KEEP YOUR TEMPER.

Be good-tempered. It pays in every way; it pays if you are an employer; it pays if you are an employee; it is profitable in every walk of life. And this is taking the most selfish view. You owe it to others to be good-tempered; you owe it to your own manhood, to your own self-respect. In making others comfortable, you are making things agreeable for yourself; you are gaining and keeping goodwill, which may be of value and help to you hereafter; you are accumulating a capital of popularity and good report which may be used to advantage, perhaps at a critical time. Good temper is a great factor in success.—Business.
