A little girl, evidently not used to English modes of worship, was sitting in the choir, when she saw through an open door the minister putting on his white surplice. She at once exclaimed, "Why, he is getting ready to go to bed." The choir was convulsed with laughter and it was some time before the minister could recover himself sufficiently to proceed with the service.

CRESCEUS FAILED.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—Cresceus, the king of trotters, to-day failed to low-er hit record of 2.02 1-4, made at Columbus on August 2, in a trial-on the Belmont Driving Park course. The great son of Robert McGregor stepped the mile in 2.04 1-2 without a skip and thereby reduced the track record of 2.08 3-4, made by Alix on November 7, 1894. Everything was conducive to fine time. The track was lightning fast and there was not enough breeze to interfere with the great trotter. There were nearly 8,000 people present. It was 4.20 when 000 people present. McKINLEY'S GOLD.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 26. — Of especial interest at the present time is the exhibit of ore from the mines owned by Mrs. McKinley, that was placed on exhibition in the Nevada section of the Mines building yesterday.

"This ore was shipped before the President was shot, and has been on the way during all the sad events of the past few weeks," said Commissioner Yerrington, of Nevada. "The ore is of interest, not only because of its distinguished owner, but because of its richness, containing $100 gold to the ton."

The mines are situated in Ely, Nev.,

The mines are situated in Ely, Nev., and are known as the Saxton Mines. They are owned jointly by Mrs. Mc-Kinley and Mrs. Barber. It was only recently that Mrs. McKinley learned that the mines belonged to her. They were formerly the property of her father.
