is tersely put by William H. Trues dale, president of the Delaware, Lack awanna and Western Railway. He List Passed on By the Senate of "The coal operators will not pubmit to arbitration or interference of any kind." A Chicago paper, comnenting on this, says: "That is intended to pass as the impressive ultimatum of a man who is standing on his rights, but it is evidence only of the insolence of the power of monopoly, and it becomes the less impressive the more attentively Mr. Truesdale's position is considered. The power which he is pleased to exercise is derived from an illegal combination of the interests which he represents. This combination which rests upon an illegal foundation pursues illegal methods systematically and persistently. Its conduct of its business is a mixture of force and fraud. Thus, after crushing out competition, it manipulates railroad rates in such a way as to perpetrate extortion at the expense of the insolence of the power of monopoly, trate extortion at the expense of the entire public.

The rights of others it has no consideration whatever, and the public is embraced with its employes in Mr. Truesdale's declaration. 'No interference of any kind' will be tolerated by the Great Mogul, who is as oblivious of his obligations as an employer. But of his obligations as an employer, and the question of organization. feel like a new woman."

"My wife has used three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine, and I never saw such results," writes A. B. Haynes, Esq., of Aurora, Lawrence Co., Mo., "It was wonderful in its work. We had used lots of medicine, also had one of the best physicians in Aurora, but my wife got no better; we heard one pitiful groan after another, day and night. A friend handed me a copy of Dr. Pierce's book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, and after reading the testimonials of Dr. Pierce's successful treatment, and seeing that the cases described were similar to my wife's, I bought for her a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before she had taken all of the medicine she was up and helping to do the work. She has taken three bottles and is now about well. Has better health than she has had for years."
