COTTON WORKERS FAIL TO AGREE

Manchester, Eng., April 10.—The conference of the employers and employees of the cotton industry here today failed to reach an agreement on the question of the number of working hours per week. The employers offered a forty-nine and one-half hour week, while the workers want 48 hours. The negotiations will be continued at another conference next Wednesday.

When the outer eye grows dim, turns the inner eye to him, Who makes darkness light, Bright visions you may see, Live in his radiant company, And in larger liberty, Than the men of sight. —John Oxenham.

The world is so full of a number of things I'm sure we should all be happy as kings.—R. L. S.

The method of the enterprising is sketch out a map of possibilities, then to treat them as probabilities.—Love.

Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.—Matt. 26:41.

His virtue, and not birth, that makes us noble; great actions speak great minds, and such should govern. —Fletcher.

To be happy is not the purpose of our being, but to deserve happiness.—Richie.

To have no reason for a thing is one good reason why the thing should not be done.
