LONDON VICTORY WAS DECISIVE

East Middlesex Also Gave Unionist Victory—Duncan Ross in West

London, Ont. Dec. 17.—London and East Middlesex swung to Union Government most decisively. Major Hume, Cronyn won by 1,690 majority in the city, one of the largest ever obtained here, defeating Mr. George S. Gibbons, U.P. Liberal-Labor nominee. The total vote polled was 14,786, an abnormally large figure for London, the respective votes being: Cronyn's 8,238; Gibbons 6,548. Major Cronyn's victory was celebrated by the victors, while the defeated ones took consolation in the fact that they had fought a clean, though vigorous campaign.

The return of Mr. S. F. Glass as member for East Middlesex occasioned less surprise than the election of the city representative, as his opponent, Mr. J. M. Ross of Lucan was not so well known, having been in the field only a few months. It is surmised that a large percentage of the woman vote went to the Union Government. The Conservative majority in 1911 was 994, but besides the woman vote this time there was a large addition to the suburban population.

The majorities to-day were:—For Glass—London township, 366; West Nissouri, 61; North Dorchester, 132;

Biddulph, 177; Lucan, 60; city of London annex, 374.

For Ross—Westminster, 163. Net majority for Glass, 1,007.

Mr. George Elliott, ex-M.P., Unionist, for the former riding of North Middlesex, ran against Mr. Duncan Ross of West Middlesex, the latter winning by about 700 majority.

LEAGUES ENTERTAINED

In place of the regular league meeting at Colborne St. Church last evening a social evening was held, at which the young people of Elm Avenue and Marlboro Leagues were the guests. The first part of the evening was spent in games, while Misses Church and Harris provided splendid music. Mr. Harold Vansickle then favored the gathering with a violin solo, and Mr. Theo. Hamilton sang a solo. Miss Neva Smith and Rev. C. F. Logan gave readings, which were greatly enjoyed by all. During lunch Miss A. Crooker played a very pleasing solo.

THE REX.

Replete with mirth, laughter and life, the snappy miniature musical comedy presented at this theatre by "The Breeze Girls" last night scored a decided success. "Patsy the Bell Boy" is an original comedy with catchy music, some mirth-provoking features and a good chorus. Valeska Suratt, vampire de luxe, is cast into advantage in the role which she assumes in "The New York Peacock." The play is one depicting life in high society and the treacherous wiles upon which the vampire depends for existence in the great metropolis. Another installment of the Stingaree series and a Fox film comedy are also playing numbers of the early week program.

"THE LILAC DOMINO"

That tuneful musical comedy success of fun, frolic and fashion "The Lilac Domino," which delighted New York, Boston, Chicago and all the principal cities of America for long engagements has been secured by the local management for Christmas Day two performances at the Grand Opera House commencing at 2.30 and 8.15.

The company numbering over half a hundred is guaranteed by the management to be the only and original company and the same identical organization that has appeared in the leading high class theatres of the principal cities for extended engagements. The musical score is too difficult to be sung by inferior artists or played by any but the most talented musicians and the cast contains the names of more high salaried artists than have probably ever been heard here at any one time. The entire massive scene and electrical effects are carried out which were all built in London, England at the Gaiety Theatre. "The Lilac Domino" is undoubtedly the most pronounced musical success on tour and the few Canadian cities visited are extremely fortunate in securing this delightful success of all Europe and America. The orchestra will be augmented to that of twice its natural size by musicians carried by the company to properly interpret the delightful score of Charles Cuvillier's.
