Large Crowds Watched in Respectful Silence Yesterday While All That Was Mortal of Former Redemptorist Fathers Was Conveyed to Last Resting Place--Names of the Pall Bearers.

The solemn ceremony of removing the bodies of the five Redemptorist priests and two brothers from old St. Peter's burying ground to their final resting place in the rear of St. Peter's church took place yesterday afternoon. The streets were thronged with spectators who watched the procession with respectful silence. It was an imposing sight which will long be remembered.

At three o'clock the married and single men of the parish, together with the boys of the junior Holy Family, assembled in St. Peter's Hall, Elm street. Each wore a band of black mourning ribbon on the sleeve. After they had formed up into line the funeral cortege started.

Led by the City Cornet band playing the "Dead March in Saul," the solemn procession proceeded down Elm street, along Main and up Douglass street to St. Peter's church.

Rev. P. Leonard, C. SS. R. Rev. M. Maloney, C. SS. R., Rev. J. Barry, C. SS. R. Rev. A. Wynn, C. SS. R., Rev. F. Holland, C. SS. R., Rev. A. J. Duke, C. SS. R., officiated.

The order of the procession was as follows:—

City Cornet Band.
Boys of Junior Holy Family.
Single men, Holy Family.
Married Men, Holy Family.
Cross bearers and Acolytes.
Altar boys.
Clergy.
Two crepe covered carriages containing the bodies.
Pal bearers.

The marshals of the procession were:—Married men's Holy Family: Mr. Leo Conlogue, Mr. Isaac Hurley, Mr. J. Murphy.

Single Men's Holy Family: Mr. Joseph Gallagher, Mr. Alfred Mahoney; Mr. F. DeGrasse, Mr. Edred Dever; James J. Conlogue, Mr. J. J. Conlogue.

ston divided rank and formed into three lines, allowing the carriages containing the bodies to pass through. All then knelt and offered up prayer for the repose of the departed and deceased clergy. The bodies were then taken into the church where they will remain until this morning, when for a Requiem High Mass and burial here will be placed in the large vault which has been prepared for them in the rear of the church.

An Imposing Spectacle.

When the cortege turned into Main street the street was thronged on both sides with persons who were eager to see the unusual procession. The altar boys in their white surplices and cassocks of black, red and blue, carrying the robes made an imposing spectacle, and the sight will long remain imprinted in the minds of the thousands who witnessed it. On the way to the church containing the bodies walked three altar boys carrying lighted candles.

The clergymen who took part in the procession were Rev. J. Schauer, C. SS. R., Rev. H. Urban, C. SS. R., Mr. M. D. Sweeney.

Pall bearers were appointed from each body as follows:—Dr. E. J. McMurphy, Dr. R. L. Gahery, Mr. J. M. Doherty, Mr. J. J. O'Connell, Mr. J. J. Coll, Mr. Jas. Morgan, Mr. D. Conlogue, Mr. T. McGowan, Mr. John Gillis, Mr. Jas. Kennedy, Mr. Thos. Holden, Mr. Thos. O'Connell, Mr. J. Howard, Mr. J. Walsh, Mr. Jas. P. Quinn, Mr. Jos. Quinn.

500 Men Participated.

About five hundred men participated in the ceremony. Much credit is due the rector, Rev. A. J. Duke, who spared neither time nor energy to make the jubilee celebration a success. The general arrangements were in charge of Mr. D. J. O'Neill.

From nine o'clock last evening until 6 o'clock this morning, men of the Holy Family will hold holy vigils for the departed bodies. Ten men will watch each hour.

At 6 o'clock this morning, the first mass will be said, and there will be a mass every hour until 9 o'clock. At the last mass will be celebrated to be followed by the interment.

