

Now wish to recommend to the Advisory Council that a National Convention be called to meet in the summer to chart a new course for the Liberal party and to select a new captain.

If spared, will have served as leader for 29 years and as Prime Minister for 21, and feel time place given to a younger man.

No thought of deserting ship - hope and plan to be one/^{of}the crew - and not a passenger - for some years yet.

Believe that experience may continue to be of benefit to our country - and, perhaps, of greater benefit if relieved of the burdens of day-to-day responsibility.

Pride that Canada the one country where a party Liberal both in name and in fact remains in the ascendant -- believe not unconnected with our happy position in the world to-day.
