Hall and the Confederation rooms in d'Olier ! street, Debin, are as determined as ever to secure the darling object of their agitation. The adhesion of Mr. Sharman Crawford to the ranks of the Protestant Repeal Association, lately brought into existence, and the very enthusiastic meeting of its members which was held a few evenings ago, all tend to demonstrate the possibility of Her Majesty convoking, ere long, an Irish Parliament in College-green.

A London correspondent of one of the Dublin daily papers states, that it has been positively settled that the Queen shall visit Ireland during the course of the summer. The time named for the trip is the last week in July, or the first week in August.

The Protestant Repeal Association held its first meeting in the Music-hall, Abbey-street, Dublin, on Tuesday last.

Some progress has been made in the state trials this week. On Monday the plea of abatement in the case of Mr. Mitchell was argued before the Judges of the Queen's Bench. Their lordships gave their decision on Wednesday, which was adverse to the traverser; whereupon the Attorney General called upon Mr. Mitchell to plead forthwith. Mr. Mitchell 1. - e pleaded " not guilty." - Mr. Smith O'Brion's trial commences on Monday, and Mr. bleagher's on Tuesday .- Mr. Mitchell cannot be tried till next term.

The special juries in the case of Mr. Mitchell were struck yesterday, and the Attorney General has made an application for a trial at bar, and that Easter term may be extended for the purpose. Mr. Mitchell did not oppose the application.

The following is from Lord Clarendon's ceply to the Dublin Corporation address.

16 I begrow to repeat what I said on a former occasion with reference to the same subject, that I entirely respect your convictions, and feel and that you look to the Repeal of the Union for the establishment of perfect peace, tranquil-lity and prosperity; and I doubt not you will believe me equally sincere when I declare my deliberate conviction, that consequences the severse of what you expect would flow from that measure, which must inevitably be attended by complete separation from England; and those who looked for increased prosperity, or even the maintenance of order and security to life and property under a different form of Govorrment, would, when too late, discover the fatal error they had committed.

41, therefore, deeply regret the continuation of popular excitement with respect to a measure that never can be obtained without a complete change in the policy of the statesmen and prople of Great Rritain, and of the opinions of the vast majority of those who represent the property, the intelligence, and the industry of Ireland.

64 trust that, as the danger of disturbance has now passed away, the exitement and alarm which it has created throughout the country. will speedity subside; and I can, with sincere pleasure, give the assurance you ask of me, that the Government has reliance upon the people-for, by discountenancing as they have done, the offices a perseveringly made to mislead them, they have given the best proof of that loyalty and true allegiance which affords the surest foundation on which the existence of the Covernment can be based."

Live Evidention.—The passenger trade has greatly decreased this year in Sligo. And but Are connectively now offer themselves as emigrants, compared to the thousands who left our shores in the spring of 1817. This can be accounted for in many ways. The awful loss of life in those ships in which the fever broke of the deplorable condition of the survivorstheir sickness and misere—and the gloomy accounts sent home by them, have coterred many from emigrating. But there is a stronger check upon the people. The new passenger regulations have added considerably to the price of the passage, and the people have less modey than last year. Which the Lamine and pestilence came, almost all who could leave the country did so .- S'igo Champion.

FRANCE.--Some French news will be found on our 4th page. We subjoin on article from the Correspondence of the Quebec

Mercury: The French journals are chiefly occupied with the proceedings in the National Assembly. An Executive commission has been appointed composed of five members of the National Assembly-M M. Arago, Garnier Pages, Marie, Lamartine & Ledra Rollin. The parties appointed have given general satisfaction, though Ledra Rellin is much disliked, yet it is considered better that he should be one of the Executive rather than allowed to be at large. Disturbances are said to have broken out at Tonlon, but reports from other parts of the provin-

just arrived here from Paris, to put the whole line of coast in a state of defence, and to mount guns on the detached forts, which are built a little way out at sea. The gates of the upper town are also to be repaired and fortified.

