

Community new president a surprise

By JOHN STEWART
Times Staff Writer

Larry Caroll of Benedet Drive went to the Park Royal Community Association's annual meeting last week to express his views on certain issues and generally find out exactly what was happening in his community.

When he left the meeting, Caroll was president of the group.

"I had no intention of standing for election," says the surprised president. "I expressed my view on a couple of points during the meeting. Then someone nominated me for president and before I knew it, I was elected."

Caroll didn't even know there was a ratepayers' association in the area when he first moved in, about a year ago.

But in the short time he's lived in the community he's already noticed some prominent community problems, especially the heavy traffic on Benedet Drive and Truscott Drive.

He fears that the new Clearview community in Oakville, just west of Winston Churchill Boulevard will aggravate those existing problems even more.

Another key issue in the association is the pursuit of legal action against the city of Mississauga and region of Peel as a result of flooded basements last year on Lewisham Drive and Wiseman Court.

The lawyer representing the homeowners told the association at the annual meeting that two new reports prepared by consultants for Mississauga and Peel strengthen the citizens' case. The reports show that sanitary and storm sewers were interconnected throughout Park Royal, apparently with the knowledge of the city's plumbing inspectors.

Elected to the executive along with Caroll were past president Roy Tate, first vice-president John Williamson, second vice-president Nikolaus Jaeger, third vice-president Rudy Ferrill, treasurer Pat Huson, corresponding secretary Sharon Monti, recording secretary Marguerite Heuft and membership chairman Ray Crawford.

80 years young

Lucy Cooper's 80th birthday was one of the happiest days of her life as friends and family attended an open house in Clarkson in her honor. Two of her great-grandchildren, David and Stacey Eichenberger, share a quiet moment. A birthday card from Tommy Hunter highlighted her day. Lucy says she's lived in Mississauga as long as she can remember and remembers bringing home the cows along Dundas between Cawthra and Dixie Roads. She now resides in Port Credit.

New angle on parking on Hiawatha Parkway

Parking meters will be introduced for angle parking on both sides of Hiawatha Parkway south of Lakeshore Road in Port Credit.

City engineer William Taylor has recommended the change after receiving a request from city councillor Frank Leavers. The councillor had passed along concerns from businessmen who wanted metered parking to increase the turnover of cars, and therefore of potential customers, on Hiawatha Parkway.

Parking will cost five cents for half an hour and 10 cents for an hour. There is a two-hour parking limit between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday to Saturday.
