Our old friend John Jones, of Richville, N. Y., gave us a pleasant last evening. He, on his annual holiday trip to visit friends and relatives in this section. Although the frost of many winters has whitened his locks, his face and form present the ruddy glow and rosy cheeks of the young man in the prime of life, while the vim and vivacity of the old gentleman make him a pleasant companion. We hope to see him on many annual trips like the present.

Several parties whose business it is to report births, marriages or deaths in this village, have failed to comply with the law in regard to the same. The village clerk has had to go to parties and urge them to call and fill in the blanks provided for that purpose. Patience ceases to be a virtue after a while and all parties are notified that they had better comply with this notice they will have to be reported to the department, which means a fine of $20 and cost.

At the close of the evening services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday last, the pastor Rev. D. Flemming feelingly thanked the members of the congregation for their kindness in giving him an unsolicited leave of absence for three weeks. The inquest into the death of Sophia Hascock, who came to her death rather mysteriously a few days ago in her father's house at Fairbank village, a few miles north of Toronto, was concluded on the 21 July. The jury took no stock in the theory of the accident, but brought in a verdict of murder against some unknown persons. The feeling in the village is quite intense. A girl was found by her father, with her head crushed in and covered with blood. The father's explanation is that she must have fallen and struck her head but the doctors thought the wound in her head was caused by a blow with a hammer, or some heavy instrument. Detective Greer was employed on the case, and obtained sufficient information to warrant the arrest of the father and mother of the murdered girl. A search is being made about the premises for the hammer supposed to have been used when the murder was committed.

An action at law has been begun at Carleton Place which will be of interest to those having insurance in fraternal organizations. The suit is brought by Mr. John Illingsworth against the Oddfellows Fraternal Accident Association of America, to recover the sum of $520 payable under the terms of an accident policy issued to him by Mr. Illingsworth with an accident and notified the local agents, but it is now claimed by the company that he should have notified the head office in ten days. The action will probably come on for hearing at the fall sittings at Ottawa.

Tuesday an appeal case was heard by Judge McDonald. On the 4th July Mr. G. G. Pablow, cheese inspector brought a charge against Anthony O'Connor for watering the milk which he was supplying to the Spring cheese factory. The case was tried by R. G. Murphy of Elgin and resulted in O'Connor being fined $20 and costs, making a total of $44.00. O'Connor appealed under the Dominion act at Ottawa. Seven hours were occupied in hearing the evidence in the appeal Tuesday. Eight witnesses were examined. The judge upheld the conviction with costs.

Ontario Express Co. Justice Wurtel rendered judgment at Montreal on Friday last in the case of the Ontario Express and Transportation Company and the Grand Trunk Railway on the writ of mandamus asking the latter to be ordered to carry the freight and messengers of the express company upon the same terms as granted to other companies operating over the defendant's lines. The judgment quashes the writ and the judge ruling that the proper tribunal to enquire into the matter was the adjudicating upon the matter was the parliamentary railway committee. The action was therefore, dismissed, reserving the plaintiffs' rights to other actions.

This Week's Weather. Below will be found the weather probabilities for next week, together with the forecast for August as contained in Smith's Planetary Almanac: From August 2nd to August 8th, inclusive—Warm to sultry, with thunder storms, heavy showers and strong winds; cooler, with rains; a fine but cool period, quite cold for August, possible local frosts.

Forecast for August.—This month promises us considerable rain. "Variable and showery" is about what it looks like. Some heavy thunderstorms. One or two periods of rain during the month. The progress will likely bring the mean temperature up above the average. A much better harvest month for corn and grain, notwithstanding the rain, than the frosty August of 1890.

A Strange Case. Several weeks ago word was sent to the Canadian Pacific officials at Montreal of a peculiar attack being made on the C. P. R. road, ten miles below Megantic. At first the rails were found to be greased for over a mile. As soon as the engine would strike that particular spot the wheels would spin around with remarkable rapidity but progress was stopped. The wheels had no grip on the rails and finally the engine would come to a standstill till the rails were wiped off, when it would again start and with the aid of sand, which every engine carries, would manage to crawl off. Detonator of the C. P. R. was given the case to work up and went to the scene of the outrage. It was in the middle of a dense bush through which the line ran. For two whole days the officer watched in this lonely place. He had almost given up the hope of trapping the "greasers" when one night just after dark he saw two men creep stealthily out of the bush and approach the track. Guertin crawled on his hands and knees to where he could see what the fellows were doing, and was rewarded by seeing them industriously at work with a huge chunk of tallow, each greasing the track. Guertin was satisfied and sprang out to the place where a bulldog revolver in each hand, and got "the drop on them." He handcuffed them and took them to Megantic, where, on Wednesday, they were brought before the Judge. They gave their names as C. Campbell and S. Bouchard. They were charged with placing obstructions on the track, but refused to give any reason for their strange act.