ITALY .- From Lombardy we are in hourly expectation of receiving news of a decisive engagement between Charles Albert and the Austrians under the walls of Verona.

It is beyond doubt that the Austrians are in a most critical position, from which they can only be extricated by the opportune advance of Count Nugent, whose successes have, it is said, been checked by the coming up of the allies from the south, and the determined resolution of the people of the country through which he passes to resist his progress. But the most important event of the war has occurred It Rome. The repugnance of the Pope to declare war against Austria, the most Cathohe country of central Europe, has drawn much his Holiness the whole weight of popular fury. On the 1st and 2nd instant, a movement was got up at Rome to compel him to declare was against the Austrians, which he long resisted. The safety of the Pope, the cardinals, and indeed, the city itself being threatened-for the mob vowed they would set fire to it—the Pope at length yielded. The Ministry was dismissed, a new popular administration formed, and the i bzettern. The Count had become very unpopu-Terrorists became completely triumphant: The lar. concessions made are, that no priests shall in couragement given to volunteers amongst the tion of the intervention of Switzerland in the Roman youth to proceed to fight against the affairs of Italy, which he opposed.

The Journal des Dévats confirms the above. It appears that Rome has regularly rebelled against him, and the probability is that his the capital by a proclamation of the Captain-Holiness will be deposed as a temporal Prince. General. In fact, the entire executive authority appears to be exercised by the new ministry without any control on the part of the Pontiff .- European Times.

We have received letters of the 3rd, from ur correspondent at the head-quarters of the l'iedinontese army. The whole army had been under arms for three days and three nights, on the line of hills extending from Vallegio, in the Mincio, to Pontone, on the Upper Adige, but place. It is said the King is preparing to at-tempt the crossing of the Adige at Bussolengo and Pontone, and to cut off the retreat of Radetsky to the Tyrol as well as to turn Verona to the north. But our correspondent seems to think that the first movement will be against Peschiera, as the force before that place had just been strengthened with a large battery of rtillery and two battalions of Savoyards. Semaphore.

VESICE .- An Austrian fleet has blockaded he port of Venice, causing great distress and excitement among the people of that city.

The Fenction Gazette of the 13th publishes a decree of the Republic, accepting the offer of the formation of a female battalion, who will be employed in tending the wounded, and all those military employments that may be effected without public display.

DENMARK AND SCHLESWIG .- The hostilities between Germany and Denmark, of which Schleswig has recently been the unhappy theatre, become more and more alarming. In spite of the reiterated assurances of the belligerent parties of their willingness to accept the mediation of friendly powers, and in spite of the actual steps taken by this country in order to render such mediation effective, there is no uppearance of any relaxation in the warlike operations of either party. No truce has been stablished, and the status quo has not been restored.

By the Hamburgh papers we learn that the Danish Government has declared in a state of dockade the ports, coasts and rivers, of the dates of the Kines of Prossia and Hanover, the Grand Dukes of Oldenburg and Mecklenburg, nd the Hanse towns of Hamburgh, Bremen and Lubeck, as well as such Danish ports as may be occupied by their troops.

The Prussian troops have entered Jutland, and had occupied the fortress of Fredericia. on the Little Relt, which was surrendered without resistance, as the Danish troops and previously retited into the island of

We learn from the Borsonialle that the Landgrave William of Hesse, and Prince Prederick have forwarded a letter to the Prince Elector in which they state that they are about to leave Denmark and the Danish service. This is probably the prelude to a very highly satisfactory arrangement for the settlement of this nahappy dispute.

