DUBUQUE, Iowa, August 21.
Henry Sternweis, wife and three small children, were burned to death to-day.

LLANBERIS, Wales, August 21.
Suffragettes to-day destroyed the historic altar cloth in the Parish Church at the foot of Mount Snow-don.

SHERBROOKE, August 21.
Lawyers for Harry Thaw won some advantage to-day by delaying his appearance in the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus. It was hoped he would be produced at 10 a.m. and discharged on defective commitment, and so fall in the in-migration officials' hands for deportation. Thaw remained in the hospital ward chatting with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie. The court held that Thaw's lawyers were within their rights.

LONDON, August 21.
The Admiralty is developing on the east coast aerial defences, with considerable energy. Extensive naval works are going forward, and the aerial defence committee are working in close co-operation with the naval authorities. Stations will also be established at Cleethorpes, Scarborough, Dundee and Dover. There are over 400 pilots at Haine's air depot. The experiment of sea-planes attacking warships will be attempted to-morrow on the east coast stations.

LONDON, August 21.
The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Constantinople sends a three-column report by Russian officials, who were sent by their government to investigate the charges of atrocities by Bulgarians during the occupation of Adrianople. The reports confirm the alleged massacres. The Bulgarians murdered Turks and Greeks, assaulted women, looted and defiled mosques, looting among others the library of the Mosque of Sultan Selim, and plundering the homes of wealthy Turks, Greeks and Jews. The apoll is said to have been sent to Sofia. This indictment by the Russian officials includes the allegation that 20,000 Turkish prisoners were locked up without food, and that of them 10,000 died of cold and hunger.

LONDON, August 21.
London papers contain caustic editorials on the Thaw case. The Express says that if American justice should not succeed in the capture of Thaw, the heatless blow yet delivered will be struck at the insecure foundations of a judicial system, undermined by corruption, and sentimentality. The common course of American justice smashes the people in this country. The ease with which rich men escape the meshes of American law strikes Englishmen as a humiliation to the public conscience of a great country. In America there is one law for the rich and another for the poor. Millions mock at the laws here. Thaw would have been promptly hanged or sent irrevocably and indefinitely to the Broadmoor Asylum for criminal insane. In America he escapes and defies the justice he has outraged.

MINARD'S LINIMENT LONDON, MARKET STREET.

Hymenal.

The residence of Mr. William Wilkinson, Hamilton Avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon when his daughter, Jessie, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. Victor Hellyer, of this city. The bride looked beautiful in a charming costume of white silk, and carried a magnificent bou-quet of white carnations. The bridesmaid, was Miss Margaret Wilkinson, sister of the bride, and she was very becomingly attired. Miss Margaret Roberts acted as flower girl. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. John Hellyer. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. F. R.
Matthews. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. William Wilkinson.
The ceremony was held at the bride's home, a handsome gold bracelet, and to the bridesmaid and flower girl valuable gold brooches. After the ceremony a reception was held at which the happy couple received the congratulations and good wishes of their many friends, in which the Telegram joins. Many valuable and useful presents were received, testifying to the very high regard in which they are held by their numerous friends. The honeymoon is being spent at Montreal.

Stephano Sails.

The S. S. Stephano, sailing to-morrow afternoon for Halifax and New York, takes these passengers:— Miss D'Almeida, Mr. Dillman, Miss Dillman, Miss Jordan, Miss Bennett, Mr. Kabbell, Miss Coughlan, Miss Tooby, C. Buckley, Miss Agnes Buckley, R. Buckley, Miss E. Primm and three in steerage.

Every berth in the saloon accommodation of the ship will be occupied, leaving here as 200 round-trippers came down on her.

Fishery Report.

The S. S. Prosper's report of the fishery from Battle Harbour south is equally as discouraging as the informal report of the voyage from Battle Harbour north to Hopedale.
The fishery proved a failure at Battle Harbour this year and handling, which is now carried on is just as bad. Bait is scarce and there is no fish being taken. At Grinnet conditions are much the same. In fact all along that part of the coast there is nothing doing.

Glencoe Arrives.

The S. S. Glencoe reached Placentia yesterday with these passengers:— G. S. Forbes, T. Butler, R. Monlon, S. Tibbo, H. Lake, R. G. Pike, J. K.
Winter, J. Gunn, G. Gunn, Rev. T.
Richards, T. Devine, Messrs. O'Brien,

Girl's Nerves

Fully Restored

Was Never Able to Obtain Lasting Benefit, Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Was Used.
Too many girls grow up with weak nervous systems. Indoor life, and too much application in school are sometimes the cause.
The blood needs enriching and the nerves need strengthening by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
This food cure is doing wonders for many thousands of girls whose nerves had almost despaired of their ever developing into strong, healthy women.

Mrs. J. Bagnall, 335 Woodville avenue, Toronto, writes: "My daughter suffered from nervousness since childhood, and every medicine she tried did not do any lasting good. We read in the papers about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and my daughter used it with wonderful results. This treatment has built up her system, and so strengthened her nerves that she feels like another girl."

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GAR-GET IN COWS.

"And Morris Heaved a Sigh."

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir—Since the very important political announcements were made in The Telegram recently a rumour has been current around town that P. V.
McGrath is getting afraid that the Morris party will be defeated and that, therefore, he is bothering Morris for more pickings whilst there is yet time. In fact the rumour says that McGrath contemplates "hanging" her down" until he is satisfied. Of course it is not likely that McGrath will take the people into his avaricious confidence, for when he went to Sydney about the Bell Island tax the people were left to infer for themselves that he was gone on a $2,500 picnic.

Rumour further says that McGrath's strategy for conducting "rumours" is played out since Mr. W. F. Coaker told us in black and white what sort of a crow McGrath is, and still another rumour is to the effect that even Morris will want to despise him after the election.

The mystery now is how Morris and McGrath tolerate each other after all those "scraps" that McGrath served up to Morris, and all the contemptuous mouths that Morris curled in Patsy's face.

It is rumoured, however, that Morris does not go to see Patsy until after the dark, and that he likes to be seen in the day-time with C. H.
Emerson in the East End and J. Alex.
Robinson in the West End, and the Reverend This and the Reverend That anywhere. He does not always talk politics with these gentlemen, perhaps, but he does like to be seen with them—in the day-time, so rumour says.

At the Broad Cove races, nevertheless, Morris was seen heaving a sigh.
Yours truly,
HARBOUR BUOY.

P.S.—Rumour says that Patsy Mc-Grath uses cowardly tactics and that he is going to let these two words "rumour" says" patented or copyrighted for his own protection.

The Philosopher

When dire misfortune comes all my garden is wrong. I'm always in good form. I tell him that his face should shine, that it is wicked to repine, to yield before the storm. But when the ball comes down, alas! and ruins all my garden, I am too sore to talk; and when my neighbour comes to say that I should dance and sing all day, I chase him round a block.
Cold Bulger came to spring some dope, through his frame the pink pains whizzed, and so he sits and groans.
"Brace up, brace up, and be a man, and be as joyful as you can," I say, in cordial tones. But last week, when I broke my shin, I did not caracole and grin to any great extent, and when Cold Bulger came to spring some dope, advising me to sing, I cursed him till he went. It's easy for the gaffer while he sits up and philosophizes on other people's woes; but can he keep his smile on straight when an unkind, remorseless fate shall bash him on the nose? It isn't hard to calmly view the grief that makes our neighbour blue, and of his duty talk; but it requires of grit a deal to squint when on an orange peel we step and fall a block.
