

world, not only in the community, as Christian, but also in the special notion, as Reformed ; keeping the middle way between the pomp of superstitious tyranny, and the meanness of fantastic anarchy.

Not but that (the draught being excellent as to the main, both for doctrine and government, in the Church of England) some lines, as in very good figures, may haply need some sweetening or polishing, which might have been easily done by a safe and gentle hand ; if some men's precipitancy had not violently demanded such rude alterations as would have quite destroyed all the beauty and and proportions of the whole."
