Sheffield, England, Oct. 1.-The artillery drill hall, in which Premier Balfour made his tariff reform speech this evening was packed by an expectant audience long before 8 o'clock, the hour at which Mr. Balfour was announced to begin speaking. IRRECONCILABLE DIFFERENCES IN THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY

Was Again Emphasized at the Closing Session of the Sheffield Convention.

Sheffield, Eng., Oct. 2 .- The attendance today at the conference of the Conservative Associations was much smaller than yesterday, the opening day. The irreconcilable differences in the party on the fiscal question were again emphasized in the debate, and ultimately, in the interest of unity. Henry Chaplin, M. P., formerly presidept of the board of agriculture, and a lifelong protectionist, withdrew his "rider" of yesterday, and thereupon Sir John E. R. Dorington's official resolution of yesterday was carried unanimously, Sir John Gorst saying in behalf of the free fooders that they did not desire any more amendments. In withdrawing the rider, which promised to further disrupt the ranks of the Unionists, Mr. Chaplin explained that he was convinced, after hearing Mr. Balfour's speech of last night, that it would be mischievous to press the matter, as it was directly hostile to the Premier and nothing was further from his views.

Lord Hugh Cecil, M. P., and Winston Churchill, M. P., subsequently announced that they had neither voted for nor against the Dorington resolution. After the passing of a resolurging the Government to take TWO OF THE OLD FELLOWS. army, the conference terminated.

Although They Had Kennedy They Allowed Watchers to Remain at "Willows" All Night.

Brantford, Oct. 2. - There is little new in connection with the foul murder of S-year-old Irene Cole, and it is not expected that there will be any more particularly interesting developments until this evening, when evidence will be received by the coroner's jury. It is supposed that there will be told for the first time the exact details of the disappearance from her home of the murdered girl. Nothing can shake the belief of the authorities that they have the right man under arrest, and gradually a chain of evidence is being woven about Joseph Kennedy, the groom recently from Belfast, arrested early yesterday morning on suspicion, which will make it exceedingly difficult for him to free himself from the fearful charge. The police say that Kennedy was seen in the vicinity of the place where the the tragedy, and that he was not seen don the Triple Alliance, which has just from 1 o'clock in the afternoon will 4, when he was seen to come from the beneficial effect on the maintenance of district where the murder occurred. peace for more than twenty years. So certain are the authorities that they have the right man that they have practically given up the idea of looking further, and they are pretty well content with what they have accomplished. Another point in the case was cleared up, when a bar of castile coap was found on the bank of the river a few yards away from where the murder took place, and it is alleged that the prisoner went there to endeavor to remove all traces of the crime. All Wednesday night "The Willows" were surrounded by a cordon of volun-teers, who suspected that the murderer might still remain there, in the hope that the body of his victim would not be recovered so soon, and that, under cover of the darkness, he might succeed in slipping away unobserved. These watchers were not made aware of the arrest made at 2 o'clock in the morning, the local police keeping them in ignorance of the fact for two reaons, first, that there was a possibility that the right man had not been apprehended, and, second, that the crowd were in an angry mood and an at-tempt might be made to mob the prisoner.
