The sale of tickets for the Thanksgiving Day game will open on Friday. If Frank Harvey determines to stick will be played on the half line, and George Smith will hold down the full back position. "Liz" Marriott has been working hard for the past two weeks getting into condition, and he will likely be played on Monday.

The Argos intend to work their hardest to beat the Rough Riders in Ottawa next Saturday. The Oarsmen have been having hard luck in their games so far this season or they would certainly not be at the bottom of the league as they are at present. There is no doubt but that the Oarsmen have the material on hand to make a winning team and while they can hardly land the championship now, still they intend to make a big struggle for it.

at the end of the week.

The team will likely undergo several changes in the meantime. Murphy, at a full-back, was not altogether a complete success against the Tigers and he will have to improve some if he wants to hold his position. He dropped several long punts from Ben Simpson and the other Hamilton backs on Saturday, and besides that showed poor judgment when in a couple of tight situations. Johnson, it is known, has not been compelled to show his best qualities as a fighter. He has made good the assertion that he is a wonderful defensive puglist and that he is something of a shugger. With both men fit jeffreis will equal the negro in height, but will weigh at least twenty pounds more. Johnson is three years younger and is now in his prime, while Jeffries must overcome four years of idleness.

AND GOSSIP

Fred Murphy and his famous band of cooters will take a prominent part in the remaining games to be played here by the senior Tigers. The Rooters' Club will be reorganized with Fred Murphy Gerard at Ottawa. He may be shifted will be reorganized with Fred Murphy as leader, and they will be given their first workout on Thanksgiving Day when the Montreal team plays here. The rooters were of great assistance to the Tigers the year they defeated Montreal for the championship, three years ago, and as Hamilton has still the hardest games to play on local grounds the rooters will have plenty of chance to get in their fine work.

On the wing line the only changes will be in the positions that the men will occupy. The wing line showed on Saturday that it was big enough and heavy enough to withstand almost any atack, but that the men were sadly lacking in system. However, with three more practices still before them, there will likely be a great improvement along this line by the time the game with Ottawa is called.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Ottawa Foot-all Club will be forced to send a badly Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Ottawa Football Club will be forced to send a badly erippled team up against the Argonauts in Naturday's match at Varsity oval. Jack Williams intends remaining at Kingston for a week or two, on account of his injured knee, and to-day Martin Kilt is under a doctor's care. Kilt went to the Water Street Hospital last night suffering from internal injuriers received in the Montreal game. Dave McCann's knee is troubling him so much that he is not able to practise, while Eddie Phillips fears that the old injury to his left knee is again loosening up. Stronach is not by any means sound in the limbs, and Jim Vaughan is laid up with a bad cold. Pope hurt his left shoulder in a tackle at Montreal, so half the team is disabled. If Kilt is not able to play Saturday, Snelling will take his place at quarter-back. To-day's practice brought out only six or seven of the regulars, a Gerard being the only back who has not been hurt as yet. Ottawa expects a hard game from the Argos here, and fears that unless the invalids recover the Oarsmen will take a fall out of them at Toronto the following week and knock them out of the running. Ottawas and Ottawa College will play for the city championship on Thanksgiving Day, but Claney will send a team of intermediates up against the students.

Nothing has yet been setttled regard-ing the referee question for Saturday's game, but it is expected that Savage and Walter Molson will act.

It now looks as though the senior Inter-Provincial will be settled again this year as last year—with a sudden death game in Kingston or some other place. Jack Williams, the star of the Ottawa footbal Iteam, is out of the game with a wounded knee, and it will be a hard matter to find a man who will fill his place and play as Williams does.

Hamilton can be depended upon to beat Ottawa in Hamilton, and unless nothing unforeseen turns up both these teams should win their remaining games, which would make their record be five wins and one loss each. Then again Montreal or Argonauts are liable to upset these calculations by beating the leaders, and a loss would put either one of them out of it.

The Argos and Rough Riders have agreeed upon Walter Molson and Ed. Savage as the officials for Saturday's

CAPT. ALLERDICE COLLEGE HERO.

While A. R. Göldie, of Galt, was chosen President of the Ontario Curling Association at the annual October meeting yesterday, the most important election was that of C. W. Cartwright, of Hamilton, to the Second Vice-Presidency, who will be President two years hence. Two years ago Mr. Goldie was chosen Second Vice-President, and last October went up one, according to the curlers' correct course of succession. In the natural course of events the Thistle curler will be President year after next, with Col. Mackenzie, the present First Vice-President, taking the chief office for the winter of 1910-11. Sure the brothers of the besom are cannie boys. Henri St. Yves won the Marathon Derby at Seattle in 2.32.39, breaking the world's record. John Marsh, the Canadian, was second, several laps behind St. Yves; Johnny Hays, of New York, was third, and J. F. Fitzgerald fourth. Abbie Wood and Hans Holmer have been matched to run a fifteen-mile race at Montreal on Thanksgiving Day. There is a possibility that Shrubb may run with them.

