

Entertainment

A Feature
by Roger Doris

Dancer is the name of this five piece group currently entertaining patrons of the Red Knight Lounge in the lower level of the Red Knight Tavern in Streetsville. This group is very popular with local club goers.

An Evening Out with Roger Doris

There has always been a saying that "far away fields look greener" and after watching some of the entertainment in the local clubs, I firmly believe that many of the owners have been fooled into believing this tale.

Many clubs have gone out of the way to bring in groups from the United States and other parts of the world to entertain their patrons. Many of the groups turned out to be much worse than many of the good local groups that find it difficult to find work locally.

The Locomotion Restaurant and Tavern on Eglinton Ave., just west of Dixie Rd. is one club that learned from its mistakes and have changed their method of hiring groups.

Disco groups had been used previously at the Locomotion from all parts of the country and the United States.

Conversation with their patrons and a decline in business taught them that they might be doing something wrong.

They hired some of the best local rock and roll groups available and have turned things around completely. Business is on the rise and many of the patrons have complimented them on the entertainment.

It just goes to prove how good things really are in our own back yard.

Appearing this week at the Locomotion is a Mississauga group known as Hot Flux. The quartet is made up of three guys and a gal and is popular with the young crowd.

The Valhalla Inn has opened its New Mermaid Lounge in their Etobicoke Inn.
