WOODWORTH WEDDED

Romance Starting Ten Years Ago Happily Consummated at Calgary.

MARRIAGE TAKING PLACE IN PULMAN

A Pretty Story With Most Happy Sequel.

THEY ARE AT VANCOUVER

And Will Leave For Dawson on the Next Steamer—Woodworth Not a Quitter.

Vancouver, Jan. 31.—A romantic marriage was consummated in a Pullman car a few days since between Charles M. Woodworth, barrister, of Dawson, and Miss Alberta Beatrice Hart. Ten years ago Woodworth, then a young student at law, was on a pedestrian tour of Cape Breton. The day was sultry and the young man was weary. Coming to a farm house with closed blinds and ample shade trees, he was possessed by an impulse which he now considers was an inspiration. He walked up and knocked at the door. A pretty little girl ten years of age responded and brought refreshments to the tired traveler. The young man never forgot the girl, and last Sunday the romance which he had carried in his heart for a decade, found its sequel at Calgary, where Woodworth and Miss Alberta Beatrice Hart were married in a Pullman car. Two months ago Woodworth passed through Calgary, and the young woman of his choice refused then to accompany him north, and the wedding was postponed indefinitely. Then Woodworth went to Edmonton on business and thence to Eastern Canada. He was just starting west again when he received a telegram from the young girl indicating that she would go to Dawson City or anywhere else with him, the only limit being to the ends of the earth. So the young lawyer hurried westward. He had no stop-over privileges and wired a Calgary clergyman, who with the bride-to-be awaited the overland on the station platform. The ceremony was speedily performed on the train, to the enthusiastic delight of the other Pullman passengers, and Woodworth's lonely trip was transformed into the happiest of wedding journeys. They are now in Vancouver, but leave for Dawson on the next steamer.

HOW MR. CONGDON CHANGED HIS MIND

He Suddenly Discovers That Dr. Thompson Is Properly Qualified to Run for the Office of Mayor and His Organ, the Sun, Switches to the Same Views—The Campaign Has Developed Into a Fight of the Field Against Macaulay With the Odds in Favor of Macaulay—The Citizens' Ticket Is United While the Opposition Is Split.

The plan of campaign which the opponents of the Citizens' Ticket will follow has now been thoroughly outlined. It is the field against Macaulay, and the odds are already in favor of the latter.

The Macdonald-Thompson supporters have been driven into line to attack Macaulay and now are vying with each other in a desperate effort to see which can out do the other in the manufacture of slander and abuse.

From the turn which events have taken within the past 24 hours it would not be surprising if one of the two opposition candidates should be withdrawn before the day of election arrives and endeavor to swing his strength into line for the other.

To the great chagrin and disappointment of the Macdonald supporters the candidacy of that gentleman has only served to effect a split in the support of Dr. Thompson and has not withdrawn a single man from the Citizens' Committee. The Macdonald men have hoped all along that Charley's name would prove an irresistible spell binder, which would draw all men to it, but in figuring in that manner they failed to reckon with the intelligence of the electors of this community. The people are now engaged in giving the situation their most serious consideration, and the more thought they devote to the matters the more clearly does it dawn upon them that Mr. Macaulay and the Citizens' Ticket present the only logical means of solving the complicated position which presents itself before them.

The electors of this city are not to be carried off their feet by high sounding platitudes or glittering generalities. They realize that a business proposition is before the community and as sensible men they propose to settle it in a businesslike manner.

The campaign of the Citizens' Ticket will be clean and above board and there will be no dirt flung unless it becomes necessary to do so in self-defense.

The manner of campaign which the opposition propose to wage is well demonstrated by the article which appeared in the Sun this morning in connection with the qualifications of Dr. Thompson.

The first man to raise a doubt as to the legality of Mr. Thompson's qualifications was Mr. F. T. Congdon, who is directing Mr. Macdonald to certain defeat.

It was nearly a week ago that Mr. Congdon mentioned the matter to a member of the Citizens' Committee, to whom he stated that he had no doubt that Dr. Thompson had not properly qualified. He stated on the same occasion that he had investigated the matter personally and had reached the conclusion that Dr. Thompson and Messrs. Gray and McKim were in the same boat and none were properly qualified to stand for the various offices they sought.

Mr. Congdon's view of the matter was echoed in the columns of the Sun for two days, and by that paper every possible means was taken to cast doubt upon the qualifications of Dr. Thompson.

Mr. Congdon during the past two days has experienced a distinct change of heart. Yesterday he held a consultation with Attorney Black on the subject and after the conclusion of the consultation he drafted the following letter:

George Black, Barrister, Etc.—Dear Sir: Since meeting you last night I have gone as carefully as possible into the question of the qualifications of Dr. Thompson to fill the office of mayor of the city of Dawson and he is duly qualified.

