Outlook Improving.

The outlook is decidedly more cheering. It is now apparent that the main objective of the Teutonic drive in the East has not been reached, German strategy has failed as it failed twelve months ago in France. The strategy of twelve months ago was to destroy the French Army. That failed. The strategy of the movement of the past month was to destroy the Russian armies. Germany now admits that this objective has not been attained and that the taking of Warsaw and the Polish salient is an indecisive event. The position therefore to-day is that the Teutons after their immense sacrifice of men have not accomplished either of the two tasks which they declared it was essential should both be accomplished before last Christmas, and all the time Britain is building up an immense army and manufacturing immense numbers of guns and enormous quantities of ammunition. The news too from the Dardanelles is encouraging. Fresh gains have been made and new landings effected. This is most important of the new movements, so far as has been disclosed is the great work being done in the mountainous region of Sarikamish. This region is about 200 square miles in extent. The sea coast near it includes Deir Zor and Erzurum with Anzav Cove between. Two miles to the south is Gaba Zape, where the Australians and New Zealanders made their famous landing, and where the neighbouring heights which they have consolidated strong positions. The present movement to the north of it at Sarikamish is however of much greater importance, the high crest raises its head 971 feet above the sea level and is double the height of all the hills intervening between it and the Narrows, which lie some five miles to the south east. The objective of this movement is to capture the Sarikamish region and command the north part of Narrows and its forts from the north west, just as the objective about Kruthia is to capture Ache Baba mountains with its peak of 700 feet which commands the south part of the Narrows to the north east. If it is true that the Turkish supply of munitions is failing and that Italy can spare an army to co-operate against Turkey, it will be a great incentive to the Balkan Powers to come in and give a speedy despatch to Turkey. But whether this comes about or not it is gratifying to learn of the improvement in the situation in the Peninsula.

To-day's Baseball.

The baseball match scheduled for to-day between the Shamrocks and Wanderers will be one of the most important games of the year, inasmuch as the team that loses will be out of the running for the pennant. Chessman and Montgomery have been strengthened by the addition of Messrs. O'Neil, right field; Callahan, centre field; Pearce, left field.

GEO. M. BARR.Stars Defeat Saints.

The Stars defeated the Saints in last evening's football game by a score of 4 goals to 2. Play was not very exciting in the first half but in the second round a good exhibition was given by both teams. Shortly after the game opened Munn, of the Saints, landed No. 1 goal for his team and a little later the Saints found the net a second time, through a penalty kick which was nicely placed by Foster. Following this the Stars put on a spurt and Kavanagh scored No. 1 goal for his team. Just before half time, the teams crossing the line with the score 2 to 1 in favor of the Saints. In the second half the Stars became more aggressive and shortly after the round opened, Hart, from a well placed corner kick sent in the equalizer. The excitement now became intense and both teams worked well. Kavanagh, of the Stars, played a particularly good game, and with one of the best shots seen for the season scored No. 3 goal for his team amid deafening applause. He also landed No. 4 goal, though, just before half time, playing out of his usual position. When the final whistle sounded the score stood 4 to 2 in favor of the Stars, the Saints failing to find the net in the second half. Mr. W. Duggan acted as referee and the players were:

Saints—Goal, Ewing; backs, Johnston, Barnes; halves, Foster, Munn, Crawford; forwards, Bastow, Alderice, Elton, Ewing, Auchinleck.

Stars—Goal, Phelan; backs, Walsh, Thompson; halves, Vinnicombe, Hart, Duggan; forwards, Morgan, Caul, Brien, Kavanagh, Bell.

Salt in whitewash makes it stick.
Dried rose leaves make a delightful pillow.

Always salt meat after cooking, not before.

Flat irons should be kept in a dry place when not in use.

To remove stains from the hands, nothing is better than lemon juice.

Do not buy bony or fat meat because it is cheaper. This is not economy.

Use a funnel in filling a hotwater bottle if you would save the rubber.

Skin or leather gloves should always be mended with cotton thread, not silk.

The best way to mend linen is to stretch it smoothly over an embroidery frame.

Use a funnel in filling a hotwater bottle if you would save the rubber.

Use milk instead of water for making pie crust which is to be served cold. It will keep crisp longer.

Lunch sets of large and small doilies are one of the best ways out of the tyranny of the tablecloth.

When iodine is spilled on sheets or clothing, simply soak the article twenty-four hours in cold water.

When washing real lace, let the final rinsing be in skim milk, if you would give it a soft, creamy tone.

When a ribbon is wrinkled dampen the wrinkled spot and wrap around a clean, lighted electric bulb.

Iron garments which have buttons by laying them face down on a thickly folded sheet or Turkish towel.

Meat hashes may be eked out if garnished freely with toast-sippets, boiled macaroni, rice or butter beans.

Do not use the best cuts of meat for stews and hashes. Shin of beef and neck of mutton are the best for these.

It helps greatly on ironing day to have two or three sizes of irons, including a tiny one to get into the gathers.
