CHATHAM. - - - FEBRUARY 27, 1879. The "News" and the Inspector of Fisheries.

The St. John News always appears eager Scrofulous Humor. we do not remember when it showed its underbred aptness for misstatement in a greater degree than in one of its issues of last week. Its subject and inspiration Cancer, Cancerous Humor. Brunswick, a person who we are obliged The marvellous effect of Vegerine in Cases of Cancer and Cancerous Humor challenges the most refound attention of the medical faculty, many of them are prescribing Vegering to their patients o recognise occasionally in these columns, simply because he is an official of the Government, and, as such, a source of great not for this fact we are quite sure our readers would never hear of him through the ADVANCE.

Mercurial Diseases. The News starts with a statement of fact—viz., our expression of the belief that the Inspector induced some St. John papers to copy editorials written by him-Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, &c., will certainly yield to the great alterative effects of Vegetine.

That "Venning is an authority on Fish-Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores

Are caused by an impure state of the blood. Cleanse the Blood thoroughly with Vegetine, and these complaints will disappear. Open Letters to Sir A. J. Smith."
That "all this time, if the ADVANCE is to be believed, Venning was continually travelling to various parts of the Province, attending to the correspondence and details of his office taking charge of elections, directing cancus meetings of the Conservative party," etc.

Attentive readers of the ADVANCE know, For this complaint the only substantial benefit can be obtained through the blood. Vegetine is the great blood purifier.

of course, that the whole of the above is VEGETINE does not act as a cathartic to debiliate ne bowels, but cleanses all the organs, enabling ach to perform the functions idevolving upon untrue, in every particular, and that the News cannot quote a single line or sentence writings, anywhere, to prove what it says. We never said, nor did we ever VEGETINE has restored thousands to health who have been long and painful sufferers. hear or read of any other paper or person saying, or hearing, that the Inspector was an authority on fishways .- We have never said a word about it, heretofore, but now mention the fact that Mr. Vennings ignorance of fishways is well known and his mistakes in connection with that part of his administration before he was "relieved" of the Inspectorship of Nova Scotia have led practical anglers and sportin that Province-" Venning fishways." two instances in which it cost the Depart-In this Complaint the good effects of the Vege-TINE are realized immediately after commencing to take it; as debility denotes deficiency of the blood, and Vegetine acts directly upon the blood. ment pretty large sums of money for some of Mr. Venning's "fishway" experiments.

It is, therefore, absurd for the News to charge the ADVANCE with asserting that Venning is an authority on fishways." It would, ordinarily, be sufficient for us H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass. o simply dony that we ever said, "Ven-Vegetine is Sold by all Druggists. ning writes all the hundreds of articles on the fisheries of Nova Scotia," etc., as the WMAN By reading and practicing News falsly asserts, but we may remark that the history of Mr. Venning's official career in Nova Scotia, is one which justifies those with whose interests he had to deal in securing his dismissal from that between the ADVANCE and the Inspector Province. The Nova Scotia papers would of Fisheries, unfortunately, lost sight of not, we believe, venture to publish articles written by him, for they could not benefit either the papers or the fisheries. In friends of both candidates, in this County | kind say what they may. at least, during the late election, that in the event of success, Inspector Venning of any caucus meeting that received him caucus meeting, or any other meeting and therefore, could not have made the al to us by the "News."

The purpose of the "News" article quite apparent. The Inspector is about to make his annual trip to Ottawa and 1 ... naturally, imagines that some of his doings may be the subject of special enquiry by his superiors. He will be enabled to point to the statements we have referred to in the "News" as evidence of what a terrible fellow he is. He imagines, probably, that when he will state to those who may question him that the "News" is opposed to his political views, they will be deluded into the belief that he was quite innocent last week of any knowledge of what that paper was going to say about him. He imagines that by this little bit of finesse he will lead his superiors to misrepresent the Advance and its think the Advance has held him up as a ditor and while it has often indulged in very industrious person, a great enemy of placing both unfairly before the public, Sir A. J. Smith, a great organiser of political caucuses and one who did great ser vice in the Conservative cause in the late elections. The little scheme appears to were the Inspector of Fisheries for New of the Inspector to pass himself off for what he is not. It may, however, mislead a few of the simple-minded, but will be perfectly transparent to the very perannoyance to the local public. Were it sons for whom it was specially written. The day is, we hope, past when officials, made of such poor stuff as renders resort sary in their behalf, can impose upon any Department of the Government.

The Inspector's Ottawa friends will not forget that it was the News which publish. self for a local print, and it proceeds to ed the correspondence signed "Roving state the following as assertions of this | Special " and which, as we stated at the time, was written by the Inspector. And it will be remembered that the News went That "Venning is an authority on Fishways"

That "Venning writes all the hundreds of articles on the fisheries of Nova Scotia that have teemed from the press of that the teamed from the press of that Province during the last tour years."

That "Venning is retained as fishery editor of the Avex, the Telegraph the Moncton Times and that he was the sole editor of the Ave Dominion"

That "Venning was the writer of the Open Letters to Sir A. J. Smith."

That "all this time, if the Advance is reasons for its questionable course in this respect, but we are quite sure that many persons can understand how dangerous it would be for the editor of a paper, if he had ever formed one of a "couple" with such a character as the Inspector and then dared to refuse to shield the latter when he was threatened with exposure in official matters. When the News makes from this paper, or from any of its editor's spiteful mention, also, of "D. G. Smith" and states that "Smith has been gnawing at this file", etc., even outsiders might be led to enquire why the editor of the News should thus depart from journalistic custom and become so personal when referring to the editor of the ADVANCE. We can only attribute it to the fact that Mr. Smith has never been able to accord to a certain St. John editor-politician, who delights in seeing a disintegrated alphabet affixed to his name, the position to which he seems to aspire in our public affairs. ing men to christen several leaky dams to do what seems to be necessary in order and other impassible obstructions on rivers to secure even decent treatment at that If space permitted we could cite at least " D. G. Smith " or its misrepresentation of this paper. We are not even surprised at the whitewash with which it bedaubs the guileless Inspector and the recommendation it gives him on account of his spotless innocency and "retiring manners", for we have no doubt that " Venning would do the same thing for Mr. Willis i occasion required.
