Have No Precedent.

SARNIA, July 19.—Ontario is a "dry" officials of the United Farmers of Alberta have no precedent, they say, one of the express offices respose cases and consignments of liquor which arrived here too late for delivery yesterday, when liquor could be transported according to the laws of the province, and which today, according to the strict letter of the law, cannot be moved. According to certain citizens, it seems only reasonable that in such cases, the persons to whom the stuff is consigned should be allowed to receive their shipments in the regular way. At least that is the way in which those whose names and addresses are on the cases in question view the matter.

Chief of Police Lannin stated that if the shipments were regular in every way way there would be no interference.

WOOD MAY BE PREMIER.

EDMONTON, July 19.—Surmises as to the personnel of the pending Farmer nent of Alberta are general in near-political circles. For the premier-ship itself the two names most frequentw mentioned are those of H. W. Wood talk on the subject at all. He would not even state whether or not he had and George Hoadley. The fact that Mr. Wood is president of the farmers' organization and the acknowledged leader of their forces, is regarded as likely to give him an advantage and the concen-sus of opinion seems to be that a seat sus of opinion seems to be that a seat will be opened for him in order to bring him into the Government as a sitting member. The chances are thought to be against Mr. Hoadley' being invited to the leader's chair, largely because of the fact that he has, until recently, been a party member and has only recently allied himself with the farmers' interests. He is, however, being slated for the portfolio of agriculture.

When it comes to minister of munic pal affairs at present combined with the provincial treasuryship, the forecasts are even less certain, but it is considered likely that the portfolio will be divided. Twenty-four days these sanguine five expect to be and Mrs. Wagner have returned, leaving Miss Knight here to spend her on the pcean, but many a wind-struck on the pcean, but many a wind-struck veteran of the Nova Scotia coast veteran of the Nova Scotla coast shakes his head and says with ominous meaning, "Mebbe so." At any rate, Commander Houghton is commodore of the Crouch Tablet Club, and he in tends to enter his boat in the cruiser yacht races here this summer.

The course the Neith is taking will lead her in a northeasterly direction towards Newfoundland, sighting Cape Race; thence to the south coast of Ireland, to the Scilly Island, up the English Channel, through the Straits of Dover, across the mouth of the Thames estuary, and to the River Crouch. Unless it is absolutely necessary the Neith will make no port until she arrives at her destination.

The Neith was designed and built by Hereshof, Rhode Island, in 1907, as a fasts cruiser-rigged yacht. She is 39 feet long, has a beam of 10 feet 7 inches and draws 7 feet 8 inches with her keel. Under ordinary cruising rig her sail area is 1,800 square feet. The cruissail area is 1,800 square rect. The cruising and racing equipment includes two square sails, large and small, intended to take the place of a spinnaker in running before the wind. She is fitted with hollow spars.

Well Provisioned.

On the yacht's deck is a dory fitted with watertight bulkheads at each end. It has a center board, keel and sail. Pro-vision to last fourteen days are kept in this boat. The body of the dory is fitted with a strong canvas cover so arranged that it can be spread and secured with all hands inside. The Neith carries about two tons of provisions, sufficient for two months. This includes 150 gallons of water, onehalf gallon to be allowed per man per day.
