15 minutes before the start the preparatory signal will be blown—J.

Prepare to get under way.

Five minutes before the start the signal J will be hoisted and in its place will be hoisted M—Get under way, and a gun fired.

At the time of start signal M will be hoisted down and a gun fired.

8—The squadron will get under way promptly on the signal.

Captains of yachts are reminded that orders from the flagship are to be executed on the hauling down of the signal.

The flagship "Trex" will signal to the squadron the anchorage for the first night.

Captains of yachts will meet daily at the call of the vice-commodore to consider the program for the day.

The destination has been fixed at Robertson's Point, Grand Lake.

The chairman, Rev. G. M. Campbell, will conduct the annual service at Crystal Beach (Day's Landing) on Sunday, July 25.

The cruise will disband at the conclusion of the service.

CALLS ON GIRLS OF ST. JOHN TO DO THEIR PART

Follow English Example and Make Young Men Enlist

SPEAKS ALSO TO EMPLOYERS

Sydney Hanshaw of the 26th Battalion Writes Strong Recruiting Letter After Arrival in Camp in England

An appeal for Canadians to join the colors is contained in a letter written by Sydney Hanshaw of the 26th Battalion and received by a friend here. He tells of a pleasant voyage aboard the "Caledonia" and of a hearty reception on the arrival of the battalion at Plymouth.

"I am only four miles and a half from my home town" he writes. "My people don't know I am here yet so I'll give them a surprise when I get my leave. We have our camp at the foot of the South Downs and there are a large gathering of troops here, the camp covering an area of more than 20 square miles. All branches of the service are represented. A nasty story concerning the 26th has been circulated that we had mutinied at St. John and shot two of our officers. Such rumors create a bad impression, and we are trying to show the people how untrue these reports are.

"The weather is fine here, plenty of sunshine. I heard a skylark yesterday for the first time in three years and a half. We are living in huts, and not in tents as we expected to be. Troops leave here every day for the front, and wounded men are sent back to the rear. There are not many young men around these parts without the uniform, except those medically unfit, and they are for the most part engaged in the manufacture of munitions. The girls here don't look at the civilians, but they certainly do favor the boys in the uniforms of soldiers or sailors. In fact they won't speak with any young fellow who is for service who hasn't joined. I don't blame them, if he is afraid to fight for his country, and home, but the brave deserve the fair.

"If St. John girls were to follow their example it would be much to their credit. If a girl has a fellow who is able she should force him to prove himself and enlist. If she thought him worthy of her she would in this way be doing her duty. If this were done we would save the men who are wanted to save the empire. It is men who are wanted and men we must have. The public mind must not be influenced with yarns to the contrary.

"People of Canada do not realize the war being so far removed from their doors, but if the war were in Canada, Canada has done well but there is still much to be done. Canada and Canadians are the ones to do it. In the interest of recruiting, I would ask all Canadians if there is something they could do, which they have not yet done? There is something that business men could do, and that is discharge all young men fit for service, and replace them with girls who are quite able to do the work behind the counter. The men would not be kept employed unless they are pronounced medically unfit by an army physician. This concerns not only business houses but factories, and it would be in the general interests of all if such a scheme were adopted.

TOWN PLANNING IS TAKEN UP

Mr. Adams Will Be Here Next Month—More Street Railway Matters

Town planning occupied the attention of the city commissioners at their noon committee meeting today. Mayor Frink announced that Thomas Adams, a noted town planning expert, will be in St. John again about the middle of August and he wanted to have the local plans ready for discussion before his arrival.

The city engineer was summoned before the meeting and explained that the surveys and plans for the revised layout of the city and surroundings is well under way and could be completed by next month. His Worship explained that it would be well to have the plans on view for some time before Mr. Adams' arrival so that those interested might have an opportunity to offer suggestions or criticisms.

Mr. Murdoch promised to have the plans by August 1.

Commissioner Potts said that retaining walls in Murray and Moore streets were much in need of repairs and asked what could be done.

The mayor said that Murray street was not city property, but belongs to the Hazen estate, but Commissioner Potts said that the retaining wall was for the support of Main street.

The matter was allowed to stand until reports could be received from the engineer.

The commissioner of public works then spoke of the dangerous condition of some of the street car rails. He said he had written to the company and they had replied that rails were being secured for repairs. This, he said, was the same answer the company had given him about Douglas avenue last fall and they had taken no action since.

The commissioner said that one rail at the corner of Carmarthen and Princess street where he was making street repairs, was particularly bad. He had informed the company that unless the rail was replaced by tomorrow he would take action to prevent further traffic over that section.

Commissioner Potts then spoke of criticism of the council contained in anonymous letters to a local paper. He welcomed intelligent criticism, but he could not understand why any newspaper should give space to cheap abuse from a man who is ashamed to sign his own name to his letters.

Com. Russell—"Don't you know who writes those letters?"

Com. Wigmore—"It is easy to guess who writes some of them."

The meeting adjourned at one o'clock.

IN WOODSTOCK IN SEARCH OF A MURDER WITNESS

Maine Officials Seek Man Named Elliott, Said to Have Seen John Timmony Killed

Woodstock, N. B., July 16.—Sheriff Frost of Arnscook county, Me., and two officers, are here today looking for a young man named Elliott who, it is said, was an eye-witness of the murder of John Timmony in Easton, near the boundary line, on October 27 last. Henry Bolster is under arrest, charged with the crime.

Timmony worked for Bolster, and had earned $77. The authorities think the man was killed to avoid payment of the debt. On the day of the murder, Elliott was passing near the spot and said he saw Bolster get out of the wagon and, going behind, strike Timmony over the head, then drag his victim into the woods, where he was found fifteen days later.

Elliott told the story a few nights after. Sheriff Frost had the impression that Elliott enlisted here for overseas service, but his name does not appear among the recruits. As he was an unwilling witness of the crime, the officers are anxious only to get his evidence before the court in November.

He has nothing to fear, and they feel he should come forward and tell his story. Sheriff Frost, if unsuccessful in his efforts to find Elliott, will advise the district attorney of Maine to offer a reward for information that will lead to his location.

VISITORS AT PALACE

Rev. Father Casey, S. J., of Boston, is in the city, a guest at the Bishop's Palace, Waterloo street. He will conduct the diocesan retreat next week at St. Joseph's. Rev. Father Connor of New Hampshire is also a visitor at the palace. Rev. Father Cox, S. J., of Montreal, is here on his way to Newfoundland.

FOR THE BELGIANS

Mayor Frink has received for the Belgian relief fund from Perry's Pop-Point, per Rev. John C. Mortimer, Hampton, contributions of $1.50 and $3.75.
