THE utility of Periodical Literature, to the influence it exerts upon a community by the diffusion of useful knowledge, is too obvious to be disputed. Of all subjects claiming the attention of rational and immortal man. Religion is confessedly the most important; and yet scarbely any other has been so completely overlooked or neglected. The want of a Religious Journal in this Province has been long felt, and the establishment of one much desired. In the Upper Province, the Crasserian Guantana, conducted by the respectable Society of Methodista, has been well supported, and productive of much good in their own and other denominations. That which is now about to be submitted to the public, will collect and communicate intolligence of general interest to every section of the Christian pommunity, and its continual aim will be the advancement of pure and undefiled religion, as equally contributing to the happiness of individuals, and the prosperity of states.
