QUEEN'S ITINERARY ANNOUNCED

A programme of engagements for the visit to Canada of Her Majesty, the Queen, has been announced. Accompanied by His Royal Highness, The Prince Philip, Her Majesty will arrive at Uplands airport on October 12, and leave by Royal Canadian Air Force aircraft for the United States on October 16.

Government House will be the residence of The Queen and Prince Philip during their stay in Canada.

HISTORIC EVENT

The opening of Parliament, Monday, October 14, the first in Canadian history by the Reigning Monarch, will be broadcast nationally by television and radio networks. As Queen of Canada, Her Majesty also has consented to make a special television and radio address to the nation on Sunday, October 13, and Prince Philip also will deliver a radio address on the subject of the Duke of Edinburgh's Study Conference.

"In view of the very limited time at their disposal on this occasion, The Queen and Prince Philip have had to confine their engagements to the Ottawa area", Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker said when announcing the Queen's itinerary. "However, it is hoped that these broadcasts as well as other public information arrangements will afford the Canadian public generally a sense of presence with all of us here in Ottawa."

"It seems particularly fitting that Her Majesty should find it possible to be in Ottawa this year, which is the one hundredth anniversary of the selection by Queen Victoria of Ottawa as the future national capital."

"It is also most gratifying that The Queen herself will be able to participate in a ceremony marking the beginning of the Queensway - a project involving the co-operation of the City of Ottawa, the Province of Ontario and the Federal Government and one forming an important part of long-term plans to develop the national capital."
