is the highest miracle of genius, that the imaginations of one mind should become the possession of the hearts of another; and this miracle the thinker has wrought. There is no ascent, no deity, no resting place, no turning-point, with which we are not perfectly acquainted." This is well said; and it is true. The "Pilgrim's Progress" is one of the best known books of human origin. It is a household book. Men love to retrace the steps of this journey, to revisit the familiar scenes of the wondrous pilgrimage and to live over again the experiences of the pilgrim. The Deceiver rests himself in his dreary prison-house, and as he sleeps, he sees the outline of a Vision. And whether it be in his sleeping or his waking moments, his face that Heaven hath somehow drawn aside the veil and revealed these grand and glorious sights which reach so near to the things that "eye hath not seen," permitting this far-sighted man to look "through golden vistas into Heaven." The opening of the Vision presents in bold relief the future hero of the allegory—a burdened man, clothed with rags, weeping because of the threatened woe pronounced by the Book that is in his hand. He dwells in the City of Destruction. He reveals his sorrows and anxieties to his wife and family, but finds no sympathy there; and, failing to obtain companionship on the heavenward road, he starts alone upon this spiritual journey. This new edition is now offered for the first time and is sure to please.
