WHEN WOMEN WAGE WAR.

One Hit in Eye With Book and Lays Charge of Assault.

Mrs. Willie, 20 Clifford-street, had her neighbor, Mrs. Daniels, in court yesterday afternoon before Daniel Lamb, J.P., on a charge of assault.

The plaintiff said Mrs. Daniels called her a wicked cat, and followed her to her home. The defendant was fined $10 without costs.

The next case was somewhat similar, but this time it was S. Swartz, a merchant on York-street, charging B. Greenberg, a rival merchant, with assault. Swartz said Greenberg had knocked him down and hit him, injuring him so that a doctor had to attend him. Both men were bound over to the next session.

A. English was charged with running an automobile on Queen-street without a light. The case was remanded to the next session.

Joseph Lalonde was fined $1 for hitting a horse.

JOHN H. KERR,
Secretary,
Hamilton, Ont., June 6th, 1906.ALLEN DIED FROM POISON BUT MURDER NOT PROVED*Proceedings Against Man and Woman, Held in Custody, Will Now Be Dropped.

Brookville, June 8.—(Special).—"That the said Henry Allen came to his death at Lansdowne, Dec. 18, 1905, thru poison, but whether later as food or administered by parties with malice aforethought, we are unable to determine, but from evidence presented to us this far believing it points more strongly to the latter."

The above verdict was rendered by the coroner's jury empaneled at Lansdowne to hear the evidence relating to the death of Allen, who was a farmer in that locality.

The verdict was reached after a session of the court, occupying 17 hours, 5 months ago, when the inquest was first opened and adjourned to get an analysis of the contents of Allen's stomach. Traces of arsenic were found.

Prof. Ellis thought that as the defendant had been in the house at the time of the death, he could not say how the arsenic had been used. The charges against Mrs. Allen and O'Connor, which still rest in the justice of the peace's court will now be dropped on the advice of the crown attorney unless something new turns up which is not in sight at present.

Mrs. Allen has the sympathy of the community, and the verdict of the coroner's jury appears to be generally well received.

WATCH OUR DAILY CHANGE OF STREET CAR CARDS'THE JUNGLE'*The Book Everyone is Talking About*The Cause of the Chicago Packers' Investigation

The President of the United States has begun another investigation, started, they say, through this book, "The Jungle," written by Upton Sinclair.

Before giving it to the public, the American publishers sent an able lawyer to Chicago to investigate "Packing-town" conditions so as to be sure that they could in fairness publish the book. His report amply verified the truth of the story.