Can Jeffries beat Johnson? This is a question asked repeatedly just now. If Jeffries can recover the form that enabled him to whip Fitzsimmons, Sharkey, Corbett and Ruhlin he will put a stop to the negro inside of a dozen rounds. That is the answer to the question from one point of view. If Jeffries cannot show his great stamina, hitting power and speed Johnson will tire him out and finally end his career as Corbett extinguished John L. Sullivan seventeen years ago. That is another way of looking at the proposed match. One thing is certain, however. If Jeffries does not feel confident of stopping Johnson he will not make a match, for he has always been averse to running risks with negro pugitive. make a match, for he has always because a crunning risks with negro pugiists. The management paid a big price for the exclusive right to show these pictures here, and Bennett's will be the only theatre in Hamilton to feature them. They are said be the finest pictures of an event of this kind ever taken, and show all the sensational features of the big games, including Ty Cobb's great steal home and forty thousand people cheering his thrilling feat. The sporting public will undoubtedly appreciate this feature.

He will go back loaded with honors, and, incidentally, coin of the realm. The reception committee is busy at work making the arrangements, and not a stone will be left unturned to make the event memorable. Mooney is a good boy, and he should be given a good time.

From a reliable source it was learned vesterday that misleading statements were purposely made as to Ketchel's weight when he tackled Johnson. Because of a cirticism of the match when it was first made to the effect that it was manifestly unfair to pit the gigantic it was first made to the effect that it was manifestly unfair to pit the gigantic negro against so small an opponent it is said that Ketchel gave out his weight as 176 pounds, when as a matter of fact he did not scale at more than 168; also that Johnson weighed more than 205 pounds, which gave him an immense advantage. By announcing that Johnson weighed 195 and Ketchel about twenty pounds less the persons who pulled off the mill excited more interest than would have been shown if the real weights of the men had been disclosed. If the above report is based upon fact Ketchel fought with the same physical handicap that resulted in the defeat of Burns in Australia. While Burns lasted two rounds more than Ketchel very few ring experts believe that the former could defeat the latter. A Ketchel-Burns fight might be an interesting affair at that, but it is doubtful if it could ever be arranged.

INDSOR, ONT., OCT.
20.—A splendid gathering witnessed some brilliant racing at Windsor yesterday afternoon. The club house element was very much in evidence, over 10 automobiles being packed back of the club members' enclosure. The Windsor Racing Association is fast making friends among the better element of racegoers in Detroit, and it is no idle prediction to say that in a few years this meeting will be one of the most popular on the track at Mon-rief Park was fully completed, and that the going at the Jacksonville course this winter would be as fast as that at Ascot Park. Mr. Brown is due to arrive at Latonia on Monday next, and after spending a few days there he will go to Pimlico. His trip north is in the interests of the stakes that will be run at Moncrief Park, and judging from the way entries are pouring in, the meeting will be one of the most popular on the circuit.

Many improvements are contemplated, chief of which is the erection of a handsome new steel grand stand.

Many improvements are contemplated, chief of which is the erection of a handsome new steel grand stand.

Yesferday's events were made up of the better class of horses, and a majority of the races furnished keen contests. It was a great day for favorite players, Waterway in the steeplechase being the only one of the six choices that failed to win. J. W. Fuller, the Texas turfman, furnished two of the afternoon's winners in Dangerous March and Injury, both of which were bred by Mr. Fuller at his ranch in Texas. Dangerous March and Injury a three-year-old. They are both geldings and are by Marchmont II., out of Sweet Danger, and it is not often that full brothers are returned winners on the same day. Dangerous March won the opening and Injury the closing event, and Jockey Howard had the mount on both of them. Dangerous March won his race in easy fashion, while Injury was forced to stand a drive to win by a small margin from Trainer Ed. Whyte will ship the Mackenzie horses from here to Toronto and try out his yearlings at Woodbine Park before shipping south. He reports that Fort Johnson has fully recovered from his recent attack of colic and is in good shape again. Whyte tried to purchase the two-year-old, G. M. Dr. Pillow showed that he is a jumper of some merit by defeating a horse like Waterway in the day's steeplechase. The latter was well ridden, and had no excuses to offer for defeat. He led by a long margin until the twelfth jump, where McClain brought Waterway up with a bold challenge, and for a time it looked as if he had the race won. The three-year-old came again, however, and in the stretch run took the lead and outgamed Waterway at the end. Dr. Pillow is pronounced by steeplechase sharps as the best prospect that has been developed in Canada is some years. In his previous effort the colt was pulled up by Yourrell, and after the race it developed that the rider had dislocated his collarbone and took his mount up to keep from falling off. Frank Lightfoot, who is handling Dr. Pillow, will ship him from here to Pimlico in the same car with Amos Turney's horses. In the feature race, a mile condition event, Theo Cook had to be hard ridden to stall off Cliff Edge's rush, but he managed to last long enough to win by a neck.