THAW AWAITS IN JAIL THE WORD OF JUSTICE MILLS

Proceedings in Lunacy Case Concluded Saturday with Arguments of Counsel -- District Attorney's Plea a Temperate One -- Although He Scores Evelyn Thaw Heavily and Mercilessly Arraigns Alienist -- Thaw Impassive Throughout Proceedings -- Decision Thursday.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 7.—In a cell at the White Plains jail, Harry K. Thaw awaits the decision that will hold him sane or declare him a lunatic. He is in the Supreme Court of his habeas corpus proceedings against the state of New York ended this afternoon when his attorney, Charles Morschauer, summed up his case. Mr. Morschauer, summed up the case and Mr. Morschauer this morning. Justice Isaac N. Mills says that he will endeavor to hand down his decision on Thursday morning next.

George Cooper, Thaw's principal one's mother, with her daughter, Alice, the former Countess of Yarmouth, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Thaw, will remain here until Mrs. Thaw's fate is settled. Their movements after that will be governed largely by Justice Mills' decision.

Thaw's mother and his brother and sister have not missed a day in court since he became a fugitive. And Mrs. Thaw's statements show that if this case goes against her son, she will lose no time in trying to free him by other means. Though habeas corpus actions have been one by one closed against Thaw indefinitely, it is likely that if Justice Mills rules against him he will hang his hopes next upon the State Court of Appeals.

Appeal Pending.

The funeral took place yesterday

An appeal to the jury, brought from a decision of the court, was made by Justice Mills' refusal to let the question of Thaw's sanity before a jury is now pending.

The summing up of District Attorney Jerome and Mr. Morcau, who had been free from the pollard duties of oratory that characterized the two homicide trials.

The district attorney was particularly temperate. Mrs. Mary C. Thaw's personal character was not mentioned, or Thaw himself.

Mr. Jerome spoke pitifully as "that poor boy." Only two witnesses, among several hundred that testified to Thaw's trial and hearings, were placed on the stand for rebuttal. These were Evelyn Thaw and Dr.

The jury retired at 2:30 o'clock the night of Saturday, June 11, 1904. Dwyer, daughter of the late Helen and Katherine Dwyer, from the residence of her uncle, Mr. John McClinton, in Gloucester, Mass., was read by Rev. Father Holland at the John Baptist Church. The preachers were Messrs. J. Shortis, McAddy, George, Joseph, John and Gregory McDiarmid.

Mrs. Mary Campbell.

The wife of Mrs. Mary Campbell bell took place on Saturday morning from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John W. Hamilton, 256 Water street. The body was taken to the Cathedral, where Requiem Mass was said at 10 o'clock.

By Rev. D. S. O'Keefe, and M. O'Brien.

Britton D. Evans, Thaw's chief ally.
Without raising his voice, but in the tongues, he said that he was displeased to find that in his belief Thaw's pretty wife had "deliberately and wilfully falsified." His attack on Dr.
Evans after their skirmish yesterday was not unexpected.

Morchauer reviewed the evidence more in detail. One of his arguments was a personal one that had not appeared at the hearing.

"I have been Thaw's attorney for a year," he said, "and I have seen him have had a great many defeats. If he had been as suspicious as has been stated; if he had any delusions regarding combinations against him,
would not he have said so?"

The Rev. Mr. O'Brien, intermitten as deacon and sub-deacon respect-ly. The interment was made in the old Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. James McDade.

The funeral of Mrs. McDade took place on Saturday afternoon from her late residence, 11 North st.
The pall bearers were Messrs. J.
Coll, John Coll, James Howard, M.
Mooney, James McDonald, and P.
Duffy. The Rev. Mr. O'Brien, pastor of St. Patrick's church, officiated.
Rev. M. O'Brien, and interment m-

Evlyn Thaw came in for condemnation from both attorneys. Mr. Morchauser said that the reluctance she expressed in making a statement, after an alleged threat to shoot her, was all assumed. He said that on the night before she testified she had consulted with her attorney, Mr. Austin Jerome's office and had formed a combination with the alienist against her.

"Templars" Wee! opened yesterday with a parade in which the Temple of Honor societies and temples of the various parts, reaching in procession from the Temple of Hope Hall in the North End to Centenary Church the members listened to an inspiring address by Rev. Dr. C. S. Woodruff of Flemington, N. J., in which he dwelt upon the duty of the Templar to dwell eloquently on the duties of the order.

