

Baseball

Buffalo 6-2
Toronto 1-3

EVEN BREAK WITH THE BISONS MORNING FIXTURE WAS FARCE

Howley and Two of His Hirelings Chased for Ragging
Umpires—Anderson Joins the Club and Makes Good—The Details.

Special to The Toronto Daily World.

Buffalo, N.Y., May 30.—Completely routed in the morning fracas when the Bison slugging corps sent them down to defeat by a score of 6 to 1 in a farcical exhibition, Dan Howley's last brigade came back in the afternoon with Hal Justin, the mainstay of the twirling staff, on duty, and squeezed out a victory over the home club by a count of 3 to 2. The holiday program was witnessed by 8000 people. The Leafs saved themselves from the zero end of the series by taking the afternoon contest, as the Bisons won the first two games. The morning victory was the seventh straight for the Buffalo outfit.

Ragged the Umpires.

Over three thousand people were on hand to witness the morning contest and they saw a farcical exhibition which several times threatened to break up in a riot of the forfeiture of the game to the Bisons. Continual ragging at the umpires by the Toronto players resulted in Howley, Eddie Omslow and Bugs Hersche being chased to the showers before the game was completed.

Get This One.

Buffalo boys who started their careers on the sand lots of the city contributed largely to the downfall of the Bisons in the afternoon encounter, as Andy Anderson, a former Central Depot player, who is now holding down a berth with Howley's outfit, crashed out a two-ply wallop, which scored two of the Leafs' tallies, and he scored the other one himself.

Red Fisher, another of the Buffalo boys, played a big part in the Toronto triumph, driving out two hits and backing up Fitcher Hal Justin in sensational style. A corps of Fisher's admirers stepped to the plate when he went to bat in the third inning and presented him with a handsome traveling bag and several

Get This One.

Buffalo boys who started their careers on the sand lots of the city contributed largely to the downfall of the Bisons in the afternoon encounter, as Andy Anderson, a former Central Depot player, who is now holding down a berth with Howley's outfit, crashed out a two-ply wallop, which scored two of the Leafs' tallies, and he scored the other one himself.

Get This One.

Buffalo boys who started their careers on the sand lots of the city contributed largely to the downfall of the Bisons in the afternoon encounter, as Andy Anderson, a former Central Depot player, who is now holding down a berth with Howley's outfit, crashed out a two-ply wallop, which scored two of the Leafs' tallies, and he scored the other one himself.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

Get This One.

"Clothiers To All Mankind"

NEVER before was there so much evidence of the influence of clothes. In order to live up to your clothes you must first get clothes worth living up to. That means you must go where such clothes are to be found.

Of course individual clothes are harder to get now than they were—which makes them count for more when you do get them.

And you do get them here—patterns and weaves that others will tell you are not to be had.

And tailoring that is 100 per cent. style, if you know what we mean.

Prices Low Enough
$18 to $35

See the New Neckwear
See the New Shapes in Men's Hats

STRAWS and PANAMAS
ARROW SHIRTS and COLLARS

ED. MACK, LIMITED

167 YONGE STREET—Opp. SIMPSON'S
Open Saturday Till 10 p.m.

DEMPSEY AND FULTON TO GO TWENTY ROUNDS

Will Meet at Danbury, Conn., on Big American Holiday—Articles signed.

Denver, Colo., May 30.—Jack Dempsey of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., today signed articles to meet in a 20-round contest to a decision at Danbury, Conn., on July 4.

The bout will be promoted by J. R. Mulvihill of Danbury. The amount of the purse was not made known.

The principals have agreed to allow ten per cent. of the gross receipts of the fight to go for charity purposes. "Honest John" Kelly of New York City was named official stakeholder.

That Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight, has not lost his punching or boxing skill as a result of his three years' service in the army was conclusively demonstrated recently at the expense of an American boxer who took ring liberties with the French pugilist.

It was Sergt. Ray William of the American army who took to the ring with Carpentier in the first round of a boxing exhibition at St. Albans, Vt., last night. As a result William was knocked out in the second round, and the memory of that fight will linger in the mind of Sergt. William's memory for years to come.

A crowd of more than 10,000 witnessed the athletic sports at St. Albans, Gen. Cottet of the French army presided, with Brig.-General Alexander and Vortub of the American army assisting. After Anderson hit the 100 yards in 0.12, the 220 in 0.28, and Steel had broken the 440 for the mile race in 5.34, a four-round, or rather, what was to be a four-round, boxing exhibition was put on, with the French champion, Georges Carpentier, and Sergt. Ray William as the contestants.

DICK RUDOLPH JOINS BRAVES

Boston, May 30.—"Dick" Rudolph, of world series fame, has at last come to terms with the management of the Boston National League Baseball Club. It is learned here that at a conference with Manager Stallings in New York yesterday Rudolph, who has been a holdout over the salary question, agreed to rejoin the team. He will don the Braves uniform at Brooklyn today.

Cheered by his friends among the spectators, William started in with a rush into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

It was plain to all that Carpentier meant business when he stepped out for the second round. He feinted William into a knot, jabbed him lightly in the stomach with his left, which caused the American to lower his guard, and crossed his right to the chin, and William went down and out. The round had lasted 0.10.

After William came to, he shook hands with Carpentier, and said: "I got mine. I am satisfied. Later he explained to a friend that he understood now why they called it "Georges." "There are so many of him," he said.

HOW CLUBS STAND IN THREE LEAGUES

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Clubs	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Binghamton	15	3	.833
Rochester	13	10	.565
Toronto	12	9	.571
Newark	11	10	.524
Buffalo	10	14	.417
Syracuse	8	12	.400
Jersey City	6	12	.333

Thursday Scores.

Buffalo	6	Toronto	1-3
Binghamton	11-1	Baltimore	4-4
Rochester	4-4	Syracuse	2-0
Newark	at Jersey City—Rain.

Friday Scores.

Newark	at Jersey City	5-0
Baltimore	at Binghamton	5-0
Rochester	at Syracuse	5-0

American League.

Clubs	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
New York	25	14	.641
Chicago	22	11	.676
Cleveland	21	18	.538
St. Louis	17	18	.486
Philadelphia	16	18	.476
Washington	16	23	.410
Pittsburgh	14	21	.400
Detroit	13	19	.367

Thursday Scores.

Boston	0-0	Washington	1-4
Chicago	0-1	Chicago	4-3
Detroit	2	St. Louis	1-1
New York	2	Philadelphia	1-1

Washington at Boston.