The Danes remained shut up in the island of Alsen up to the 4th instant, when it is positively stated that they withdrew to Zealand. Poussian and allied atmy is at Weile, holding Pridericia, the key of the little Belt in their

The Schleswin Holstein contest, as viewed by a Correspondent of "Evangelical Christen-dam" writing from the Shores of the Baltic -The feats expressed by your Danis's correspon-dent respecting the probable results from the accession of Frederick VII have been, alas prophetic. Civil war, with all its peculiar horrors, has been excited in that portion of his ominions in which he personally holds a heeditary ducal sway, but which, under the influence of Danish faction (or, perhaps, quite as probably, of Champagne), he was led, im-mediately on his succession, to at empt incorporating with the kingdom of Denmark, to which it never belonged. The duchies armed n defence of their threatened indepen fence. headed by the princes whose success, onal pretensions this incorporation would annihila. Appeal was made to the German Diet to mo eet the German soil from Danish eneroachment and pronounce the indissoluble integrity of leswick-Holstein as one indivisible ducky The anneal was heard and answered, by Prussian, Hanoverian, Brunswick, Mecklenburg. and Oldenburg troops harrying to the aid of the invaded duchies. But while Prassia and Hastrance to change the councils of the Danish ! ministry (for the king is a cipher, if not a prisoner in their hands), bloodshed has begun. and that on no petty scale. Thirteen hundred souls (on both sides) are believed to have been sent to their great account on the 8th and 9th instant. The Prussians will, of course, now assume the offensive, in aid of their aggrieved allies of Sleswick-Holstein, and this will. most probably, be followed by an attack on the Baltic ports by the Danish navy. We are, therefore, in jeopardy every Lour of having our long-cherished outward peace disturbed, and, without any political fault of our own, being involved in the consequences of this senseless and unjustifiable attack by the King of Denmark, on the chartered rights of a part of his dominions, which is no more a Danish province than Hanover was an English one; raving become connected with Denmark in a glean a few items of more recent date. The whole of Germany continues in an agitated state, and the report of the collection of an army of 50,000 men between Bamberg and Nuremberg has created a deep sensation at Paris. On the Prussian-Polish frontiers, the utter disorganization of all government, has led to the most frightful excesses. The whole province of Posen is in arms, and that city is not unlikely to be taken by the Poles. Between the latter and the Germans the fiercest animosity subsists; the Poles have refused to send any delegates to the Diet, and in fact, abjure all connection with the Germans.

The Emperor of Austria, in accordance with the netition of Count Figurelmont for his dismissal from the office of Provisional President of the Council of Ministers, and of Minister of the Foreign and Home Departments, has been pleased to appoint, ad interim, Baron von Le-

SWITZERLAND. - We learn from Berne under future fill any public employment, war shall be date of the 8th inst. that M. Ochsenbein had formally declared, Pope Pius IX. to be the head resigned the presidency of the directory of the of the Covernment, a daily bulletin of the News diet and his other offices. This resolution was from the seal of war to be published, and on-indopted by him in consequence of the ques-

On the 20th it was to be decided if his resignation should be accepted; if it were, it would vailed in Paris, yesterday, that the Pope, settle the question of intervention in the affir-repenting his late hostility to Austria, had mative.

The latest accounts from Madrid mention was to be had, and much damage was donethat the state of siege had been removed from

Reasta .- There remains but little doubt as to the intended campaign of Russia; among other preparations, the creation of a bridge of boats. at the fortress Nowo Gierorgierosk. across the Vistula has an evident warlike appearance, since there is no main road leading roin the fortress,

The Paris Constitutional states that accounts have been received in Paris that the first division of the Russian fleet quitted Sebastopol on the 20th ult., steering towards the coast of Bessarabia. Many conjectures were formed as to its destination.

TAULTI.-We read in L'Espérance that the French Government is very desirous that two Protestant Missionaries, being French minis-ters, or pastors, should go to Tahiti. The Catholic missionaries have been recalled and are not to return to the Isle Pomarée. We have good authority for stating, as it comes from Catholics who have been some years in the island, that the Catholic missionaries have not made a single proselyte amongst the natives. At the present time there is but one priest there, and he is for the service of the French authorities and the garrison.—From Bulletin du monde Chrétien, Feb. 1818.

