Spaniard's Bay Briefs.

His Lordship Bishop March paid us an ecclesiastical visit last Thursday, and quite a number of young people received the gift of "Laying on of hands."

Wednesday was "Clean-Up" Day for the Anglican Church people. The Parish Church received a thorough good cleaning. We are glad to note that the Select Vestry and Wardens have turned their attention to the Rectory and surrounding grounds. The fences have been newly white-washed and the Rectory is now receiving a coat of paint.

Mr. Churchill was here on Friday and chose the site for the new public building. This is a thing badly needed, and we hope the Government will push the work and get it completed as quickly as possible.

The first cargo of coal for the season arrived on Saturday to Mr. J. F. Sheppard. It received a quick despatch from the vessel, being stored in twenty-one hours. Mr. Sheppard's facility for landing coal is an up-to-date one and the arrangement saves time and labor. A cargo of firewood, from Trinity Bay, has also arrived to the same firm.

Mr. M. M. Young's vessel arrived from St. John's on Friday with a full load of provisions.

Capt. Blandford, late of the s.s. Diana, has purchased a vessel and will prosecute the Labrador fishery the coming season.

Two motor boats were built here during the winter; one for Mr. L. Noseworthy, the other for Mr. Geo. Gosse. Both will be used on the Labrador the coming season.

The Agricultural people have purchased from Frost & Wood, Canada, the following farming implements: Four plows, one spring harrow and one scuffer. They are now being used on the farms and are giving every satisfaction.

We are glad to see Mr. Heber Gosse, son of our esteemed wheelwright, about again. We hope that within a week or two he will be able to resume his work as Principal of Island Cove High School. —COR.

Letter From "Traveller."

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I have read with amusement Mr. Newhook's letter that appeared in the Daily News of May 8th, stating how the money was shared among the people here this spring. He said it was through spleen or jealousy I wrote to your paper. But it couldn't have been, as Mr. Newhook says himself some got seven dollars while others got ten. Now, Mr. Editor, is that what he calls sharing? Why he is making himself out the jackass not me. I wonder if he would deny one man twenty dollars while another that does not belong to the place was working here. Of course they were Mr. Newhook's relations.

He spoke of our member, J. R. Goodison, I am well aware, Mr. Editor, that he and a few more around get prompt and general response from him. That is why they do not want him to come over to see their needs. There was no one asked Mr. Goodison to come. It was a promise he made himself. I thought a member was to visit his district and to look after his people but Mr. Newhook says no, only to make laws. If he did come around he would see how some more money was wasted that was given to dig a well. It was a place where an old iron pump was sunk many years ago. A cover was put on that to serve for a well if water was to be got there which there is not. Their donkeys wouldn't drink it.

Now, Mr. Editor, our roads are little better than when I wrote before. We had one day's work but most of it was spent in on the main line where it was not needed. The Road Board and wharf builders and such like tells us they get their rules from St. John's to do what they like with the money. Spend it where they like or give it all to one man to work out if they like. What do we want a member for? I am writing the plain truth now. Let them deny it if they can. Now, Mr. Editor, you will not hear from me again very soon as I am not playing my vocation here at the fishery. I will be leaving here in a short time. You can see our money wasn't spent fair, as Mr. Newhook said himself.

Hoping I have not trespassed too much on your valuable paper, I remain

Yours truly,
ONE WHO TRAVELS THE ROAD.
Bristol's Hope, May 15th, 1913.

Smallpox Spreading.

Yesterday it was gleaned that smallpox had been discovered at Bell Island, the person afflicted being Miss Murphy, of the post office, who is a sister of the young lady who has the disease at Conception Harbor. The health authorities believe the disease can be traced to the family on Pleasant Street, to whom Miss Murphy is related. The disease seems to be spreading, and no doubt the health authorities will do everything possible to stamp it out.

Poor Outlook.

At present the fishery at Quid Vidi looks anything but promising. Herring have not struck in there yet. The fishermen are on the fishing grounds every morning and so far have not handled enough for their own consumption. Salmon are exceptionally scarce and not one of these fish has been taken for the season. When cod strikes in there will be a shortage of bait unless herring makes their appearance very soon. The outlook for a successful fishery looks gloomy.

Died at Glace Bay

The death took place yesterday morning, of James Vey, aged 65, at the residence of his son, Bruce Street, Glace Bay. He had been in poor health for the past twelve months and on Tuesday, was attacked by a stroke of paralysis. He was a native of Bay Roberts, Nfld., and has been a resident of Glace Bay for the past 15 years. He is survived by a widow and one son, William. He is also survived by three sisters, two of whom are in Newfoundland, the other in Winnipeg, and one brother in Newfoundland. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at No. 4 cemetery. —Sydney Record.

Firemen Meet.

The Firemen and Stokers' Union held a meeting last night which was largely attended. Some new regulations were adopted for the betterment of the Union, and for the benefit of the ship owners. The following officers were elected: President, Martin McAllister; Vice-Pres., Moses Baldwin; Asst. V.P., P. Lundrigan; Secy., W. King; Treas., P. McGrath; Delegate, Wm. Whalen. Mr. Frank Woods the former President, who resigned, received a hearty vote of thanks.

Had Narrow Escape.

People who came in by yesterday's express and who were in Channel when the boat and dories were driven off Saturday, say that had the Invermore not been in port the four men on-board the boat, a jack of 16 tons, would have been lost. The boat was fishing four miles off Fox Roost when the wind suddenly veered to the N. E. and blew a hurricane. The first blast tore the boat's sails into shreds and in the sea which ran her rudder became smashed and she was driven helplessly before the storm with the dories alongside. The light keeper at Channel notified the Magistrate of the men's predicament and the Invermore was despatched to the rescue and overtook them many miles off the land. The boat, unmanageable as she was, could not live much longer in the weather which prevailed.

The s.s. Durango leaves Liverpool on Saturday next for this port.

The schr. Freedom is now on her way to Barbados to load molasses for this port.
