Presidential Race

Candidates Issue Manifestos

Election manifestos for the three candidates for the SRC presidency have been released to The Brunswickan by the campaign committees.

The three candidates are: Richard Alexander, 23, third year arts, from East Riverside, N.B. Ted Boswell, 22, fourth year forestry, from Brantford, Ont. Arthur VanWart, 20, third year arts, from Fredericton.

Richard Alexander

Anneke Deichmann, second year arts, member of the campaign committee, issued the following statement on behalf of the candidate: "A voice for all is what Richard Alexander offers to UNB students if they vote him in as SRC president. He justly prides himself in not belonging to any particular clique or having the interests of any one group ahead of any other. He is outspoken and fond of creative discussion which is apparent from the fact that three of his courses this year are in philosophy. His other academic activities include creative writing.

"Dick is 23, and a native New-Brunswicker. He graduated from Rothesay Collegiate School, and before he came to college, served in the Canadian army and worked in a bank. Those who know Dick feel that he will bring a fresh, uninfluenced attitude to the SRC, and will manage its affairs with efficiency and effectiveness. "If this is what you want—then vote Alexander tomorrow."

Ted Boswell

Ian Collins, fourth year arts, co-chairman of the campaign committee, issued the following statement on behalf of Mr. Boswell: "Every few years a man possessing exceptional qualifications is nominated for the job of SRC President. A man taught by experience—broad in outlook—and enthusiastic by nature. This year we have a case in point. The man is Ted Boswell.

"He can stand on fact to support his campaign. He can choose from a long list of organizations with which he has been connected, for recommendations as to his qualifications. Not just one or two groups, but many, many organizations. Furthermore these are campus organizations — organizations with which we are all familiar—not groups that he belonged to prior to his entrance to UNB.

"Possibly one of his most important duties on campus has been the office of SRC Vice-President. After two years of previous SRC experience he was considered fully capable of fulfilling his obligations in the office. This he did—expertly—smoothly—persistently. Because of this Council experience Ted Boswell knows better than any other nominee how the SRC operates. "This is not the only responsible position that Ted has held during his four years of study in the Forestry faculty. He has been on the Forestry Association Executive for two years. He has been in Model Parliament and the Red and Black, and also on the committee that initiated Winter Carnival four years ago.

"One other factor that assumes great importance is that Ted has been a member of both the Athletic Board and the Athletic Association. He is well acquainted with the operation of these organizations. A keen participation in athletics or a knowledge of the workings of these associations are essentials in the list of qualifications for President.

"Can anyone match Ted Boswell's qualifications in terms of experience, enthusiasm or success? He has proven without a doubt that he is capable of doing any job that he attempts—and capable of doing it to perfection.

"In this article no attempt has been made to falsify or distort. These are no slyly phrased innuendos. These are facts. Students as a rule respect an honest presentation of the facts. We respectfully ask that you support Ted Boswell for SRC President."

Arthur VanWart

Bill Stanley, second year electrical engineering, member of the campaign committee, released the following comment to The Brunswickan on behalf of Mr. VanWart: "During his three years at UNB, Arthur VanWart has taken part in a wide variety of campus activities.

"In the athletic field, Arthur played junior varsity basketball and participated in the intramural hockey, basketball and softball leagues. Non-athletically, he was one of the original members of the UNB Chess Club, worked on the program committee of the Arts Society, and acted both years in the Winter Carnival musical comedy. He is also president of the Pre-Med Club and was an SRC representative for a year.

"Besides this, taking pre-med in arts has enabled him to enjoy a broad study course. We feel this has given Art the opportunity to meet a wide variety of people and has given him a good understanding of the average student.

"For the past five summers Arthur has held responsible leadership positions with the YMCA in Halifax, Fredericton and Toronto. He feels that this will be an asset in shouldering the responsibilities of the SRC presidency because, as he puts it: "There is no responsibility greater than human life. On the campus last fall, Art took the responsibility of getting 500 people to give blood.

"The sincerity and seriousness which Arthur showed during these activities has prompted us to back him in his campaign for President of the SRC.

"We feel that with his year of experience on the SRC, his leadership ability, his drive, his sincerity, and his maturity, that he is the best man for the job."

The Last Straw

The women are finally wearing the pants! We knew this would come sooner or later. May the male sex rest in peace!

Recently the UNB campus has been flooded with these latter-day suffragettes dressed in pants. That's right; pants, not panties—slacks to be precise.

Can't the women leave the field of male superiority alone? Admittedly, the girls need something warmer than leotards in this type of weather, but have woolies gone out of style? Even the new craze of leotards is a subtle, subversive way of putting on the pants.

