Dear Sirs:

I know very well the bearer of this letter, Mr. John George Black. His father W. J. Black, was for many years head of the Soldiers' Settlement Board and Deputy Minister of Immigration, and subsequently high in the service of the Canadian National Railways.

(7) This young man is intelligent, capable and creditable in every way, and I can think of no untrained man more qualified for war service involving responsibility.

Yours very truly,

AM/E.

Arthur Meighen.
