

LATELY ISSUED.

HANDBOOK OF CHEMISTRY. Theoretical, Practical, and Technical. By A. F. ASKE, F. C. S., and C. L. BAXAM. With a Recommendatory Preface by Dr. HOFMANN, and numerous illustrations on wood. In one large and handsome octavo volume, of 662 pages, extra cloth.

It must be understood that this is a work fitted for the earnest student, who resolves to pursue for himself a steady search into the chemical mysteries of creation. For such a student the "Handbook" will prove an excellent guide, since he will find in it, not merely the most approved modes of analytical investigation, but descriptions of the apparatus necessary, with such manipulatory details as rendered Faraday's "Chemical Manipulations" so valuable at the time of its publication. Beyond this, the importance of the work is increased by the introduction of much of the technical chemistry of the manufactory.—Athenæum.

THE PRINCIPAL FORMS OF THE SKELETON, AND THE FORMS AND STRUCTURE OF THE TEETH. By PROFESSOR R. OWEN. In one very handsome royal 12mo. volume, with numerous illustrations on wood.

This volume will present in a concise and popular form a complete view of the most recent state of comparative osteology; the correctness of which is sufficiently vouched for by the name of the distinguished author. A subject of so much interest to the man of science, and more especially to the geologist, cannot fail to attract general attention.

TECHNOLOGY;

OR, CHEMISTRY APPLIED TO THE ARTS AND TO MANUFACTURES. By Dr. F. KNAPP. Edited, with numerous Notes and Additions, by Dr. EDWARD RONALDS and Dr. THOMAS RICHARDSON. With additional Notes by Prof. WALTER R. JOHNSON. In two large and very handsome octavo volumes, with about five hundred splendid illustrations.

PRINCIPLES OF THE MECHANICS

OF MACHINERY AND ENGINEERING. By Prof. JULIUS WEISSBACH. Translated and edited by Prof. GORDON, of Glasgow. With Additions, by Prof. WALTER R. JOHNSON. In two large and very handsome octavo volumes, with about one thousand beautiful illustrations.

CARPENTER ON ALCOHOL.

ON THE USE AND ABUSE OF ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS IN HEALTH AND DISEASE. By W. B. CARPENTER, M. D., author of "Human Physiology," &c. New edition, with Preface and Notes, by D. F. CONDIE, M. D. In one neat royal 12mo. volume, extra cloth.

This new edition has been prepared with a view to an extended popular circulation of this valuable work, the notes by Dr. Condie containing explanations of the scientific terms employed. Copies in flexible cloth may be had free of postage by mail on remitting 50 cents to the publishers.

A very liberal deduction will be made when quantities are taken for distribution by societies or individuals.

DE LA BECHE'S GEOLOGY.

THE GEOLOGICAL OBSERVER. By Sir HENRY T. DE LA BECHE, C. B., F. R. S. Director-General of the Geological Survey of Great Britain. In one large and handsome octavo volume, extra cloth, of seven hundred pages, with over three hundred wood-cuts.

This volume will be found to present a very complete summary of what has already been accomplished in the science of geology, while at the same time it indicates to the student the mode and direction in which future researches should be pursued.

BOWMAN'S HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL CHEMISTRY, including Analysis. In one neat royal 12mo. volume, extra cloth, with numerous illustrations.

BEALE ON THE LAWS OF HEALTH IN RELATION TO MIND AND BODY. A Series of Letters from an old Practitioner to a Patient. In one neat royal 12mo. volume, extra cloth.

BUSHNAN'S POPULAR PHYSIOLOGY

OF ANIMAL AND VEGETABLE LIFE. In one handsome royal 12mo. volume of 200 pages, with over 100 engravings on wood. See p. 10.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

By MARY SOMERVILLE. A new American, from the last and Revised London Edition. With Notes and a Glossary, by W. S. W. RUSCHENBERGER, M. D., U. S. N. In one large royal 12mo. volume, extra cloth, (See p. 9.)

DANA ON ZOOPHYTES AND CORALS. Being a portion of the scientific publications of the U. S. Exploring Expedition. In one large royal quarto volume, extra cloth, with an Atlas of sixty magnificent colored plates, handsomely and strongly bound in half morocco.

EVANS'S YOUNG MILLWRIGHT'S AND MILLER'S GUIDE. Fourteenth Edition. Edited by THOMAS F. JONES. In one octavo volume, leather, with numerous plates.
