officials, why those people were no allowed to go on the train which left Campbellton on the suburban's time, this the people would have got to their homes at a reasonable hour, instead of night in a cold car on a back siding in Campbellton. Or if in their great railroad wisdom they could not have policeman direct those people to a car which was not to leave for three and a half hours? Why were they not left in the waiting room which was at least warm and clean? This case is no exception. Such is the treatment the people whose business calls them to Campbellton, and who Now as the merchants and profes-

Only three weeks from this date, and when we will be nominating candida-tes for the management of our town affairs for another year, and it is to be hoped the ratepayers will awake from their apathy, and induce new and capable men, who will be willing to make a little sacrifice to work zealously during the next twelve months to further the best interests of this

There is one question, (among others) that should have been agitated every day last year, by the Press and the Council, but all were hushed and why? I refer to the great need of the proposed Central Subway. Fortunaters so far, we have not had the necessity of reporting deaths at this dangerous or reporting deaths at this dangerous. Andrew Street crossing, but we may expect bad news any day. The children going to and from school, still continue to crawl under trains stalled there, but we never hear of any official reporting these blocked crossings. The ratepayers interested have a very strong suspicion, that the "Downing Street" influence is the only explanation as to why this important matter is never spoken of above a whisper within the walls of the Council Hall. The rallway authorites, it is said, anticipate building this subway some day, but the townspeople should press the matter, showing the great and
