The Vital Issue

"What we have to decide is this—Are we going to continue the protective system of this country or are we not? That is the question and that is the whole question. And the great, big, necessary thing is that every voter in this country from the Yukon to Halifax knows that this is the question he or she is deciding when he or she votes in this great contest."

—ARTHUR MEIGHEN

THE vital issue in the coming election—in fact, the only issue—is the Tariff, and to every clear thinking Canadian it should be readily apparent that a Protective Fiscal Policy is absolutely essential to stability, progress and development.

Every important country in the world upholds Protection as an essential economic principle. Even Great Britain—so long the stronghold of Free Trade—has now adopted laws that constitute Protection of the most effective kind. In fact, the present policy among most nations is towards raising their tariff walls, not lowering them. In the face of these facts it would be suicidal for Canada to do exactly the reverse and discard the fiscal system which has been responsible for its progress during the past forty-three years.

Free Trade would mean death to Canadian industry. It would also result in the immediate closing down of Canadian plants of foreign firms, with consequent additional unemployment. There are to-day 650 American factories alone in Canada. Similar proposed ventures would be abandoned. New capital would refuse to come Meighen stands four square for Reasonable Protection—Protection for all the people—and asks for an overwhelming mandate to give both industry and agriculture that assurance which will spell prosperity for all. Individual prosperity depends upon National prosperity. Your personal interests and Canada's very existence hang upon your vote.

FACTS OF IMPORTANCE TO THE VOTERS

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(By Canadian Press)—The coming general election will be the first in Canada which has been held since the abolition of the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. Provision was made, in recently amending the Dominion Elections Act, for abolition of that office, and the appointment instead of Col. O. M. Biggar, of Ottawa, as Chief Electoral Officer, as set forth in the Act, are:

(a) Throughout every election to properly direct all returning officers, and, in case of incompetency or neglect of duty on the part of any of them, recommend his removal and the appointment of another in his stead.

(b) Exercise general direction and jurisdiction over the administrative conduct of elections with a view to ensuring the fairness and impartiality of all election officers and compliance with the provisions of this Act.

The Chief Electoral Officer holds office "on the same tenure, is removable only for cause and in the same manner, and is from time to time paid the same salary and superannuation allowance as a puisne judge of the Supreme Court of Canada." He shall rank as a deputy head of a department, shall communicate with the Governor General through the Secretary of State of Canada, the Act states, and in addition to taking charge of the administration of elections he is required to act as counsel for the crown or the attorney general and make such enquiries as the governor general may direct.

Outside of his assistant and two stenographers, "all of whom shall be appointed by the Governor-in Council," the Chief Electoral Officer is not given any permanent staff attached to his department. Provision is made, however, for him to appoint such temporary help as may be necessary from time to time for carrying out his duties in connection with the holding of elections. The Chief Electoral Officer is, of course, in charge of all other election officers.

It is not generally known that provision is made in the Dominion Elections Act for the penalizing of any election officer "who is guilty of any misfeasance or any wilful act or omission in violation of this act." The act provides that such election officer shall "forfeit to any person thereof aggrieved a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars in addition to the amount of all actual damage to such person thereby occasioned."

"Every election officer who refuses or neglects to perform any of the obligations or formalities required of him, by this Act, shall, for each such refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of two hundred dollars to any person who sues therefore," the section continues.

"Every election officer who refuses or neglects to perform any of the obligations or formalities required of him, by this Act, shall, for each such refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of two hundred dollars to any person who sues therefore," the section continues.

in the case of a voter applying for a ballot, when the deputy returning officer does not understand the language spoken by the applicant, he is required to swear an interpreter, "who shall be the means of communication between him and the voter with reference to all matters required to enable such voter to vote, and in case no interpreter is found, such voter is not to be allowed to vote."

Voters are required to vote without undue delay, and as soon as they have voted the law requires them to leave the polling station. Provision is made that in each polling station there must be separate rooms, or parts of the room curtained off into which the voter may retire for the purpose of making his ballot, and these must be fitted out with a table and a pencil.

A section of the Act governing court procedures under the Act provides that "no person may be required to state for whom he voted" in any proceedings which may arise.

Penalties are provided in the act for persons guilty of illegal or corrupt practices at elections. Sections 86 of the Act provides that: "Any person who during an election commits a corrupt practice or an illegal practice shall ipso facto become disqualified from voting and incompetent to vote at such election. He shall also in addition to any other punishment for such offence by this or any other Act prescribed, forfeit to any person who in any competent court shall therefore sue:

"(a) For every corrupt practice committed the sum of two hundred dollars and costs; and

"(b) For every illegal practice committed the sum of one hundred dollars and costs."

LIBERAL LEADER IS HEARD IN CHATHAM

The electors of Chatham received a surprise Tuesday when it became whispered around that the Liberal leader would appear there and address a meeting in the Palace Theatre in the afternoon. Mr. King was on his way to Campbellton where he addressed the electors of Restigouche in the evening. He stopped off at Newcastle and motored to Chatham, addressing a crowded house in the Palace Theatre for an hour, motoring to Newcastle and catching the Ocean Limited for the north. At short notice the Palace was packed to the doors and the crowd spread out into the street.

Sheriff W. F. Cassidy occupied the chair. Among those on the platform were Hon. John Morrissey and W. B. Snowball. When the sheriff introduced Mr. King he was received with cheering. With only an hour at his disposal Mr. King did not deal with the different questions at length. Mr. King's address was practically the same as that at St. John on Saturday.

He left Chatham immediately after the meeting for Newcastle to make connections with the Limited.
