

FOOTBALL TEAM

Organized and Will Play the Association Game

Old association football players met yesterday evening in the office of White, Davey & Tobin and organized a team for play this season. The officers elected were: Honorary president, Commissioner Congdon; president, E. C. Senkler; vice president, Arthur Davey; secretary and treasurer, A. S. Reid. The executive committee consists of Sergeant Major Tucker, S. Bell, P. S. Long, W. Gibson and D. R. McLennan. There are at present two teams organized at the Forks, both of which are anxious to try conclusions with the city team any time they are ready to do business. There is good material here, but if they expect to play football to win they will have to do more practicing than they ever have done in times past. As an evidence of good faith, it is said that certain nights will be set aside for practice and every member of the team must turn out or he will be dropped. Notification of the nights selected will be made at a later date.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Communications for publication in this column are invited upon all questions of public interest. Correspondents are requested to be as brief as possible and to sign their names, which will be withheld if desired.

Editor Klondike Nugget: Sir,—I must write to congratulate you upon the attitude of your paper in the late issues regarding our M. P. Your course seems directly in the line of public duty and reflects great credit upon the motives of your paper during the political fights of the last year. In all the elections one issue was paramount, viz., the highest good of the Yukon. The advancement of the political schemes of denagogues and politicians was of no interest to the majority of voters. After Clarke captured the convention of August 23rd and the Ross convention met and adopted their platform, only two questions remained for the electorate, viz., first, would Ross unreservedly accept the platform of the convention which nominated him, and second, would that acceptance be sincere and in good faith? It took more than one month to obtain a satisfactory answer to the first question, and this delay created a feeling of distrust in regard to the second question. It was acknowledged by nearly everyone that Clarke was a very unworthy instrument to hold the opposition in nomination. So when election day came the vote, apart from the few rabid friends of Clarke and the equally few rabid Siftonites and the quite large number of purchased and fictitious votes, was a plebiscite upon the question as to whether Ross was sincere in his adoption of the Ross platform. There can be no reasonable doubt that upon a correct count of this vote it would be found that the majority did not believe Ross. Yet many did, hence the result.

Even then the cause of good government might have been served by the opposition. The money was ready to protest Ross' election if Clarke would give his word not to be again a candidate. He would not do so but called the so-called opposition mass meeting which confirmed Ross in his seat. Even then and in spite of Clarke, Ross' election would have been protested except for the strong hope of very many that he was sincere. Now as it is shown clearly that he is not, only one course is open—Mr. Ross must resign.

"Why," says the visitor to the nursery of the Muchstuffs, "all the children's dollies seem to be torn and battered and mangled until they are total wrecks."

"Yes'm," answers the maid. "You see, mum, it's little Algernon, mum. His father give him a auto-hobby-mobile on his birthday, an' he makes the other children set the dolls in line while he runs over them." — Judge.

Amendment Lost.

London, June 16.—The deadlock which has arisen between the secretary for Ireland, Geo. Wyndham, and the Irish leader, John Redmond, as a result of today's debate in the house of commons, in which John Redmond's amendment to the land bill, abolishing the minimum price at which the landlord may sell, was opposed by Mr. Wyndham and rejected by the house, threatens to imperil not only the Irish land bill, but the existence of the government. Several Unionists supported John Redmond in the division lobby, after having in the course of the debate vainly advised Mr. Wyndham to agree to a compromise. The whole body of Nationalists voted in support of the amendment, with the result that the government's majority was reduced to 41 votes.

The amendment seeks to abolish the minimum price at which the landlord may sell, even though the landlord and tenant might agree on a lower price. Mr. Redmond said if no concession was made it would be impossible for the Irish members to represent the bill as acceptable to the Irish people.

Mr. John Morley, who said he feared the bill was in great peril, complained of Mr. Wyndham's attitude. He said the English and Scotch members would only support the bill so long as it was acceptable to all the Irish members. Mr. Redmond's amendment was rejected by a vote of 217 to 276.

Comes Alive

Marinette, Wis., June 13.—The Marinette Star is authority for a story to the effect that Prof. Hoffman, who recently resigned from the faculty of the University of Iowa, is Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, who was supposed to have killed himself fifteen years ago. Hoffman's resignation at the university was requested because he refused to reveal his identity, after admitting that he was going under an assumed name. At the time that it was reported the crown prince had killed himself in Austria, it is asserted that a corpse resembling him was made use of at a funeral, while the prince disappeared from the empire, and that he is none other than Hoffman, professor of medicine. The crown prince was considered one of the leading physicians of Austria. The story in part is confirmed by Dr. Redetings of this city, and Attorney B. J. Brown of Menominee. Circumstances in connection with Hoffman's stay here also tend to confirm the story.