HAYTI.-This unfortunate country has again become the arena of a sanguinary scene. We learn from respectable authority that the black population have tisen en masse against the mulatto inhabitants, and were committing awful ravages among them. The cause of outbreak we are mable to ascertain, but it is supposed to be a dissatisfaction of the browns to be governed by the present President. The British mer-chants resident at Port-an-Prince engaged the brig Queen Victoria, which happened fortunately to be there, and sent, through the British consul, to the commodore on this station, requesting the immediate presence of a man-ofwar to protect British subjects and their interests. There was a French vessel of war at Port-an-Prince, and we are informed that her presence tended in a great degree to quell the outbreak which took place, but which, not withstanding, was of a most serious nature.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.-By an arrival at New-York, two days later advices from Be-lize, Honduras, have been received. The following intelligence has been communicated writally by the captain.

When he left, nearly the whole of Yucatan was in possession of the Indians. The taking of Bacalar by them had filled Belize with refugees, and indeed fears were entertained that they would attack Belize in fulfilment of their threat. In the attack on Bacalar, only five of the inhabitants were killed, as far as is known, but at Valladolid every male inhabitant was put to the sword.

The public meeting assembled on the 27ta April, by call of H. M. Superintendent, and voted $15,000 for the defence of the place.

The militial were to be called out, the old fort at the harbour repaired, and a cordon offorts established for the better security of the town. If the Indians should venture an attack, they would certainly meet with a warm recention They were reported as being in force to the umber of 12,000.

The Government had sent a schooner to Jamaica with despatches, supposed to contain application for additional troops.

But while Prussia and Ha-the errivel of the first cargo of ore from the MESTER, Royal Engineers, to ELEANOR, young-nover were trying the effect of thiendly remon-Bruce Mine. We have to-day to record the est daughter of the late Hon. A. Brucher and opening of another channel for Canadian trade. The Ireland, a steamer of about three hundred tons burden is now chartered, and will on Monday sail from this port direct for Chicago, with a cargo of St. Ebes salt. The charterers are Messes. Young, Hoi, wes and Knapp, and we understood that they propose to forward som oil, brandy, and other articles out of bond by the same vessel, by an experiment on the markets of the Far West. There will be some salt among her cargo-of which we understand a large quantity is consumed in Michigan and the neighbouring States, and which has hi therto been sent by way of New Orleans, and Mississippi. It is unnecessary to point out advantage of the St. Lawrence route over the southern one for that species of merchandise. There can be no doubt, that with the forwarding facilities now possessed by our mercantile community, the whole of this branch of trade must accrue to us. The vessels which come here with fish from the Lower Ports, will of course which (equally with flanover) must be severed always meet with cargoes of provisions for the return voyage. In this enterprize, as in so many others, the hand of the unskilful legislator is perceived in the injury of the merchant. Mr. Christie's exertions in favour of his oriental constituents, have saddled the importer of cod or mackerel from Nova Scotian ports, with a luty, which, we believe, exceeds 75 per cent. The late intercolonial acts will, however, set this to rights. The steamer, besides the articles of produce, will, we are told, bring down a number of live cattle. Herald.

LAUSOH .- The New Steamer " New Era" was launched from Mr. Fowler's ship-yard at the appointed hour on Wednesday, and in the presence of a very large concourse of the good citizens of Kingston. The New Ena is about one hundred and eighty feet in length—the limit fixed for vessels which may be employed on the tiver, using the St. Lawrence Canals.— Kingston Chron.

DISTRESSING DEATH .- Mr. Rolph Lee, son of the late Dr. Lee, of London, C. W., lost his life in an attempt to cross the river at Brantford in a canoe, being carried away by the current and precipitated over the rapids. He had just completed his studies for the medical profes sion, received his diploma, and was on his way home, to enter upon medical practice. His father fell a victim, last year, to the Typhus fever, and left a widow and children who have now to deplore this additional bereavement in the early death of a son and brother.
