Alcoholism

About ten years ago strong influence, by each of two opposing interests, was brought to bear to induce the Ontario Government to adopt medical treatment for inebriates in the penal institutions of the province by the use of secret or proprietary remedies. The matter was referred to the Prisoners' Aid Association of Canada, and Dr. Rosebrugh was commissioned to visit in Canada and the United States, interview specialists, and report upon the most scientific method of treatment of inebriety. Upon his return he reported strongly against the employment of secret remedies, and the Government declined to grant the request referred to. Since then Dr. Rosebrugh has made the treatment of inebriates a special study, and his practice is limited to this speciality.

Correspondence welcomed.