A Rochester Bigamist

Rochester, N. Y., June 13.—Geo. A. Sears, a consulting engineer for the Rochester Bridge Company, was arrested here today on a warrant sworn out by his wife, Dorothy, charging him with non-support. The fact developed through the arrest that Sears was married two months ago to Georgia Hicks at Toronto. Mrs. Sears alleges that Sears has neglected her for over a year, that he sent her to Paris last fall with only enough money to keep her a short time, and not enough for her return. She threatened to appeal to the United States Consul at Paris, and her husband sent money for her return. He then paid her expenses at a hotel here. When officers went to the house of wife No. 2 today to arrest Sears he held them at bay at the point of a revolver. The officers were forced to besiege the place for twelve hours until Sears gave himself up. He was then released on bail. Mrs. Sears, No. 1, came here from Brooklyn a week ago and secured the warrant. Sears has been living in this city with wife No. 2 since the marriage.

Stabbed to Death

Cincinnati, June 6.—Fred Gansel, aged 45, an insurance man, was stabbed in Elliot Wacker's women's tailoring establishment today by Wacker. Gansel was taken to the city hospital, where he died within an hour. Wacker is under arrest charged with murder.

The men had a dispute over a small bill, there being only 25 cents difference in their claims as to the amount Gansel owed. It led to a personal encounter, and Gansel is said to have struck Wacker in the face with his fist. The latter seized a pair of shears and stabbed Gansel in the head, and then in the left groin.

Gansel leaves a wife. Wacker is single, and says his relatives all live in New York city. He came to the United States from Austria in 1895.

Roused by a Dog

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. David Fickleton of the Canadian "Soo" were saved from death in the flames by the sagacity of their dog. Early this morning they were aroused by the dog jumping upon their bed, barking and tearing off the coverings with his paws and teeth. They found the room full of smoke, and they were nearly stifled.

An attempt to escape by the stairs proved futile, because of the smoke and flames. With a coil of clothes line Mr. Fickleton first lowered the dog out of the window, and then his wife, he being the last to leave. The house was reduced to ruins.

A young man who was born on a ranch, and who, while getting his education in the east, has turned westward again every summer, and has thus maintained a fine, strong physique, recently danced with a young woman of some two hundred pounds in a village not far west of Rahway. He noticed that the dancing was up-hill work, and when it was over, sank into a chair in the incipient stages of exhaustion. The young woman looked thoughtfully across the shining surface of the floor and threw a glance of investigation at the corner where the punch bowl stood.

"Doesn't it strike you that the floor is very sticky tonight?" she asked.

The young man gallantly denied thinking so. "It seems so to me," the young woman observed. Then she looked down at her foot, protruding from a silken founce, and exclaimed: "Why, I've got my rubbers on!" —New York Evening Post.

An Englishman and a Frenchman, both duelists of some note, about to encounter each other in a duel, chanced to meet at the ticket office of the station on route for the appointed field, when the following dialogue took place:—

Frenchman (loftily)—Return ticket to—

Englishman—H—single.

Frenchman—Ha, you fear you will never come back. I always take a return.

Englishman—I never do. I always take my return half from the corpse. —Tit-Bits.

An Officer's Suicide

Kiel, June 3.—A seaman of the German navy, named Andreas Messerschmidt, was condemned by a court-martial today to eighteen months imprisonment for striking Ensign Von Abel, during the night of May 2, at Kiel. The case has been widely commented upon, because of Von Abel's suicide after he found he was unable to identify the man who assaulted him and personally avenge himself.

List of the Hall Gang

Corwall, June 3.—The court of general sessions of the peace and county court for the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengary, opened this morning before his Honor Judge O'Reilly. There are several civil and two criminal cases on the list, one of the latter being that of Mrs. Melvin Hall of Morrisburg, who with his gang of outlaws terrorized the people of Dundas county for several years, and were rounded up by Chief of Provincial Detectives Murray. The members of Hall's gang were sent up for periods of from four to seven years, while Hall got a term of ten years. Mrs. Hall seems to have continued the life her husband led, and was arrested on a charge of stealing a quantity of clothing and jewelry. She is confined in the Corwall jail, and will come up for trial at this court. This is the last of the Hall gang to be dealt with.

I had left the train at Lone Pine to see a man named Holden, but a woman observed. Then she looked down at her foot, protruding from a silken founce, and exclaimed: "Why, I've got my rubbers on!" —New York Evening Post.

"Wasn't you askin' about Jim Holden?"

"Well, he's here in town, but I don't think he's in shape to do any business with you."

"Do you mean that he is drunk?" I asked.

"Skassey drunk, sah—skassey. He come down to bluff the town, Jim did, and if you want to find him hangin' from a limb down there, as the boys are playin' poker as is by this time." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.
