CARSON'S MESSAGE FULL OF CONFIDENCE

Britain Starts Second Year of War Assured of Victory.

HOST OF VOLUNTEERS

Never Before in World's History Has Equal Been Known.

Against the settled laws of international law, it has done nothing to affect the vast commerce of our empire. The German submarine attack has signally failed to hamper our military operations. Under the protection of our navy hundreds of thousands of men have been brought to the fighting area from the most distant parts of the empire. Troop ships are crossing daily to France and not a single ship or a single soldier has been lost in the passage.

Great Volunteer Army.
"At the commencement of the war, an expeditionary force of 170,000 men for defence against invasion, all we could boast of, but today Great Britain teems with military camps, in which millions of men of the finest material are being trained and equipped to cope with every emergency."

"No other nation in the world ever produced a volunteer army of such proportions. Each day brings to the colors thousands of men who had never thought of military service before, and each day our enemy grows weaker. The infancy of our strength is growing into manhood, and with increasing virility and prowess. No doubt some people are foolish enough to be influenced by the misrepresentations which are a part of equipment of our German enemies, who represent us as a decadent race. But they know little of the spirit of our people."

"As the problem unfolds from day to day, and the task before us expands into its herculean dimensions, our efforts and organization quietly shape themselves to meet the emergency that is before us. That this is being accomplished without dramatic demonstration and foolish boasting is not a sign of weakness, but of strength."

Heroism of Allies.
"The splendid heroism of our Russian and French allies is an additional incentive to our national honor to carry on to an end the obligations which we have undertaken. And if the moment comes when the largest action by our brave Russian allies, who are compelled to wage a costly and difficult war against the Turks in the Dardanelles as well as against our enemies in Flanders, we cheerfully resolve to fit our resources for the situation which confronts us."

"It is, of course, true that our country has not been accustomed to organization and discipline which is the unthinking men from time to time to imagine that there could be a different discipline in the coal fields or the workshops from that which prevails in the trenches; but all that is a mere temporary difficulty, and it cannot impede the country, which has made up its mind to win if it has to spend the last man and its last dollar in the process."

War Loan's Success.
"The success of the recent war loan shows how anxious our people are to invest their money in the prosecution of the war. Not only is the largest loan that ever has been floated, but it represents not merely the accumulation of capital of a few large banks, but the hard-earned savings of small investors in every part of the country. Although our shores are not invaded, and we have not experienced the necessities of a war waged in our own country, yet there is hardly a family in any village in the land that has not willingly sent its money to fight our battles in foreign lands."

"While I see every day more anxiety of every man to do his bit, I can see no sign of wavering in any section of the community."

Warning to Neutrals.
"We have the right to say to neutrals that our cause is just, that the war has been forced upon us, and that we are making, and are going to make, every sacrifice that makes a nation great, to bring our cause to a successful conclusion. We have a right, I think, to ask neutrals to examine their own consciences as to whether they have done everything that neutrals ought to do, or can do, in insisting on the laws of humanity, and the de-

Adams' August Furniture Sale

Opens Tomorrow With a Great Offer of "Pullman" Davenport Beds at - - - $24.75

Instead of "keeping the best things till the last" we are starting right into the August Sale to offer some of the choicest plums that our buyers secured for this great annual economy event. Furniture for every department of the home is here in abundance. On each floor are hundreds and hundreds of elegant pieces wearing reduced price tickets telling of the big money savings possible, and when it is remembered that anything may be purchased on our "Charge Account" plan at the Sale Prices there should be joy among home providers everywhere.

The Pullmanette Open as a Bed.

Just $2 Down and small weekly sums will buy one of these Famous Davenport Beds.

$35.00 is the price at which these peerless Pullman Davenport Beds regularly sell, but by agreeing with the makers to take an unusually large quantity which they made up for us during the slack period, we are enabled to offer them at the extraordinarily low price of only $24.75, and this on the extremely low terms quoted above, namely, $2 down and small weekly or monthly sums till paid for. Truly an attractive opportunity to secure one of the best makes of Davenports.

SOLID OAK FRAMES—The design is a neat and sturdy one; semi-mission; frames are of selected oak, finished in either golden with coverings of black moroccoline, or fumed or early English with brown Spanish moroccoline covering. The seats and backs have extra deep spring upholstery.

These Davenports are equipped with separate Spring and Felt Mattress included in above price.

The simplest operation opens these Davenports up to a full size bed, and exposes a separate spring and all-felt mattress, which can be turned and aired at will, just as on an ordinary bed. There is no extra charge for this. Thus you do not use upholstered section for sleeping on.

You Have Choice of Two Sizes.

Either the full-length Pullman Davenport, 7 ft. long, or the Pullmanette, which is only 5 ft. 4 in. long, may be had at this price. Both of these open up to a full-size bed (the Pullmanette having a slightly larger bed).

Altogether this provides one of the best bargain features that any special sale has offered, and those who wish to own a good Davenport Bed will do wisely to act at once and secure one of these before the lot is all snapped up. Come tomorrow and place your order with us.

Watson at her summer house on the Georgian Bay.

Miss Maud Kirkpatrick has left town for Muskoka.

Lieut.-Col. Nicholas, Miss Nicholas, Mr. Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Proctor, and Miss Ethel Suckling left on Saturday to motor to the Clifton, Niagara Falls, where they will spend the week-end and the holiday.

There was a very large dance at the Queen's Royal, Niagara, on Saturday night, the house being well filled, and the dancing was most enjoyable.

On Sunday morning people were glad to put their "case on the line" with a white sail, and a very large number of people, who danced vigorously and enjoyed the dances again and again. Between the dances the Casino emptied, as there was a beautiful breeze outside.
