THE FARMERS OF PERTH ARE FOR RECIPROCITY
Will Now Have Two Markets Stock.

Toronto, March 2.—At a largely attended meeting of ward one Liberals last night, Mr. Valentine Stock, M. P. P., spoke as an erstwhile farmer of the view which the farmers of Perth have upon the subject of reciprocity. "The farmers," he said, "think it a good thing. Hitherto they have been dependent on a single market, that of Britain, and have had to take the ruling price in England.

Reciprocity will give them two strings to their bow, and they will welcome it, and sell their goods in the best market, and get the best prices for them.

It seems nonsensical to look for markets half-way round the globe, each way, in Australia and Great Britain, when there is the possibility of getting right here alongside the kitchen door.

"The present Ontario Government have done some good work," he continued, "but in these cases they have followed along the lines of the old Liberal Government.

"They have increased the expenditure enormously. In the 22 years of their office the Liberal Government increased the expenditure only two and a half millions, while in the short time the Conservatives have held the reins the expenditure has doubled."

"I am simply amazed," said Mr. G. Ritchie, K. C., "that men like Sir Edmund Walker should support a resolution like that recently passed by the board of trade. As if reciprocity would affect the loyalty of the Canadian people! Liberty is only a name in the United States, where the Congressional candidates are tied by contract to the ward bosses, and if they disobey the latter orders stand no chance of re-election."

"There is no possibility of our becoming a portion of the United States than of water mixing with oil, but as soon as we introduce the trade measures the Conservatives simply begin flag-waving."

Mr. W. F. Summerhayes said reciprocity would benefit the farmers and not the manufacturers at all, and to show that this is the opinion of farmers, irrespective of party, Mr. Summerhayes said the people of Markham had told him that the Conservatives had said that they were going to support the measure.

"Why should the railways suffer?" continued Mr. Summerhayes, "when the country is increasing so rapidly in the west?"

Referring to the annexation talk of ten years ago, the speaker challenged anyone to find a real annexationist in the whole of Canada, and called the loyalty which the Conservatives make so much of simply "political poppycock."

GREAT EXPECTATIONS
German Community Hopes To Secure Vast Sum of Money.

London, March 3.—Great expectations seem to be spreading epidemically in the Rhine region. A short time ago a couple of hundred people formed a company to follow up as heirs claims they imagine they can establish to the $200,000,000 fortune of a Dutch general, Paul Wirtz. The fate of the society's operations is Cologne, and now at Frankfurt on the Main, where the company of claimants has developed with similar intentions on a supposed fortune of $40,000,000 imagined to have been left by a peasant from the Taunus Mountains, named Johann Christoph Klip.

Klip, like Wirtz, is said to have emigrated to Holland, and there to have saved the life of a Dutch count, who made him his heir as a token of gratitude. That was a hundred years ago, and the accumulation of capital and interest since then has caused the inheritance to mount to the figures mentioned.

The first meeting of claimants took place on Feb. 13 in Kelkheim, in the Taunus district, and 250 persons appeared at it. A committee of seven were finally chosen, with Dr. H. Bach, of Frankfurt, as legal adviser.