With the concurrence of Mr. Macdonald and of the committee of the People's party, I beg to notify you of my conclusions in the matter and to advise you that you are at liberty to make whatever use you see fit of my humble opinion. I am your very truly, FRED T. CONGDON.

In conformity with Mr. Congdon's change of base the Sun promptly altered its tune this morning and endeavored to place the responsibility for questioning the candidacy of Dr. Thompson upon the Citizens' Committee. The facts in the case are all to the contrary, as the public well understands, and a detailed denial is not necessary.

Mr. Macaulay's supporters have made no effort to get Dr. Thompson out of the field, and the only talk in that connection has come from the Macdonald men.

This is another campaign roarback nailed and its evil effect thrown back upon those who originated it.

The cry now with the Macdonald men is anything to beat Macaulay. But that cry has been sounded too late. The Citizens' Committee without a single desertion from the ranks is standing solidly behind the ticket. Not a man has left his post and the strength which Mr. Macdonald has today is drawn almost entirely from the old Kid Committee.

The split has been in the ranks of the Kids and not in the Citizens' Committee, every member of which is fighting tooth and nail for the ticket, the success of which means good government, with honesty, efficiency and economy in every department of the public service.

The dead are John McFadden, Mary Kinkead and Conductor Robt. Thrush.

A New Challenger

London, Jan. 31.—William Fife, of Fairlie, on the Clyde, is to build Sir Thomas Lipton's next challenger for the America Cup. At a conference just held between Sir Thomas and his advisers, definite arrangements were made for the construction of Shamrock III, and an order for the new yacht was given to and accepted by Mr. Fife.

In view of the probability of a big revival of British yachting, and the fact that designing and superintending a cup challenger necessitates constant work for at least a year, Mr. Fife was somewhat disinclined to accept the big job, but Sir Thomas found means of overcoming his objections. Watson has promised to assist Mr. Fife in every way by handing over to him the details of the construction of Shamrock II, and all the calculations and details of tank experiments made at the Dennis's yard. With the experience gained with Shamrock I, Mr. Fife starts with a distinct advantage over his first efforts.

In a recent conversation with a friend, Mr. Watson indicated that he still believed Columbia's victory over Shamrock II was largely due to luck and that he believed Shamrock II was quite Columbia's equal.

Mr. Fife is already collecting material and will commence designing Shamrock III as soon as the boat is now on hand for the next British yachting season are fairly started, which probably will be at the end of this month. Shamrock III is to be ready early in the spring of 1903.

MUST BE CAPTURED

Before Hanging Can be Successfully Carried Out. South Bend, Wash., Jan. 15.—Lum You, the escaped Chinese murderer of Oscar Bloom, was seen this noon in the woods back of South Bend by a boy who was hunting for a strayed cow. Lum was sitting by a fire and had a blanket and a tin bucket full of food with him. The boy recognized Lum and ran back to the city to give the alarm. The Chinese evidently divined his purpose and disappeared in the woods. Scouting parties are now out beating the brush and all roads are closely guarded, so that if he is not found he will be starved out in a short time. Sheriff Rogers regards the Chinese as good as captured unless he should die in the woods from exposure. The country between here and the bay is an impassable wilderness, with but few settlers, and they would not be disposed to help him.

He left behind at the camp fire his coat, blanket and the bucket and food, and they are in the sheriff's hands. The blanket came from the jail, but the bucket and food did not. It is supposed that some of his countrymen gave him the food. It is believed that Gates, the murderer of Beesop, who was confined with Lum in the jail, assisted the latter to escape yesterday. He disclaimed any knowledge of when and how Lum escaped, but he is very talkative and later asserted that Lum slipped by the janitor and ran out of the door when the latter brought in their dinner.

Preparations were well along for Lum's execution, which was to have taken place in the court house, as the jail is too small. Sheriff Honey, however, is still confident of catching the escaped murderer and has wired all surrounding points to look out for Lum. The Chinese has no friends to help him among the people of the county and few friends among the Chinese. This was evidenced when petitions were circulated for a commutation for his sentence to life imprisonment. Only two of the jurymen who convicted him could be induced to sign the petition.

Tenants who are suspected of paying rent are visited at night by armed men, notices are posted threatening death to traitors, and midnight meetings are of nightly occurrence, people being assembled by beacon fires. John O'Donnell, member of parliament from South Mayo, is reported to have addressed a midnight meeting at Fairmount at which he challenged the chief secretary for Ireland, Wyndham, to come into the open at the head of five or ten thousand men, soldiers or police. If he (Wyndham) would give the men of Connaught one month, O'Donnell said they would meet them, even at numerical odds, and settle the land question for good.
