

PROSPECTUS OF THE 2nd VOLUME

OF THE

COTTAGER'S FRIEND,

AND

GUIDE OF THE YOUNG.

TERMS--2s. 6d., or 50 cents, Per Year,
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

A discount of 20 per cent. will be made to Sabbath Schools.

This monthly publication, containing twenty-four pages, 12mo, medium size, of the choicest reading matter, is designed for the instruction and entertainment of Cottagers, Mechanics, Farmers, Tradesmen, Servants, Apprentices, Sunday-school Scholars, and others.

The design of this work is to aid in the formation of character; establish good principles; cultivate right feelings; promote correct habits of body, mind, and heart, and thus become a storehouse of useful and entertaining knowledge for the Home, for the Family, for the Young and for the Old; constantly supplying a fund of entertaining instruction for all.

The leading features of the work will be—History, Geography, Geology, Natural History, Travels, Religious Biography, &c., accompanied by an abundant miscellany of Essays, Sketches by Sea and Land, Narratives of Remarkable Occurrences, Interesting Anecdotes, Dialogues, Book-Notices, Dictionary-Notices, Poetry, &c. Considering the narrow limits of the Cottager's Friend, it is impossible to introduce all these topics into each number; but they will all receive a due share of attention.

That nothing may be inserted inconsistent with morality and virtue, the greatest care will be taken to have every article thoroughly dissected before it is admitted into this work. It is designed to be interesting not only for the moment, but to be of permanent value, and to form a part of every family library.

And now, as we are under heavy expenses, and great responsibilities, we most respectfully invite the Christian public to peruse our PROSPECTUS, trusting that the COTTAGER'S FRIEND will be deemed worthy of being procured by HEADS OF FAMILIES for their Children.