This new direction of civilization is indicative of our disintegration. As professor Toynbee would put it, the creative minority has now become the dominant minority. Women are now no longer women: they are shapely men!

Men, are you going to stand idle while you are relegated to the position of the weaker sex?

Male students of the campus, unite, you have nothing to lose but your girlfriends.—P.C.K.

Model Parliament Set March 6-7

Three Campus Parties Seek Students' Support

The composition of this year's Model Parliament will be decided tomorrow. Balloting will take place in connection with the annual SRC election. The Parliament is set for March 6-7.

The parties are campaigning on the basis of platforms announced last week. The platforms are printed below, with the parties listed in order of the number of seats held in last year's Parliament.

Progressive Conservatives

The platform of the Progressive Conservative Club was released by Dick Steeves, the party leader. It follows:

The Progressive Conservative Club favors:

1. That the Federal Government purchase the Avro Arrow to equip all NATO and home squadrons of the Royal Canadian Air Force.
2. Prizes to be offered to engineers and architects for designs to be kept on a moving shelf of public works projects.
3. A grant to support financially Canadian athletic teams and individuals chosen to represent Canada in international amateur competitions, to be completely administered by the Canadian Olympic Association.
4. A grant to the Canada Council, the interest on which would afford undergraduate scholarships to be administered by the various universities along the lines of the present post-graduate scholarships.
5. Compulsory sex education.
6. The raising of the basic income tax exemption for university students to $2,000.
7. (The clause that refreshes) The recognition of Chesterfield Rugby as the national sport of Canada.

Liberals

Joan Proudfoot, party leader, announced the platform of the Liberal Club. Here is the text:

- UNB Liberal Club advocates:
1. Employment: We advocate that a division of the National Employment Service be set up to provide summer employment for every university student in Canada.
 2. National Defence: We advocate (a) that Canada's nine RCAF fighter squadrons be equipped with the Avro Arrow CF-105. (b) that the Canadian Army be supplied with transport aircraft for the swift deployment of troops in the event of international crises. (c) that the Royal Canadian Navy be provided with atomic anti-sub submarines.
 3. Education: We advocate that free tuition shall be granted to deserving university students.

Christian Atheists

The platform of the Christian Atheists was released by Terry McCluskey, the party leader. The

1. MARITIME RELIEF: Maritime producers should be compensated for all their products which are not consumed by Maritimers. The people affected would primarily be fishermen, but would also include farmers, coal miners, student journalists, and others.

2. CBM: The Canadian Board of Mating, by co-operation with the CBC, CNR, Bank of Canada, and other national organizations, will offer valuable government assistance to the mating of potential wives who cannot find males. This Board is needed because each year more females are born and fewer die in relation to males, thus creating a surplus of potential "Mothers of Canada".

3. REDUCTION OF ARMED FORCES: We, the Christian Atheist Party, propose to introduce legislation aimed to drastically restrict and reduce the number of the male citizens enrolled in the armed services of the country, said legislation being in harmony with our platform of encouraging peaceful relations among the countries of the world.

4. NEW CANADIAN FLAG: We feel that to have a truly unified country we need a distinctively Canadian Flag. We are not anti-British or anti-Commonwealth, but Pro-Canadian and Pro-Commonwealth.

5. A COMMON LANGUAGE—IROQUOIS: As a basis for an all-Canadian linguistic exchange in the House of Commons and to eliminate the confusion of bilingualism, a return to Canada's first diplomatic tongue is advocated. All MPs would be required to learn the Iroquois language no later than the next session of the House.

Treasurer's Job Sought By Two

Two sophomore business administration students are competing tomorrow for the post of SRC treasurer. They are:

Ed Daughney, 18, from Halifax, and Roy Davis, 17, from Saint John.

Ed Daughney's campaign manager, Barry Yoell, third year arts, has issued the following statement:

"Ed Daughney is in his second year of business administration, being a member of the Pass Math 100 Club—of which he is not the treasurer, thus denying him the privilege of an extra reference. However, he has had experience in the past as a treasurer of the Hi-Y during his high school days in Halifax, where he managed the financing of a student directory. He took his position seriously and handled it capably, as he would do with the job of SRC Treasurer, should he be elected.

"Ed is a member of the University Naval Training Division which he joined in his freshman year. In the navy, he has learned the true meaning of "dependability" and "respect"—two important qualities in one who is to represent a group. "Ed is a determined worker, who is willing to accept responsibilities. I am sure he could do the job well and I am equally convinced that you would make no mistake by placing your VOTE FOR DAUGHNEY."

Roy Davis, Don Redstone, third year business, campaign manager for Mr. Davis, has released the following statement

"Roy D. Davis is a second-year business administration student. He is assistant business manager of The Brunswickan for the current
