FASHIONABLE NEW JACKET.

Charming model for ladies' jacket, having collar in pointed or rounded outline and three-quarter length raglan sleeves. The lower front edge of the jacket may be made straight or rounded.

There is no use denying the vogue of the short jacket, for it is one of the most successful models of spring and summer. With the fashionable skirts trimmed with flounces and tunics and other draperies, the hip-length jacket is sure to continue in favor because it is the best possible model to accompany the smartest skirts.

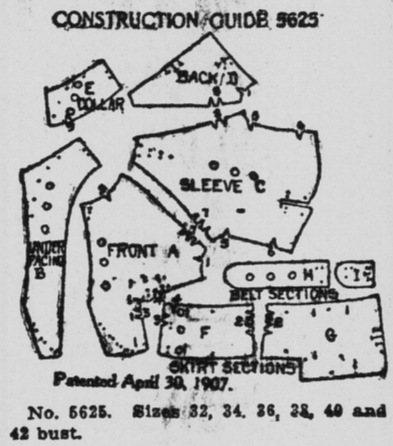

The design shown here looks well in any of the latest materials—gabardine, geline, moire, tafeta, satin and cloth. It has the fashionable English raglan effect at the shoulder, and there is a broad box-pleat at the back, formed from the fullness which develops at the waist-line and below. In front there are suggestions of pleats on either side, and the collar is of contrasting material.

For its development 2 1/2 yards of 44-inch or 1 1/2 yards of 54-inch material are needed, with 3/4 yard contrasting material 2 1/2 inches wide for the collar. One will have to use careful judgment in cutting out the coat. The skirt section marked "G" is placed on a lengthwise fold of the material, as is also the back (D). The underfacing and second section of the skirt (F) are arranged on a lengthwise thread. This is true, too, of the sleeve, front and collar. The belt is placed on a cross-wise fold of the goods. There are two outlines for the collar from which to make a selection. For the rounded effect, cut off collar, front and underfacing on single small "oo" perforations. For lower front edge of front in rounded outline, cut off lower edges of front and underfacing on double "oo" perforations. If back is desired in shorter length, cut off lower part of back skirt section on crosswise of small "oo" perforations.

To Make.—Pleat lower edges of front and back, placing "oo" on corresponding small "oo" perforations. Close under-arm seam as notched. Center-front indicated by large "O" perforations. Join the two skirt sections as notched. Pleat, creasing on slot perforations, bring folded edges to corresponding small "oo" perforations and press. Sew to front and back as notched. Pleat, creasing front on slot perforations, bring folded edge to double "oo" perforations; stitch in position above skirt section and press. Tack belt sections together, corresponding perforations even, in advance position, center-back even, center of belt over joining of skirt section.

Take up dart in sleeve as perforated. Pleat lower part, leaving front slanted edge on back edge, corresponding perforations even, and tack. Close seam as notched, sew to front and back as notched. Close back seam of collar and underfacing (indicated by double "oo" perforations), sew collar to neck edge as notched. Adjust underfacing small "oo" perforations and press. Sew to front and back as notched. Pleat, creasing front on slot perforations, bring folded edge to double "oo" perforations; stitch in position above skirt section and press. Tack belt sections together, corresponding perforations even, in advance position, center-back even, center of belt over joining of skirt section.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercurized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercurized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicote in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effective.

Mrs. Belle Van Dorn Harbert of Denver, president of the International Congress of Farm Women, who has been decorated with the cross of the Order of Agriculture of Belgium, is the first woman to be so honored.

Sir Charles Waldstein thinks it possible that fashion in women's dress may yet lead to the wearing of bells and castanets.

FOR PURE MILK

After a conference between a committee from the Board of Health and the finance committee of the Municipal Council yesterday afternoon the latter agreed to grant $500 for the purpose of employing an inspector to look after the source of milk supply and enforce sanitary conditions.

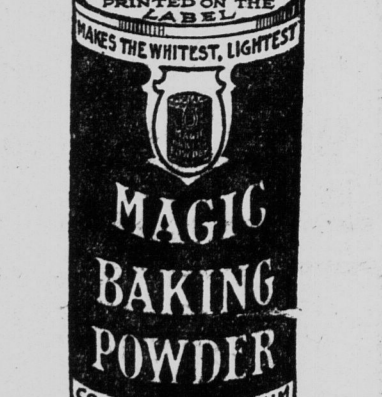

Two inspectors may be appointed; they would be directly under the control of the board and give their whole time to the board. They would visit the dairies without notice, at least four times a year and carry on a daily inspection of the distributing milk centres with frequent analysis to prevent infection. One of the results hoped for is a reduction of the infant mortality.

It is probable that the first inspector appointed will be a qualified veterinarian. The appointment will be made as soon as the right man is found.

Murderer Has Confessed.

Frank Haynes, Sydney, C. B., who is sentenced to die tomorrow morning for the murder of Thos. Atkinson, has confessed a confession, in which he implicates the wife of the dead man and John Donalds. The woman, he says, is an accessory to the murder, having in-