About 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the various branches formed up in line at the Alexandria hall, North End, and headed by the St. Marys Band, marched to Centenary Church. The different sections marched abreast and made a fine appearance. The members of the temple came next, followed by the Grand and Supreme Council, officers and the visiting temples.

The order of the parade was as follows:—

and to God. Most of us know better than we do. The man who is true to God and his brother man is true to himself.

Love a Second Corner Stone.

The second corner stone is love. A form of love that is the basis of the rest of the earth—that is forgetful of self. The greatest love is to give one's life for another.

The third corner stone is purity. Only the pure in heart see God. The men of our order should be pure in life, and pure in relation with their fellows.

The fourth corner stone is duty. To know our duty; to be wide-reaching in our love and faithful unto death, if we so call, God will give us the Crown of Life.

It is our temple that no vulgar or trifling can has, ever seen. For the

The parade was held at the Victoria Temple of Honor, Grand and Supreme Councils in barouches. Visitors in barouches. The parade was headed by Mr. Jas Sullivan. The line of march was along Main street, King street, German street, Orange street to the church.

At Century Church.

Mr. Wm. C. Whittaker, chief of the temple, presided at the service, which was conducted by Rev. Wm. R. Robinson of the Ludlow Street Baptist church. The service was a most interesting one. The work we depend on the women as well as the men. Our order is not as large as many others, but we are forming in the work of temperance reform. It seeks to save and rescue humanity.

The chief work, however, of the order is to mould the child so that he will grow up into a man. The greatest work in connection with the young has been done in this Province. It will please you in eternity to realize that the children of the world are young. In days to come these boys will prove true to the lesson you have at the church, Rev. David Lang, of St. Louis, and Rev. J. A. Granger, of St. David's church and Rev. C. S. Woodruff, most worthily rendered of the order. Mr. Frank McClesley performed two sacred solos most acceptably.

After the service was delayed, Rev. Dr. Woodruff did not preach the sermon he had prepared, but in its stead gave a helpful and inspiring address on the aims and objects of the Temple of Honor and Penitence.

After the address the speaker, is reported to have said "I work for God and need no other compensation." The wicked are more active than the children of light. We divide and weaken ourselves. We will now concentrate and multiply and fill forth into the great center of wickedness and sends forth fangs which lay hold of the best given them. The seeds of sin are sown in their hearts and bring forth good fruit.

The Temple of Honor gives to man such truth as shall make him a more desirable candidate as he approaches the threshold of the church. It works with the church, and not against it.

Banishing the Liquor Traffic.

We have begun to vote out the accursed liquor traffic, thank God. Pray that soon in all the provinces there shall be no more sale.

The boy of 15 years will in six years have the ballot. The Temple of Honor boys will know how to use it.

We want you, boys, to make the most of your youth. Live wisely. Do not let the devil God wants the best in you. So live that your word can be believed. Always do your best.

The great trouble in this age of intemperance, says the speaker, is that it makes the criminal and the pauper; it interferes with the social and economic conditions of the race. The drunkard is the great competitor in the labor market. He stands in the market as the underbriber of labor. The victim of drink is barred to eternal life. No drunkard shall enter the gates of the Kingdom. So the water of a million men go to a drunkard's grave every year they go to a drunkard's grave.

Templars were present for the purpose of meeting Rev. Dr. Woodruff, the worthy Chief Templar, of the Templar Order.

Rev. Dr. Woodruff gave an interesting address on matters connected with the work of the order.

He was followed by Mr. J. B. Eagle, P. M. W. V., S. B. Logan, F. G. V. W. T.; Mr. Wm. Doltide, of New Britain Conn.; Mr. Saunders, of Mass., and Dr. W. F. Roberts, P. M. W. V.

All spoke in a happy vein, condemning the liquor traffic, and giving words of encouragement to the young men to which they should pursue in life. The meeting came to an end about 10 o'clock.
