SPAIN.

Adverses from Spain state (writes the Daily News) that there is more distress throughout the country than at any previous times during the last half century. From Old Castille, always regarded as the nursery of Spain thousands, it is said, are flocking to the adjoining provinces in search of labour and food, and the streets of the chief central cities and towns of the capital itself are crowded with an influx of people imploring aid for themselves and their families. A general opinion seems prevalent that the Spaniards cannot remain in their present condition. Hunger, it is remarked, 'is the most powerful ally of revolutionists, and the people, overburdened with taxes they cannot pay, and pressed by sheer want to be tentidly induced to ascribe their sufferings to present Government.'

CONSECRATION OF RIGHT REV. T. MULLEN, BISHOP OF ERIS.—A ceremonial of great solemnity, and one of the most important of the month of episcopal consecration, took place yesterday (Sunday, August 24) at St. Paul's Cathedral, in this city—the consecration of the bishop in the Church. The Bishop elect was Rev. E. T. Mullen, formerly pastor of St. Peter's Church, Montgomery. The appointment of Rev. Mr. Mullen as Bishop of the diocese of Erie, was made some months since, and the appointment met universal approval. The services yesterday commenced at half past ten o'clock and continued until two. Right Rev. Bishop Domenech officiated as Consecrator, assisted by Rt. Rev. Bishop Wood of Philadelphia, and Rev. Bishop Rappe, of Cleveland. The Deacons of honor on the occasion were Rev. E. T. Garland, of this city, and Very Rev. Siebel, of Allegheny. The Deacon of the Mass was Rev. M. F. Devlin, assisted by Rev. J. Nolan as Sub-Deacon. Rev. P. Ford was Master of Ceremonies, and Rev. T.

A MYSTERIOUS CAVERN IN TENNESSEE AND ITS CON-TENTS. — A gentleman from the neighborhood of Marriage, Tenn., gives us some particulars connected with the recent discovery of a robbers' cave on a river bank, a few miles distant from that place, which were not hitherto been published. He says the discovery was first made by a party of small boys, who were bathing or fishing on the banks of the River opposite the cave. Their attention was attracted by seeing baskets lowered by means of ropes from the rocks above. When they observed this, the children concealed themselves and patiently watched for further developments. The baskets continued to ascend and descend, and finally, when night was nearly coming, a suspicious looking man came out of the cave, got into one of the baskets, and was drawn to the top of the precipice. That night the boys imparted the information to men in the neighborhood, and early the next morning the place was besieged by persons anxious to learn something further about this extraordinary place.
Some of these persons were armed and ready for any sort of wild adventure. Upon removing a pile of logs a large opening was discovered, and into this place a party of men at once ventured to go, while others remained outside on watch. Those who went in found that the opening led into an immense cave, of the existence of which nothing was previously known by honest people in that locality. This cavern the men explored but a short distance until they came to a point which had evidently been used as a human habitation, and horrible as it may seem, was still the home of a human creature. After finding a few articles of clothing, some washing utensils, a couple of old bed quilts, a mattress, and three or four old guns, they were startled by the groans of human voice coming from a dark recess in the cavern.
The men, determined upon sifting the mystery to the very bottom, went with a light in the direction of the sound, and who can imagine their horror upon finding the emaciated and almost lifeless form of a man, stretched upon a heap of straw, and securely bound with ropes. He was immediately taken from his terrible prison house, and conveyed to the residence of Mr. Oren Loag, three miles distant from the cave where he was at once provided with medical attention and the necessaries his condition required.
Yet it has not been possible to get from him the full secret of his grave like prison house. He speaks but little, and appears to be either unable or unwilling to give any further account than is above furnished. Other developments are anxiously looked for, and when received will be speedily laid before our readers. — (Nashville Gazette, July 25th.)

There are some men whose purposes are so very significant that it may be permitted them to attempt anything.

DEAR SIR,--When I began using BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA, I had been for nine months suffering with Rheumatism, and had completely lost the use of my legs, being unable to walk during four months out of the nine. The first bottle of Bristol's Sarsaparilla gave me great relief, and before I had finished seven bottles I was entirely free from pain, and able to walk as well as I ever could. You will confer a favor on many by making these facts public which I shall be glad to confirm.

Very respectfully yours

THOMAS QUELLIAN.

SICK READER, YOU ARE INVITED to follow in the footsteps of the great multitudes who have found relief, when they had almost ceased to hope for it, in BRISTOL'S SUGAR COATED PILLS. The scope of their remedial operation is wide. Not only do they produce the most beneficial effects in all the commonest diseases of the stomach, the liver, and the bowels, but in a great number of contingent complaints. In spasms and fits of every description they are considered by medical men of eminence, as well as by the non-professional, the most thorough of all remedies. They renovate the general system, while they greatly relax the bowels, and hence, in cases of physical prostration whether arising from age, a weak constitution, or a specific ailment, they are invaluable. In all cases arising from or aggravated by impure blood, or humors, Bristol's Sarsaparilla could be used in connection with the PILLS.

MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER. — All the best perfumes are obtained from tropical flowers, and of these essences of the Aromatic Flora of the tropics, this is one of the most permanent, pure and delicious. It imparts to the breath a pleasant fragrance, when used to rinse the mouth at the morning toilet, and neutralizes the taint of the cigar, — gentlemen who, in spite of the present passion for razors, have still a prejudice in favor of the razor, will find that this delightful toilet water exempts them from the usual penalty of shaving — smarting and tenderness of the abraded chin.