Charlie Ellison's old sprinter, Jacobite, was supposed to be a good thing in the fifth race, and came in for strong support. The best re could do was to finish third, King Avondale winning in easy fashion by a couple of lengths.

JOHNSON IS NO LONGER A MYSTERY.

Ketchel Bout Proved Him to be a Hard Puncher and Strategic—End of Contest Was Both Sensational and Spectacular.

(By the Referee.) defensive fighter, with a vicious rightdefensive fighter, with a vicious right-hand jolt, and a left which he used for little more than blocking an oppo-net's leads and rushes. There was some questions in the minds of the sporting public whether Johnson was gritty and whether he possessed some latent ability not yet developed. Al-though outclassed and beaten, Ketchel made Johnson show his hand. In other words, the big negro had to cut loose to win. The middleweight cham-pion not only stung him, but caught the negro off his balance and sent him to the floor. This was too much huthe negro off his balance and sent him to the floor. This was too much humiliation for Johnson to swallow, and in a foxy manner he struggled to his feet, and as Ketchel was plowing in to finish the job the negro sprang at him like a tiger and in three jolts dropped the plucky young middle-weight senseless. The final blow, a short right-hand appercut, was delivered with such force that Ketchel's teeth were driven clear through the leather and hair covering Johnson's knuckles.

leather and hair covering Johnson's knuckles.

Ketchel developed another latent attribute that Johnson possesses. Heretofore it was considered that the negro's left hand was of little use excepting to block an opponent. In Saturday's contest he used it for leading and countering, and it was chiefly by these stiff punches that Ketchel was sent, bruised and bleeding, to his corner at the end of several rounds. The bout proved that Johnson is a dangerous man with both hands; is tricky and possesses more of the craftiness of the ring than he has been given credit for.

That the negro could have finished the fight earlier than he did was-apparent to all at the ringside, and that he was merely saving Ketchel, even to the extent of holding him up in the earlier rounds, when the white man was almost falling, was proved to any tyro at the boxing game.

Before the fight started it was whispered about that Johnson would fightfor the moving pictures for twelve rounds, and that he would then cut loose. Willus Britt declared that Ketchel ost the fight through his own careessness; that he was in a fair way to lessness; that he was in a fair way to capture the heavyweight champion-ship had he been cautious once Johnson had dropped to the floor. But in no round of the fight is this statement borne out. Ketchel was as easy for Johnson as Kaufman was. That the middleweight champion showed bull-dog courage and gameness against the odds he had to face was admitted. But at all times Johnson handled his man much as he would a child, swinging Ketchel clear off his feet in some of the clinches and outboxing him so that Ketchel's vaunted shift missed by a foot on the many times he

ONTARIO CURLING ASSOCIATION MEETS.

The Semi-Annual Meeting Was Held Yesterday in Toronto—Tankard and Cup Groups Were Arranged-Old Country Visit Wanted.

20.—The semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Associa-tion at the Victoria Curling Club yester-meeting of the Ontario Curling Association at the Victoria Curling Club yesterday was a record-breaker for despatch of business. Not even a storm cloud blew up on the horizon.

It was decided to communicate with other curling associations in Canada for the purpose of extending an invitation from the curlers of Canada to Scotland to send a team here in 1912.

The Strathcona Cup, won by the Canadian team that visited Scotland last year, was on exhibition, and will be sent to Ryrie's. It is a magnificent specimen of the silversmith's art. Col. Mackenzie, who was on the Canuck team, said that with the advent of artificial ice the Scotch game was improving, and they felt that they would be able to give Canadians a better argument. One delegate remarked that it was a hardship for Canada to have to surrender the trophy again in default of sending a team to Scotland this winter. He thought that the challengers should come to the winners. It was decided that the only club eligible for the Governor-General's prize shall be the tankard group winners only, except the tankard winners and runners-up.

The following clubs were admitted: Napanee, Prescott, Kingston, Cannington, Chatsworth, Brockville and Brockville Asylum.

Now that we have been given a glimpse of Johnson's real ability prudence would dictate to Jeffries to go slow in arranging a match with the negro. Unless the ex-boilermaker can get himself in shape to stand a gruelling contest of 20 or 30 rounds he had better remain retired at the undefeated champion of the world.

Johnson is bolder than ever in his warlike talk regarding Jeffries. He says he fears that the boilermaker will run out of the proposed match when he arrives here rather than risk defeat. "I can whip Jeffries," is the negro's boast, "and he knows it. I am ready to sign articles now and will agree to 45 rounds or to a finish. Ketchel, Kaufman, and Burns were all very easy, but Jeffries will be pie for me. I want him to agree to a long fight, because I will have a chance to tire him out and beat him at my own leisure. There will be no trouble about making a match as far as I am concerned. I will fight at Colma under Coffroth's management, and will take chances on a big gate. I will bet $10,000 on the side and will accept the earliest date Jeffries wants to name. I will also give him $1,000 as a present when he signs articles that are iron-clad. But I will not be satisfied that he intends to meet me until he gets in the ring." he intends to meet me until he gets in the ring."
